AMERICA TO SHUN TIES

No Entangling Pact Wanted

Treaty Such as Four-Power Pacific Concord Dodged as Consultative Model

Naval Problem Hangs on French Security Issue; Experts Keep Busy

LONDON, March 28. (AP) — The American delegates have definitely rejected a type of treaty such as the four-power Pacific pact of 1921 as a basis for a consultative agreement to be framed at the London conference.

It was learned on the highest authority in the American delegation today that the Americans are not prepared to make commitments under Article 19 of the Pacific Treaty, if approved in Europe, would cause the United States to participate in discussions over virtually every controversy in Europe whether the United States was interested in them or not.

Under Article II of the 1921 treaty, to which the Americans would object in a consultative pact applied to Europe, providing that if the controversy parties' rights are threatened by any other power those powers before the treaty shall consult together to arrive at an understanding.

UNITED IN PACIFIC

This is emphasized by the same authority that the Americans have interests on the Pacific which justify the signature of such a treaty. However, it is considered that such a pact would be too entangling for a pact to which the United States would subscribe as far as Europe is concerned.

Thus far there has been no approach to the United States regarding a consultative agreement, and there will be no move by the American delegation until two things are cleared which would be considered to justify the American discussing with the other delegations a consultative pact with a view to reaching such an agreement.

These two steps, which must be taken, are (1) satisfaction of France's demand for security and, by virtue of this satisfaction a relaxation by France in her tonnage demands to such a point as to make a three-power naval agreement possible.

NO CONCESSIONS MADE

It is known that the Americans have not made any suggestion to the other power either regarding a consultative pact or even informal discussion of the security problem. The only discussions which have taken place on this phase were between Secretary Stimson, Premier Tardieu, Foreign Minister Briand and Ambassador Morrow before Premier Tardieu's departure for the south some weeks ago. These discussions were inconclusive. In fact, the delegation at that time

IRISH CHIEF STEPS OUT

Cosgrave Resigns After Defeat

Two-Vote Rebuff Given to Government on Pension Bill Brings Action

Re-election Believed Likely; De Valera and Labor Head Both Get Into Race

DUBLIN (Irish Free State) March 28. (AP)—William T. Cosgrave, President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State and head of the oldest ministry in post-war Europe, announced the resignation of his government today as a result of its defeat by two votes on an opposition pensions bill in the Dail Eireann last night. The Dail then adjourned until next week.

The prevailing opinion in political circles tonight is that he almost certainly will be re-elected President of the Council when the Dail reassembles Wednesday.

Under the novel, and still experimental, ministerial system of the Free State, the way is open for his re-election. Resignation of a government does not necessarily result in a general election, and since Mr. Cosgrave's voting strength in the Dail was not really impaired by his defeat yesterday there will be no call to the country.

THREE CANDIDATES

The chief opposition party, the Fianna Fail, which has fifty-seven members in the Dail, has sent for its leader, Eamonn De Valera, now in the United States. Sean T. O'Kelly, leader of the Fianna in De Valera's absence, who called on Mr. Cosgrave to resign after the defeat yesterday, announced the Republicans will nominate De Valera for the Presidency of the Council.

The appearance of a third candidate tonight, in the person of T. J. O'Connell, Parliamentary leader of the Irish Labor party, decidedly decreased Mr. De Valera's chances of being elected. The Fianna Fail, outnumbered by the followers of Mr. Cosgrave, must have the help of the Labor votes.

According to the Free State constitution, the President of the Executive Council, which is responsible to the Dail and usually consists of six or seven ministers, is selected by the Dail. Candidates are nominated in the Dail and the voting goes on until some one obtains a majority.

DECIDED ADVANTAGE

The present composition of parties gives a decided advantage to the Cuman-Na-Gaedheal, or League of the Gael, which is Mr. Cosgrave's party. It numbers sixty-three members, against fifty-seven for the Fianna Fail. The Labor party, which is moderate in policy and strictly constitutional in methods, has thirteen.

To keep the balance of power hitherto, Mr. Cosgrave counted on the votes of eleven independents,

Pathfinding Party Finds Paper Delivery Service Days Ahead of Mails

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

LOS MOCHIS (Sin., Mex.) March 28. (Exclusive)—Way down here in Sinaloa—a year's journey from California in the days of the Spanish conquistadores—we get the Thursday morning Times early Thursday evening. It sets a new record in communication between Mexico and the United States. For lack of a joint postal treaty, the regular mail is slow. A letter mailed here on Thursday by regular mail will be delivered in Los Angeles the following Tuesday or Wednesday. To get the morning paper the same day takes away the breath of the people in this part of Mexico.

Los Mochis has a unique record. Off the main line of the railroad, it has become one of the great industrial centers of Mexico. It is a sugar-cane and tomato and early-vegetable center. Arrangements are being made for some of the large California packing companies to raise their seeds in this, the Fuerte, valley.

When this new highway being scouted by the expedition of the Automobile Club of Southern California is completed, this will become an important stopping place.

CLEMENCY PLEA MADE

BERLIN, March 28. (AP)—Germania, organ of the Centrist party, today made an editorial plea urging clemency for Fred W. Edel, former German citizen, now facing the electric chair in New York for the murder of Mrs. Emma Harrington.

Blaze Destroys 700 Houses in Japanese Town

TOKIO, March 28. (AP)—Seven hundred houses in the fishing village of Komatsu were destroyed by fire today, leaving one dead, an injured list that may grow to 100, and 3500 homeless. The blaze also damaged 150 other dwellings. Damage was variously estimated at from $500,000 to $2,000,000.

Among buildings destroyed were schools, temples, police headquarters, banks and factories, including the Kutani Ware Potteries.

The homeless are sheltered in three remaining schoolhouses and in neighboring villages. The Japanese Red Cross organized for their relief.

KLAMATH FALLS (Or.) March 28. (AP)—Barricading himself in a barn loft on his ranch near Malin, twenty-five miles southeast of here, William Simms today shot and killed his 15-months-old daughter and committed suicide, local Sheriff's deputies reported.

Simms last night wounded C. V. Moody, Klamath Falls, in what deputies described as a drunken rage.

VALLEJO, March 28. (Exclusive) Fire, believed to have started from a lighted cigarette, caused estimated damage of $30,000 to the $70,000 Fox-Vallejo Theater this afternoon. It was not extinguished until equipment and 100 volunteers came from Mare Island navy yard.

TWO SHIPS GO ASHORE ON COAST

Tanker Rhine Maru Crew Quits Vessel While Men on Claremont Remain

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (AP) Two steamers went ashore within 100 miles of each other tonight in a dense fog which blanketed the Central California Coast. The Japanese tanker Rhine Maru grounded near Point Sur, 100 miles south of here, while the lumber schooner Claremont was beached inside the harbor after striking the rocks off Point Bonita.

The crew of the Rhine Maru, bound for San Francisco from San Pedro, abandoned ship and at 10:15 p.m. were alongside the passenger steamer Humboldt which had gone to the wrecked tanker's assistance. The tanker carried about fifty men and officers.

The Claremont's crew remained aboard the vessel pending word from the owners. Carrying lumber, the Claremont left this port for Seattle an hour before she struck the rocks off Point Bonita. The master put his ship about and succeeded in beaching her in the sandy shore south of Crissy Field. About forty men are reported aboard the lumber schooner.

PITTSBURG (Cal.) March 28. (Exclusive)—P. N. Anderson, in charge of a dredger at work in the San Joaquin River near here, ordered an investigation today of persistent interference with the dredging machinery under the surface of the river water and discovered the body of his nephew, Marvin Chase, 14 years of age, who fell off a barge while a guest of the crew December 16, last. The boy lived at El Cerrito.

LIFE LINGERS AS BODY DIES

Internal Organs of Animal Kept Pulsing Twelve Hours After Death of Head and Torso

BY WATSON LAVIS

CHICAGO, March 28. (Exclusive)—Success in keeping the internal organs of an animal alive for twelve hours after the body from which they were separated had died was reported to the American Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology here today by Dr. J. Markowitz and Dr. H. E. Essex of the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn.

Brain, head, skeleton, muscular system or feet were lacking, yet the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, gastro-intestinal tract and adrenals, which had been separated from the rest of the body by a delicate surgical operation, continued to function.

Only the invasion of disease bacteria prevented the incomplete animal from living on and on in the incubator that kept it at body temperature.

The physiologists hope to learn why bacteria invade and destroy living tissue through their tests upon the strange "visceral organism," as it was named by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, who first performed a similar operation. Since there are no muscles for the internal organs to feed, there is the opportunity of discovering just what each organ does to the blood and where various food factors are manufactured.

The first step toward the maintenance of life in viscera removed from the body was taken some fifty years ago when Dr. Newell Martin, a famous Johns Hopkins physiologist of his day, kept a heart alive outside the body. Then a British scientist some twenty years ago kept the heart and lungs alive without the rest of the organism. In 1921 Dr. F. C. Mann of the Mayo clinic removed the internal organs and found that the rest of the animal would live and be active for nearly a day without the aid of stomach and other abdominal organs. The experiment reported today just reversed this process.

A kind of dogfish that breathes for three hours out of water and lives an hour after the blood supply is cut off from the brain was found during research work in Naples by Dr. Brenton R. Lutz and reported to the scientists today. Unusual is the effect of adrenalin on the dogfish. This extract from the adrenal gland that causes quickening of the heartbeat in mammals and man actually slows up the fish heart.

BITING DRINK HAS TEETH

'Paralysis Jakie' Analyzed

Midwest Peril's Ingredients Creosote, Carbolic Acid and Alcohol

Dry Forces Trace Source of Deadly Mixture and Expect Arrests

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—A drink of crude carbolic acid or creosote and alcohol flavored with ginger and sold by unscrupulous bootleggers as Jamaica ginger was said by Prohibition Commissioner Doran today to be the concoction that had caused hundreds of cases of paralysis in southern and southwestern States.

The commissioner made his announcement after Prohibition Bureau chemists had tested more than a hundred samples of "Jamaica ginger" collected in localities where cases of paralysis have been reported. He said that while it is hard to understand how any one of the ingredients in the mixture alone could have caused the paralysis, the combination had resulted in quick paralysis to those who had used it as a beverage.

BAD AS "SHEEP DIP"

Tests made by the bureau chemists, the commissioner said, show that three-fourths to seven-eighths of the solid contents of the drink had been either creosote or carbolic acid, and that the alcoholic content was as high as 80 or 90 per cent.

"Some scheming bootlegger who wanted to get rich quick devised the mixture and distributed it widely in the southern and southwestern States, where biting drinks have always been a favorite," Doran said. "We have traced the stuff to three focal points, two of which are in Cincinnati and St. Louis, and we expect to follow the trail until we have the perpetrators under arrest.

WON'T WASH OFF

While Commissioner Doran was explaining the result of the chemical tests, he held up the index finger of his right hand, the nail and tip were discolored to a dark brown and smelled of carbolic acid.

The commissioner explained that he placed the tip of his finger in some of the "Jamaica ginger" sent here to be tested. Three washings, he said, had failed to take off the stain or smell.

"And that," he added, "is what some persons are drinking as an intoxicating beverage."

BAY STATE BANK SHUTS ITS DOORS

Shortage Brings About Closing in Northampton; Coolidges Depositors

NORTHAMPTON (Mass.) March 28. (AP)—The Hampshire County Trust Company closed its doors this morning with a shortage of approximately $285,000. Blame for the loss is placed directly on Harold R. Newcombs, former manager of the savings department, by Arthur Guy, State Bank Examiner in charge. A statement by Ralph Hemenway, president, says savings depositors will suffer no loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge have accounts in the trust company. A statement issued at the office of the former President said they had not withdrawn their money, but feel that it is "perfectly safe."

Newcomb, banker by day and leader of a popular jazz orchestra by night, was arrested on the 17th inst., charged with the theft of $15,000, on which charge he was held in default of $30,000 bail when arraigned in District Court.

The bank's loss is said by Guy to have been in the savings department. Ever since Newcomb's arrest withdrawals have been heavy.

THIRTY-FOUR INDICTED ON JULIAN USURY CHARGE

Names of Accused Withheld Until Service of Bench Warrants; Seven Appear and Post Bail

Two indictments naming thirty-four men were returned by the grand jury late yesterday afternoon, following an investigation of the activities of prominent bankers, brokers and business men in the manipulation of "pools" in the sale and purchase of Julian Petroleum Corporation stock.

Bench warrants were in the hands of the Sheriff half an hour later for service, and late last night seven defendants appeared at the home of Superior Judge Walton Wood and posted bail. They were:

H. W. Chother, Alvin H. Frank, W. I. Hollingsworth, Adolph Rasslin, J. Farbstein, M. Weinstein and E. Rastheim.

Bail, which was set at $5000 by Judge Wood when the secret true bills were returned, was posted by the seven. They are charged with a conspiracy to violate the usury laws.

The remaining twenty-seven bench warrants, which were issued on the indictments and cover the same charges, will be served early today, it was announced by Capt. J. B. Fox, head of the fugitive detail of the Sheriff's office.

The action of the grand jury suddenly climaxed a hectic week's investigation into the Julian stock debacle, and the bench warrants were issued directly as the jurors at 5:30 p.m. went into Superior Judge Wood's court to file the true bills.

Names of the defendants will be withheld by officials until after the arrest or surrender of the orders of Judge Wood.

FORMERLY INDICTED

Reports about the Hall of Justice were to the effect that the indictments returned yesterday involve many of the prominent bankers, brokers and business men of "pools" Nos. 1 and 2 which were investigated by the 1927 grand jury, and upon which indictments were returned.

Search of the records reveals that the following men, in addition to the seven who posted bond last night, were indicted on usury conspiracy charges following the 1927 grand-jury investigation, although they were not brought to trial because of the fiasco of the first Julian trial:

Louis B. Mayer, Moller Flint, [illegible] Teplitzky, H. A. Ball, A. W. [illegible] B. Platt, Philip Grossman, F. E. Harris, Henry Mackay, [illegible] Hervey, P. L. McMullen, E. H. Rosenberg, Van G. Kelsey, L. L. Rouse, S. Goodman, Herman Guttersman, J. Kelsey, Joseph Lipkey, A. B. Marcus, B. F. Max Pugh, David Gindes, I. O. Levy, David Horowitz, H. E. Moody, A. Prell, Albert Lane.

Charges of conspiracy to commit usury against these men were dismissed by Superior Judge Doran in May, 1928, after the futile attempt by former Dist.-Atty. Keyes to convict the defendants in the Julian cases.

BAIL SET AT $5000

Names of all the defendants last night were considered so prominent that the fugitive detail apprehended no difficulty in locating them, and the vanguard of indicted men was momentarily expected at the Sheriff's office.

With the grand jury before the court Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced that several of the men named in the true bills are now out of the jurisdiction of the State, and further action of the District Attorney's office will be necessary to bring them before the court.

Setting bail in each case at $5000, Judge Wood told those in the courtroom, referring especially to the attorneys and bail-bond men present, that he would give his home address to any who desired so that he might be reached during the night and any time today.

"There is no court Saturday, gentlemen, and in order to prevent any of these defendants named remaining in jail overnight, I will be glad to approve bonds at my home," said Judge Wood, just before he handed the bulky documents to his clerk.

WARNING SOUNDED

The $5000 bond required was set by Judge Wood after Foreman Morris of the grand jury had informed the jurist that the inquiring body desired to set no bail, but to notify the defendants of the charges and call them into court for release on their own recognizance.

Following the action of Judge Wood, which also included additional warnings that the names of those indicted must remain secret and threatening newspaper men

HAITI TO GET NEW DEAL

Marines Slated for Departure

Diplomatic Relations Will be Substituted for Present Military Board

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—President Hoover today adopted as his administrative policy the gradual withdrawal of the United States marines from Haiti and the substitution of diplomatic relations for the present military commission.

The recommendations of the Forbes commission to this effect, which further suggest recognition of a provisional government, were accepted by the Chief Executive two months after the appointment of the group to study United States' policy in the island republic.

With immediate withdrawal of the marines found inadvisable, the commission recommends gradual withdrawal, in accordance with arrangements to be made between the two governments and with the advice of the commandant of the Haitian Garde.

MINISTER PROPOSED

A Minister would be assigned to Haiti to succeed Maj.-Gen. John H. Russell, American High Commissioner, at the expiration of his tour of duty. Russell's term is limited by the pleasure of the President, or by the treaty authorizing marine occupation, which lapses in 1936.

Also, under the recommendations, the Minister would be charged with negotiating agreements "providing for less intervention in Haitian domestic affairs."

The commission recommends that the detail of naval and marine officers for all Haitian services be made for a minimum of four years. Further, it recommends that "an effort be made to get Americans who will agree to continue employment in these services, so that on expiration of the treaty a force of American doctors, engineers and police officers will be available for continued assistance to the Haitian government, should it then desire it."

ECONOMIC SITUATION

Regarding the economic situation, the commission recommends the Haitian government be urged to appropriate for maintenance of existing roads before constructing new ones, and that only roads most urgently needed to develop settled regions under cultivation be undertaken until the present economic depression has passed.

Furthermore, the report urges that the American government interpose no objection to a moderate reduction of the customs duties, internal revenue taxes, especially those imposed on alcohol and tobacco, or a reduction or elimination of the export tax on coffee, if the treasury condition warrants.

Employment by the Haitian government of one American adviser in each administrative department, with the American government maintaining them as an act of grace, also is recommended.

MARKET BULLS ON RAMPAGE

Still Higher Peak for Year Reached as Wholesale Speculation Drives Prices Up

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Wholesale speculation for the rise which resembled the bull rampage that struck Wall street last week today broke all records for 1930 trading on the New York Stock Exchange and drove the price index for ninety issues up 21-15 points.

Utility, rails and specialty issues were taken in blocks of from 1000 to 10,000 shares. Total sales for the day aggregated 5,056,240 shares, the largest day's trading since December.

Receiving impetus from an unexpected source of $21,000,000 in weekly Federal Reserve brokers' loans, prices moved irregularly higher in early trading. In the final hour speculation for the rise swept the market and at the close stock price indices generally recorded new high levels for the year.

The movement was highly selective, and highly professional, however, and several shares, notably mail order and merchandise, moved downward. Considerable selling had to be absorbed during the morning, but during the last hour the bull crowd swamped the trading floor with buying orders.

American Telephone rose more than 7 points to a new high for the year at $257.50 in response to predictions of an early offering of rights and gossip of a vague possibility that Western Electric would be segregated through offering the stock as a dividend to A.T.&T. It closed at $257.25. General Electric was a feature of the industrials, rising more than 2 points to 83 3-8, a record level for the new stock. General Motors climbed to 51 for the first time this year, and Coca Cola jumped more than 10 points on the belief that low sugar prices would increase its earnings.

In the merchandising group, Montgomery Ward sold off about 3 points to a new low for the present stock at 35 1-4, and Continental Baking sagged 3 points and Macy 5 points to new lows for the year.

NEW REICH HEAD SCORNS PARTIES

Chancellor Picks Aides on Personal Basis

Leader in Opposition Given Agriculture Post

Von Hindenburg Makes Plea for Budget Success

BERLIN, March 28. (AP)—Dr. Heinrich Bruening, new Chancellor of the Reich, set about today choosing Ministers on a personal basis without dealing with parties in his efforts to form a Cabinet succeeding that of Hermann Mueller.

That was demonstrated when Dr. Bruening offered the Ministry of Agriculture to Martin Schiele, a Nationalist leader, who accepted despite the fact that his party earlier declined to participate in the new government and demanded dissolution of the Reichstag and new elections.

The Nationalists decided on their course of opposition even after their fiery leader, Dr. Hugenberg, had been asked by President Von Hindenburg to give up opposition at this point for the country's welfare.

The President also instructed the new Chancellor to forget party petitfogging and construct a Cabinet which above all could put through the budget and financial reforms. It was after that conference that Dr. Bruening offered the agriculture portfolio to Herr Schiele, who is president of the Federal Farms Federation and stands high in the regard of agriculturists.

There was no uneasiness in political circles over the outcome of Dr. Bruening's negotiations. He adjourne dhis conversation with Herr Schiele till tomorrow, so that the National Deputy could confer again with his colleagues of the Agrarian wing of the Nationalist party.

Should Herr Schiele fail to bring the Agrarians to the support of the coalition, which is considered to be unlikely, Dr. Bruening will complete a government tomorrow just the same, even if he has to go before the reichstag with a minority Cabinet.

The new Chancellor is a middle-aged bachelor of simple tastes, widely traveled, a scholar and a parliamentary tactician gifted in the handling of men. He is a bespectacled doctor of philosophy who does not look the part of a labor leader.

Yet it is he who for several years was executive director of the Federation of Catholic Trade Unions.

DEMURRER HALTS TRIAL OF KEYSTON

Indictment of Asserted Embezzlers Attacked by Attorneys for Defense

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (Exclusive)—The conspiracy indictment charging George N. Keyston, former president of the stock exchange, and eight others, with aiding an asserted $550,000 embezzlement from the Bank of Italy for stock market speculation, is attacked on fourteen specific points in a demurrer filed today in the Federal District Court by defense attorneys.

The demurrer holds for Keyston and five of the so-called Keyston group, which includes Douglas C. Alexander and Ray S. Rossiter, members of Leib, Keyston & Co.; Charles H. Clay and Claud Calmarino, company employees, and Elmer Griffin, former employee.

Presentation of the demurrer automatically stays pleas, which were scheduled for tomorrow.

Additional demurrers are expected for Joseph C. Bray, R. C. Haddow and Daniel P. Burke, former officers or employees of the Bank of Italy branch involved in the asserted embezzlement.

With the filing of these the government, it is believed, will move to consolidate all of the cases for trial.

South Dakota Executive Resents Invitation from Rapid City to Gangster

PIERRE (S. D.) March 28. (AP)—"I'll cast the first stone," was Gov. Bulow's reply to Rapid City's invitation to "Scarface" Al Capone, Chicago gangster, to make his home in South Dakota.

"We don't want Capone or any of his kind in South Dakota," the Governor said. "We have a law-abiding State as far as the gang racket goes, and we propose to keep it so."

The Governor did not comment on what steps, if any, would be taken to prevent Capone's living in South Dakota should he accept the invitation.

KELLOGG HOPES FOR REDUCTION

Increase in Armaments "Will Not Meet Pledges"

Three-Power Treaty Better Than None, He Says

Entrance Into World Court Also Advocated

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, expressed a hope tonight that the London naval conference will result in a reduction of armaments, not an increase toward parity.

At the same time, in an address before the League of Political Education in Town Hall, he pleaded for the entrance of the United States into the World Court.

"I know the people of this country are hopeful for the success of the London conference," he said, "but I believe it would be unfortunate if there should be a general increase in the aggregate armaments of the world instead of a decrease.

"Increase of armaments of the big naval powers will not meet the situation. It will not convince the world of our intention to keep peace. It will not meet the frequent pledges of nations since the World War to reduce armament. It will not prevent competitive building. It will go far to maintain the whole system of balance of power, of military alliance and of maintenance of peace by increasing armament.

SAFETY IN REDUCTION

"In the reduction of armament there is perfect safety. No one or two nations are going to be able to dominate the world. The control of the seas by one power is now an impossible dream.

"The security of the world can only be obtained by mutual consideration, confidence and the advance of pacific settlement of disputes.

"If a five-power treaty cannot be made, then I hope they may enter into a three-power treaty on the basis of the tentative understanding between Great Britain and the United States with a reduction of battleships between now and 1936. This would be a step in the right direction, and would manifestly save the United States several hundred million dollars over what we would otherwise spend under the present building program and would save Great Britain and Japan corresponding amounts."

VIEWS ON COURT

Referring to the World Court, Mr. Kellogg said:

"If the United States wishes for the creation of an international court, there is no other way than to join the one now existing and which has been functioning for years.

"It cannot be expected that all the rest of the world will subordinate its views to a new creation simply to obtain the adhesion of the United States."

He referred to criticisms directed against the American administration for the part it played in the administration of the Kellogg peace pact in warning Russia and China against fighting in Manchuria, saying: "It was certainly the business of the United States to do everything it could to prevent the violation of a treaty which it and the other nations had signed."

COWARDICE PENALTY TO BE MILDER

British Army Will Modify Punishment for Various Offenses in Annual Bill

LONDON, March 28. (AP)—Elimination of the death penalty for cowardice is among modifications and regulations regarding the death penalty in the British army which the government will lay before Parliament in the army and air force annual bill, the text of which was published today.

The death penalty will be abolished in the army also as punishment for leaving a guard or picket patrol or post without orders, intentionally causing false alarms in action or elsewhere, and leaving sentinel posts before being regularly relieved. These modifications with suitable textual alterations also will apply to the air force.

The death penalty will be retained for such acts as "shameful abandonment or delivering up of any place or garrison," "shameful casting away of arms in the enemy's presence," treachery, or knowingly imperilling in active service the success of His Majesty's forces.

Tokio Rebuilds Medical Center

TOKIO, March 28. (AP) — Prince and Princess Chichibu and Baron Shidehara, the Foreign Minister, today attended the laying of the corner-stone for the first unit of the new St. Luke's International Medical Center here, a $6,000,000 American-Japanese co-operative enterprise. Prince Chichibu is the eldest brother of Emperor Hirochito and heir apparent to the imperial throne.

The new medical center is one of the most ambitious of American medical missionary undertakings abroad. It will rise on the site of the old St. Luke's Hospital, which was destroyed in the earthquake and fire in 1923.

PRISON WILL BOOST COUNTY POPULATION

SAN RAFAEL, March 28. (Exclusive)—The population of San Quentin prison will be included in the Marin county census this year for the first time in history, it was announced today by Emmet Olmsted, Federal supervisor of census for the district. Warden Holohan estimates the number of convicts and prison attaches at 4972. Tallies from Fort Baker, Fort Barry and Angel Island, all government posts, will be added also to the Marin county count, it was said.

led by three Conservatives. In addition to this fairly constant support, the Farmers' party, mustering 6 votes, has been closely allied with the Cuman-Na-Gaedheal. The National League has two members.

In discussion of the government's defeat last night on the bill for extending the scope of old-age pensions, it was pointed out today, as Mr. Cosgrave himself had already done, that though the government lost by two votes, 64 to 62, there were twenty absentees. These will be present when the nominations for the Presidency of the Council are put before the Dail Wednesday.

COSGRAVE'S STAND

The last general election in Ireland was in September, 1927. Mr. Cosgrave was nominated by the Dail in October of that year, but has served as President of the Council since December, 1922. Before that, he was chairman of the provisional government.

The Cuman-Na-Gaedheal is chiefly composed of Sinn Fein members who accepted the Anglo-Irish treaty of 1921.

Mr. Cosgrave made plain today that he will not consent to resume the responsibility of government unless the old-age pensions bill on which he was defeated is dropped entirely. This may embarrass some members of the Dail who voted for the bill, but normally support Mr. Cosgrave and desire his re-election.

DE VALERA INTERPRETS NEW IRISH PROBLEM

CHICAGO, March 28. (Exclusive)

The resignation of the Cosgrave Cabinet does not necesarily mean a Fianna Fail administration will take its place.

The Cosgrave party and its allies are in a majority and may on Wednesday next re-elect Mr. Cosgrave as President or substitute another member of its own party.

PARTY'S PROGRAM

However, if the Fianna Fail takes office it will proceed with its declared policies. These aim at:

(1.) Securing the unity and independence of Ireland as a republic.

(2.) Rebuilding Irish industries, so as to use Irish labor to supply Irish needs, end unemployment and stop emigration.

In 1928 the Irish Free State imports included $171,000,000 worth of foods, which with proper organization could be produced in Ireland. The production of these goods would have given employment to all our unemployed.

EMIGRATION ISSUE

Emigration took away during the last eight years more people than there are today in the Province of Connaught with the city of Limerick added.

Our aim is to right this situation. Our program will involve state protection for our industries and the setting up of an advisory economic council to assist the government in carrying out its policies.

We shall endeavor also to restore the Irish language as the spoken language of the country and to preserve and foster the cultural characteristics which have marked our material individuality in the past.

(Exclusive)—Officials of the respective companies today announced the merger of Marchetti Motor Patents, Inc., United States Aircraft Corporation, a Nevada company, and Malley-Long Furniture Company into a $5,000,000 organization which will build airplanes here. Marchetti Motor Patents, founded by the late Paul Marchetti who met death in an airplane crash in San Francisco Bay, owns 100 acres on the peninsula adjoining Mills Field Airport, which will be used for the factory, it is said.

RETIRING ENGINEER PROPOSES TO TRAVEL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (Exclusive)—With the cap on his head which he wore when he pulled President Harding's special train on its western tour, Robert M. Watson, Southern Pacific engineer, took the Daylight Limited southbound today for the last time. He will end thirty-nine years and seven months of service when he brings the Lark in from Los Angeles tomorrow and will be retired on pension at the age of 70 years next Tuesday. After driving railroad engines for the greater portion of his life, Watson said, he will spend his declining days "seeing America first."

had in mind any concrete proposal or suggestion.

Formal conference meetings today included a talk between Secretary Stimson, Ambassador Gibson and Prime Minister MacDonald at No. 10 Downing street. Foreign Minister Briand, meanwhile, visited the Foreign Office to continue discussion of the French security problem with Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Minister.

MacDONALD RESTS

Tonight, after the Lord Chancellor's reception to the naval delegation at the House of Lords, Mr. MacDonald went to Chequers for a week-end rest. Mr. Stimson retired to his country place at Stanmore, where Arthur Wilson Page, his personal aide, and Mrs. Page will be his guests.

Dino Grandi of the Italian delegation and Reijiro Wakatsuki of the Japanese group also plan excursions from London, but M. Briand fortified himself behind a barrier of books in his hotel and indicated he does not wish to be disturbed.

Experts, who are working on the various pacts under consideration, will continue over the week-end, with a view to definite progress before next Friday, when a plenary session will be held.

EXPERTS CONTINUE

Under the direction of Sir Robert Van Sittart and Rene Massigli, the British and French experts today continued their efforts to perfect a tentative draft agreement whereby, without further committing Great Britain in Europe, there would be immediate and definite action in applying the economic and financial sanctions provided for by the League of Nations convenant, in case the League Council recommends such action, to avert a crisis in the Mediterranean.

Much of today's interest in the conference turned on the comment from the United States regarding what is happening here. The American delegation refused to take seriously one report—that President Hoover himself shares the opposition of some Senators to any sort of a consultative agreement as far as the United States is concerned.

Confirmation of such a statement, it was said, would be a great surprise to Mr. Stimson and his colleagues. Having taken a stand on a consultative treaty, the American delegation is calmly waiting for the European powers to settle this problem among themselves so the real work of disarmament can proceed.

SENATE OPPOSITION TO PACT INCREASES

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Senate opposition to American participation in the consultative pact proposed at the London naval parley increased today, with Senator Swanson of Virginia, the ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations Committee, denouncing it as a "snare and a delusion."

Rumors reached the Capitol that President Hoover has indicated his opposition to the consultative pact to the American delegation, but there was no confirmation of this. The silence on the turn of events at the London conference continued at the White House.

Senator Swanson took note of the reports that the President is opposed to such a pact and expressed the hope that "he will adhere to a decision not to enter into such a pact as the price for naval agreement."

"SWANSON'S STATEMENT

"I hope the report from London that the American delegation is contemplating entering into a political pact," Senator Swanson said, "in order to obtain a naval agreement is unfounded. I also hope the report that President Hoover is opposed to such a pact is true and that he will adhere to a decision not to enter into such a pact as the price for naval agreement.

"Those in favor of entering into a five-power pact to meet and consult among themselves in case any war is threatened in the Mediterranean seem to take two views as to what this means.

"In America it is contended that it means nothing, that the United States assumes no obligation under such a pact. In Europe it is contended that such a pact would be very effective in furnishing security to France and Italy, and consequently they could afford to reduce their naval strength. Both contentions cannot be right.

ONE OR OTHER

"If it means nothing as asserted in America it is difficult to understand why the European powers are willing to accept it as a guarantee of security. If it means something, as European nations believe, it involves the United States in political obligations in Europe which it would be honorably compelled to discharge.

"If it means nothing as contended in America it is a snare and delusion, giving fancied security to European powers that the United States has no intention of discharging. Great nations in their dealings with other nations should be frank and honorable and should not indulge in creating false hopes.

"A five-power pact of this kind constitutes a special alliance which both Washington and Wilson warned against."

"It is a return," the Swanson statement continued, "to the old concert of power that controlled Europe for many years, and which was the father of many wars and many injustices. All political alliances of the past have been camouflaged under the guise of meeting for consultation. Back of them has always been concealed force in order to make effective conclusions reached by the consulting power. If the United States enters such a pact when the consulting powers meet and reach a conclusion it could not then afford to abandon the policy outlined.

"BETTER TO JOIN LEAGUE"

"How will Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Greece, Turkey and Egypt, bordering on the Mediterranean, view a five-power pact thus entered into excluding them? It will be far better for the United States to join the League of Nations where all nations can meet and consult for peace and the betterment of the world—far better to do this than to enter into a special arrangement with four powers. Special arrangements with special nations is contrary to the policy advocated by President Wilson and it seems to me would be fraught with trouble.

"The Kellogg pact includes all nations and is not confined to five. If America agrees to consult and take action in any matters strictly European I do not see how America could refuse European nations having like consultation and action in connection with affairs in the western hemisphere which is contrary to the Monroe Doctrine. The League of Nations expressly prohibits interference with the Monroe Doctrine."

SURGEONS TO REVIEW CANCER AID

Committee of Eminent Medical Men to Observe Coffey-Humber Results

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (AP) A committee of eminent surgeons authorized by the executive committee of the American College of Surgeons will be assembled in San Francisco immediately to observe the clinical results of the Coffey-Humber experimental cancer treatment.

Dr. Franklin H. Martin, director-general of the college, and Dr. Bowman C. Crowell, associate director and director of the department of clinical research, announced the personnel of the committee here today.

The surgeons who have accepted the invitation of the two San Francisco cancer research physicians and the appointment of the college board are Dr. George W. Crile, Cleveland, Dr. Frederic A. Besley, Dr. Charles H. Mayo, Rochester, and Dr. Frank W. Lynch, San Francisco. Others remain to be heard from.

The observing committee will cooperate with Drs. Martin and Crowell, who have been in the city following the clinical experiments for several days.

In accepting the invitation of Drs. W. B. Coffey and John D. Humber, originators of the experimental method of cancer treatment bearing their names, it was specified by the American college committee that the investigating commission would "in no way assume any obligation other than to observe and report the result of their observations to the profession."

Broker Indicted in Fraud Deal

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—A grand jury which had heard testimony by former Gov. Smith, John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Michael E. Meehan, a broker, today returned an indictment charging grand larceny against Robert Lee Harrison, missing Park-avenue broker.

Harrison disappeared in February leaving behind reported obligations of more than $1,000,000. He is asserted to have told his clients that he was interested in a stock pool with Smith, Raskob and Meehan, who denied it.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON MILLS FIELD PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (Exclusive)—City officials and Ogden L. Mills, acting for the Mills Estate Company, today reached an agreement on a price of $1,050,000 for 1114 1-2 acres of land at Mills Field, on the peninsula, for a San Francisco municipal airport. The field has been in use for nearly three years on lease.

'LOCKED-UP' PROSECUTOR HAS ONE TERRIBLE TIME

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (AP) Dist.-Atty. Brady has an ironclad alibi for getting home late last night.

He went to his office early in the evening to do a little extra work. It was 10 o'clock before he finished. He rang for the elevator. There was no response. He walked down seven flights of stairs and pushed on the front door. Again there was no response.

The prosecutor didn't want to attract the attention of passersby so he climbed the seven long flights back to his office and telephoned the home of one of his deputies and again there was no response. Then he called the City Prison. The conversation went like this:

"Corporal, this is Dist.-Atty Brady. Do you happen to have anyone there who can pick a lock?"

"Sure we have, but we never let 'em out this late at night," said the corporal, who slammed up the receiver, thinking some one was trying to kid him.

One by one Brady telephoned all his assistants. None answered. In desperation he called the Central Police Station.

"Have you any skeleton keys?" he asked, and then thoughtfully added: "This is Dist.-Atty. Brady."

The desk corporal was abjectly and humbly sorry, but the police were just out of skeleton keys.

Brady walked back down the seven flights and hovered wistfully near the door.

Green Criticizes Ruling in Mine Injunction

Borah and Norris Scoring Jurists' Decisions

WASHINGTON, March 28. President Green of the American Federation of Labor announced tonight that the organization will oppose the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

The decision of Judge Parker, a member of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeal, in the coal mine injunction case was the target of criticism. In this decision, they contended, Judge Parker "upheld an injunction which virtually reduced the conditions of the miners in West Virginia to a point approximating industrial servitude."

Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, the chairman of the judiciary subcommittee considering the Parker nomination, said he would grant a hearing to the labor officials. He will call the committee together probably next Tuesday or Wednesday after the Senate convenes.

Senator Borah, Republican, also a member of the subcommittee, has been giving close scrutiny to the Parker decisions in labor cases. He was not prepared tonight to announce his conclusions. Senator Norris of the Judiciary Committee also has been studying the labor case, but he, too, was not ready to announce his views.

Who Is Educated?

EDUCATION is the most important tool which humanity possesses for the accomplishment of its ends. Rightly understood, it is a process which continues from the cradle to the grave. It is immoral to try to give a child's mind a set from which it can never escape. True education enables mature man to maintain critical inquiry and change their beliefs in the light of new evidence. This is a necessary state of mind if we are to have continued progress.

In honor of the visits of Prof. John Dewey to Los Angeles, E. Burdette Backus will speak on "Who Is Educated?" Sunday morning at 10:30 at the First Unitarian Church, West 8th Street, just east of Vermont. Music by double quartet from the A Capella Choir of U.C.L.A.

LOVE-TEST WIDOW SPEAKS

Mrs. Newton Voices Wish to Forget Following Return from Funeral of Husband

DETROIT, March 28. (Exclusive)—"There is nothing to add. The thing is done and all that can be said has been said. I hope I, too, will be allowed to forget.

Mrs. Thomas J. Newton, widow of the man who experimented with love and then took his own life after Mrs. Dorothy Rowe March, his partner in the episode, had left him in Miami, so expressed herself today on her return from Florida.

"There seems to be no angle left uncovered," she added. "I understand even the details of the scattering of Tom's ashes from a plane have been described. The only thing that is not as clear to some as it might be is the fact that while I knew of the affair, I did not look upon it as an 'experiment.' I did all I could to keep him and, to prevent him going away.

"When I knew of the fatal ending of the affair I went to Miami and did all that duty and affection could direct. He was cremated and his ashes scattered, as was his wish. There is nothing more to be said or done as far as the public goes. I realize the public expects a statement from me and I hope it will be a final one."

LEWIS EXCUSED

The cross-examination of S. C. Lewis, former head of the Julian corporation, which has ben under way in Superior Judge Tappaan's court for several days, was temporarily halted yesterday at 3 p.m.

Reports to Lewis that he had been named in the new indictments caused the witness, who was testifying in the civil suit brought by former stockholders against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of brokers, to seek adjournment. He declared that he has been ill for the past three or four days and the recent developments brought about an aggravated condition of his malady.

The Lewis request was granted and the case adjourned until 10 a.m. Monday. At this time the cross-examination and redirect examination will be continued, with expectations that the ex-Julian head will complete his testimony by Tuesday night.

GRIDER DEMURRER OVERRULED BY JUDGE

Overruling the motion of Attorney William B. Beirne, counsel for John C. Grider, Julian juror charged with accepting a bribe, Superior Judge Wood yesterday ordered the defendant to go to trial before Superior Judge Wilson, April 21.

In urging dismissal of the case Attorney Beirne maintained that Section 919 of the California State Penal Code provides that any indictment must be found on legal evidence. The argument was intended to show that the indictment against Grider was based on testimony of Jacob Berman and was hearsay under the rule of evidence—in other words, the conversations related by Berman had not taken place in the presence of the defendant.

Judge Wood held that Appellate Court rulings on this point make it plain that an indictment cannot be set aside on purely technical grounds.

CORONER HOLDS CASH OF BERMAN

Official Opens Safety Vault When Suit on Note Disqualifies Sheriff

Money owned by Louis Berman, Julian Petroleum investigation figure, and his wife, Bertha, totaling $4130.50 yesterday was being held by Coroner Nance, whose office acted in a claim-and-delivery action when the Sheriff's office became disqualified by reason of having been named as a defendant in the action. The money was taken from a safe deposit box in the Hollywood branch of the Bank of Italy by Deputy Coroner Childs.

According to Attorney Martin Forrest the present suit by J. St. Paul White is to recover $5000 on a note. That sum, it is asserted, was borrowed by Berman, June 21, 1929, in behalf of the Golf-Score Watch Company. As security Berman had tendered White a claim on the contents of a safety deposit box in the Bank of Italy's branch at Highland avenue and Hollywood Boulevard. Value of the contents was said to have totaled $10,000 in cash and jewelry.

Recently, however, the government stepped in and appropriated a major portion of the security in settlement of its income-tax claim against Berman, leaving a balance, according to Forrest, of $4131.50.

'FIXING'-HOAX CLAIM AIRED

Fitts Investigates Report That Krause Collected $5000 from Rosenberg in Bribery Trial

Inquiring further into the asserted activities of Louis Krause, who was recently indicted on jury bribery charges in the Julian case, the District Attorney's office yesterday was investigating assertions that Krause led a co-defendant in the bribery trial of former Dist.-Atty. Keyes to believe that the jury was "fixed," and collected $5000 for the service.

The information is understood to have been laid before Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart by Ben Getzoff, "pay-off man" in the Keyes case, who was convicted with the former official and Ed Rosenberg, a broker, but received probation on the sentence. Krause vigorously denies the charges.

It is asserted that during the Keyes trial Rosenberg contacted "a private detective," who told him that the jury in the case could be "fixed" for $5000, and it is further asserted that Rosenberg gave the man the money on the assumption that he, Rosenberg, would not be convicted.

ROSENBERG CONFIDENT

With the conviction of Rosenberg, Keyes and all concerned, however, the District Attorney's office believes that all the promises were without foundation and that the defendants were duped into paying money toward the asserted scheme only to be faced with a guilty verdict on the jury's return.

In connection with the asserted "shakedown" it was recalled last night by the prosecutors of Keyes, Rosenberg and Getzoff that Rosenberg, even until a few moments before the convicting verdict was read, was apparently positive that he would not be found guilty, and jokingly offered bets against that kind of a verdict.

When the court clerk read off the verdicts before Superior Judge Butler, the trial judge, Rosenberg paled markedly and seemed about to faint when he realised with a shock that he was convicted, and that any asserted scheme he might have had afoot to avoid conviction had failed.

JURY UNDER GUARD

Dist.-Atty. Fitts is convinced that if any such plans were made or contemplated they would have been futile for the Keyes jury was in custody throughout the trial, and no one was permitted to approach the members except bailiffs sworn to such duty by the court.

Keyes, Rosenberg and Getzoff were tried on bribery conspiracies in connection with the trial of eight Julian defendants and the specific charge was that Keyes accepted money and favors to "lay down" on the prosecution. The trio was convicted, Getzoff obtained probation and Keyes and Rosenberg are now in San Quentin.

Krause is under indictment as having been the "go-between" in "fixing" two jurors in the same trial for Jacob Berman. He is awaiting trial.

OIL COMPANIES' MERGER BANNED

California and New Jersey Standards Drop Plan

Justice Department Ruling Against Combine

Decision Given Year Ago, Attorney Discloses

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—John W. Davis, counsel for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, stated in reference to published reports of a contemplated merger of the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and California today, that consideration of such a combination was abandoned about a year ago as result of an adverse opinion from the Department of Justice.

Mr. Davis said the department felt that such a merger was forbidden by the dissolution decree of 1911 by which the original Standard Oil Company, found to be a trust in violation of the Sherman law, was split into thirty-three separate companies.

"Since the receipt of this intelligence," he added, "no further action looking to such a combination has been taken, either by the New Jersey or the California company. There is no foundation for any stories to the contrary."

Mr. Davis's statement discloses for the first time that a merger of these two units of the original Standard Oil Company had been definitely branded illegal by the Department of Justice, and throws an interesting sidelight upon the recent agreement to merge two other units of the original Standard, the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company.

The heads of Standard of New York and Vacuum announced with disclosure of the merger agreement that the Department of Justice had declined to advise them as to whether the combination was permissible, stating it would have to be tested in the courts. The announcement stated the companies had been assured of prompt action to bring the matter to a test and the department has subsequently started the necessary action in Federal court at St. Louis.

While no comment was available as to what action might be taken by Standards of New Jersey and California should the New York-Vacuum merger be found legal, it was pointed out in Wall-street circles close to the oil industry that the two situations are radically different, as New York and Vacuum are virtually noncompetitive.

SHEPHARD TO FACE SECOND DEATH QUIZ

First Wife Declared to Have Died in California in Mysterious Way

DENVER, March 28. (AP)—Department of Justice agents tonight began an investigation into the death in California seventeen years ago of the first wife of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, army surgeon, accused of poisoning his second wife at Fort Riley, Kan., last June.

The first Mrs. Shepard is said by her brother, James Childs of Needles, Cal., to have died "under mysterious circumstances."

Childs, who wrote Sardius M. Brewster, United States District Attorney for Kansas, requesting an inquiry into his sister's death, was quoted as saying she was seized with spasms while eating breakfast and died nine days later.

Maj. Shepard, held in jail here, vigorously denied there was any mystery in the California death.

Department of Justice agents instituted their investigation into the California case at the request of the Kansas District Attorney, who said he desired further information relative to Shepard's past in developing the murder accusation in Kansas.

BAN LIFTS ON POWER DAM SITES

Federal Commission to Resume Consideration of Colorado Basin Pleas

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—The Federal Power Commission today notified Governors of Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming of its intention to consider applications for power permits in the Colorado River basin.

The announcement was made by Secretary Wilbur, the acting chairman of the commission.

He said the action concerned applications for permits and licenses for forty-four power projects in that field. Nineteen of them are on the Colorado River, four on the Green River and the remainder on tributaries in Colorado, Utah and Arizona.

The issue of licenses in this area was discontinued in 1927, subject to the development of the Boulder Dam project. When the Boulder Dam Act became effective on June 25, 1929, legislative restrictions on the Federal Power Commission were removed. Action on applications in this area were further withheld, however, at the request of the States involved.

ERLANGER SUIT BATTLE BITTER

Attorneys' Language Brings Protest from Court

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Accompanied by such bitter exchanges by opposing counsel that Surrogate Foley several times protested, an application was submitted in Surrogate's Court today for a jury trial to determine whether Charlotte Fiscal was the common-law wife of Abraham L. Erlanger, theater magnate who died on the 7th inst.

Surrogate Foley reserved decision on the matter and also on the submission of an affidavit by the woman's attorney, Max D. Steuer, in which she said that on November 3, 1927, in Atlantic City, N. J., Erlanger told her that if there was any doubt about her status of wife, he wished to remove it at once.

Thereupon, the affidavit said, she put her arms around him and said, "you are my husband," and he replied, "you are my wife."

This was three weeks after the drafting of the will in which Erlanger said he was unmarried. Miss Fiscal was not mentioned in it and she now is seeking a widow's share in the estimated $75,000,000 estate.

Counsel for the beneficiaries protested that this was an attempt to make "a bilateral marriage out of a unilateral one."

Steuer contends that Miss Fiscal lived with Mr. Erlanger as his wife from 1920 until his death.

Counsel for the beneficiaries demanded a bill of particulars relating to the time, place and circumstances of the asserted marriage. Steuer was given until April 2 to reply.

TIES OF GRETNA GREEN UNITE ONLY RESIDENTS

LONDON, March 28. (Exclusive) Gretna Green, that elopers' paradise where loving couples are married by a blacksmith while holding hands over an anvil, today was dragged into a London court and its famous marriages ruled to be more romantic than legitimate.

The case was brought up by Helen Sefton-Toms, settlement of whose $300,000 fortune depended on whether her marriage at Gretna Green last autumn was legal. The judge admitted the curious ceremony in the blacksmith's shop just across the Scotch border was legitimate but only when the couple were residents of Scotland for at least twenty-one days. Since Helen Sefton-Toms and her intended had only arrived at Gretna Green from London a few minutes before the wedding the ceremony was not acceptable in the eyes of the law.

STATE HIGHWAY FUND $400,000

Share Under New Federal Bill Announced

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 28. (Exclusive)—California will gain about $400,000 additional funds for forest land roads under the Colton-Oddie bill just reported out by the House Roads Committee, Representative Englebright of Nevada City said today.

Inasmuch as this sum probably will be met on a fifty-fifty basis by the State, Mr. Englebright expects that the total annual increase in Federal and State funds will be nearly $800,000 under the measure.

California already receives approximately $800,000 a year from Federal funds for forest roads.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

TERM IN PRISON GIVEN TO EATON

Deposed San Clemente Chief of Police Sentenced

Probation Denied Because of Record Elsewhere

SANTA ANA, March 28.—Forrest J. Eaton, 36 years of age, deposed Chief of Police of San Clemente and confessed embezzler of public funds, bowed his head today as he stood in Superior Court, with his wife and daughter weeping as they looked on, and heard a sentence to San Quentin for a term of one to ten years. Judge George K. Scovel refused to grant probation.

FORREST EATON

"If I granted probation in this case, I never could refuse it in any other," he declared.

Eaton, college man and former soldier, had exhibited strong emotion during the early part of the proceedings, but when he stood for sentence his face exhibited only sorrow and remorse at the situation into which living beyond his means had led him, as he expressed it.

The former Police Chief found strong support in his plea for evasion of prison. Nearly 100 letters from San Clemente citizens were received by Probation Officer L. A. Warren, who had recommended probation on this showing and the promise by Eaton to make good approximately $1500 he was said to have misappropriated in a number of traffic cases. Mayor Thomas L. Murphine and Police Commissioner Leroy M. Warner of San Clemente testified on behalf of Eaton.

Neither Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., nor the court, however, agreed in this view. West produced testimony concerning Eaton's former record when Investigator Robert Sandon of the District Attorney's staff testified that the records of Los Angeles county show that Eaton, before going to San Clemente, was dismissed from service as a deputy sheriff in Los Angeles county on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, and for falsifying a leave-of-absence permit.

C. A. Moncravie, an Indian, testified that while he was in San Clemente six weeks ago, several blankets disappeared from his car and that subsequently, armed with a search warrant, he found them in Eaton's house.

Redlands City Council Aids Prosellis Fund

REDLANDS, March 28.—At an informal meeting held in the office of the City Clerk this morning, the members of the City Council voted unanimously to appropriate $500 from the city coffers to defray expenses connected with the public dedication of the prosellis on Tuesday, April 29. Formal action approving the agreement will be taken next Wednesday.

The conference was called by Mayor Allen Wheaton at the instance of the special committee appointed in January to arrange suitable plans for the acceptance by the city of the $40,000 structure in Smiley Park which has been constructed for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. White as a gift to local citizens.

Although plans for the dedication ceremonies have not been definitely announced by the committee, afternoon and evening exercises are to be held. A pageant is to be a principal feature in the afternoon. Various clubs and civic organizations are to co-operate and take active parts in the events of the day.

The committee appointed by Mayor Wheaton to take charge of the dedication is headed by Kirke H. Field, chairman, and includes Dr. Victor L. Duke, president of the University of Redlands; Henry G. Clement, Superintendent of City Schools; Mrs. George S. Hinckley, president of the Contemporary Club; Mrs. G. E. Mullen, president of the Community Music Association, and John P. Fisk.

GIANT BOMBERS AT MARCH FIELD

Twenty Langley Field Ships "Roost" Near Riverside

Fokker Transport Among Army Flight Group

On Way to Maneuvers at San Francisco Next Month

RIVERSIDE, March 28.—Twenty giant birds of the sky, more than 3000 miles from their nest at Langley Field, Va., alighted at March Field yesterday and last night "roosted" in the protection of the post while the crew of eighty-one officers and enlisted men were being extended the famous March Field Hospitality.

Comprising the flight are nineteen huge bombing planes and one Fokker transport, en route to the annual army maneuvers at San Francisco early in April. Originally the group was slated to land here Sunday but an earlier start last Sunday brought the flight into haven here yesterday.

MAJ. KNERR IN COMMAND

The flight is in command of Maj. Hugh J. Knerr, commandant of the Second Bombardment Group at Langley Field. He was guest of Lieut. and Mrs. Ray L. Owens, adjutant of the post, at dinner and was the night guest at Commandant M. F. Harmon's quarters. The other thirty-eight pilots were guests of the Officers' Club and of individual commissioned officers of the post, while forty-two enlisted men were entertained among the enlisted personnel there.

Army bombers comprising the flight are Keystone and Curtis planes, driven by two motors. The Fokker transport is trimotored.

MANY STOPS MADE

En route across the continent, stops were made at Montgomery, Ala., Shreveport, La., Midland and Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex., and at Tucson. Yesterday's lap brought the fleet of aerial warships from the Arizona City.

Averaging four men to a plane, the ships are not loaded to capacity. So far as known now the Langley Field Armada is the only one to have March Field as a port of call, en route to the maneuvers which are attracting aerial groups from all parts of the country.

March Field, because it is intrinsically a flying school and not of the tactical wing of the Army, will not be represented at the meet by any planes, but some of the officers expect to attend at least a part of the program.

SMALL CHECK MAY CAUSE PRISON TERM

ONTARIO, March 28.—A check for $40 may mean ten years or more in prison for Leslie J. Eppstein, charged with passing a fictitious check for that amount on local merchants a week ago. A jury in Superior Court declared Eppstein guilty on three counts and he will face Superior Judge Charles L. Allison Tuesday to hear the penalty. Eppstein of Los Angeles, and his wife, were charged with giving the bad checks at three or four places here. At an earlier hearing Mrs. Eppstein entered a plea of guilty and sought to shoulder the entire blame. Her plea for probation will be heard tomorrow. J. Clark Sellers, noted handwriting expert, identified Eppstein's signature on the checks in question. Witnesses from Ventura and Bakersfield testified the pair passed bad checks on them in January.

BIRDS CONVENE AT ONTARIO

Annual Mobilization of Sand Cranes from Mexico Held on Schedule, While for First Time in Memory of Pioneers, Flock of Quail Lands in Street

ONTARIO, March 28.—The birds held convention in Ontario today. The annual mobilization of sand cranes from Mexico and other far-southern points, occurred over the city during the morning.

And for the first time in the memory of the town's pioneers, a flock of wild valley quail flew along Euclid avenue and came to rest for an hour on the trees lining the parkway of the avenue right in the midst of the business section.

Each year during the month of March when the sand cranes move northward they "mobilize" over this city. The same plan of gathering together for the long flight over the mountains has been observed for five years. First comes a lone bird streaking out of the south. Today he arrived at 10 a.m., sailed slowly over here for a while and then was joined by scores of other birds out of the south.

For an hour they milled in seeming confusion but were mounting higher with each wide circle. Then suddenly one bird took the lead, heading straight for the mountains to the north, and the others quickly formed into a huge V and followed.

GUESTS FROM EAST HONORED

Publication Executives at Luncheon

PASADENA, March 28.—Honoring Louis B. Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, and Griffith Ogden Ellis, publisher of the American Boy Magazine, P. W. Kellogg and his son, W. S. Kellogg, local capitalists and newspaper publishers, entertained eighty guests at luncheon in the Hotel Maryland today. Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas was among those at the speakers' table.

Wiley said that he received a telegram yesterday from New York indicating that business conditions have shown a marked improvement in the East this week.

"I have noted," he said, "that you in Southern California either have been less affected than elsewhere by the stock-market debacle, or else you have sunnier dispositions than we have, perhaps both considerations are correct."

In paying tribute to Southern California newspapers, the New York Times executive stressed that there is no substitute for news in the creation of a great newspaper.

"Advice to the lovelorn, colored and sensational features, and catering to the morbid, do not take the place of full and accurate accounts of local and world happenings," he declared. "Newspapers have an enormous power for good or evil, depending upon the quality of their tastes in selecting news, and this work of choosing what to print is one of the most difficult tasks I know of."

Ellis, a brother-in-law of F. W. Kellogg, contrasted his vocation, that of publishing a magazine for boys, with newspaper publishing.

"Mr. Wiley and the New York Times," he declared, "deal in yesterday and today, while the American Boy deals with the future, the America that is to be. The father of a family used to stand on a pedestal as the head of the family, but now he stands with his wife and children and works with them instead of above them.

"If our modern youth is flaming it is with ambition and health. It is partly my task to decide what reading matter youth shall have, and I have found that no matter how salutary a subject is, it is futile to try to make young people read anything that is not interesting."

James W. Foley, poet philosopher, who served as toastmaster, revealed that the first money he received for his verse was a $6 check from the New York Times.

Symbolic of friendship, each guest was presented with a potted palm tree. As tributes to Mr. Wiley and Mr. Ellis, the menus bore replicas in miniature of the front pages of the New York Times and the American Boy. Following the luncheon a group of the guests visited the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery.

Besides the honor guests, those present included: M. J. Anthony, Walter A. Barnes, John E. Barber, James A. Blaisdell, J. J. Blum, Harrison R. Baker, W. L. Beebe, William Blair, Leslie Bliss, John Barnett, Frank Barham, John Willis Baer, F. Manchester Boddy, C. D. Billheimer, Vernon Brymbidge, Paul Barnes, John G. Bullock, Leo Chanin, Samuel G. VETERANS MAY HAVE TO PAY TAX

Legal Opinion Given That Imperial Irrigation District Need Not Exempt Them

EL CENTRO, March 28.—As the result of a legal opinion made public today by Charles L. Childers, attorney for the Imperial Irrigation District, valley war veterans will be deprived of a tax exemption which has been granted to them for several years. In the past the district always has granted the same exemption as is allowed to city and county taxpayers who have war records. This exemption waives the payment of taxes on $1000 assessed valuation to all veterans whose net worth does not exceed $5000.

D. W. Wiest, who was appointed district assessor following the death of Charles Barry several months ago, ruled that the State law did not apply to taxes levied by the irrigation district. His opinion is sustained by the attorney for the district.

Imperial Valley veterans have indicated that they will appeal the matter to higher authority. E. A. Perkiss, commander of the American Legion Post at Calexico, said today that he is asking the State Department of the Legion to secure an opinion from the Attorney-General.

Admiral Lines' Mexican Cruises Planned Today

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Officials of the Pacific Steamship Company are expected here tomorrow for conferences regarding cruises of Admiral liners down the west coast of Mexico. The northern delegation will be headed by Hugh B. Brittan, of San Francisco, general passenger agent, and R. B. Schutten of Los Angeles, assistant general passenger agent.

The officials will arrange final details of the last two good-will voyages of the Dorothy Alexander, sailing from Wilmington on May 3 and May 17, and arriving here on May 4 and May 18. These 2300-mile, twelve-day voyages will include stopovers at Ensenada, La Paz and Mazatlan, in each of which seaports Mexican officials are arranging special festivities.

The voyagers may join a special party being arranged by J. M. Patison to extend the tour to Mexico City, to leave the Dorothy for the inland tour when she docks at Mazatlan on the first voyage and again board the liner when she returns on the second cruise.

The steamship officials also will discuss plans for spring cruises of the Admiral line to Ensenada, with the first voyage arranged for early in May.

DRIVE STARTS ON LEWD PRINTS

County-wide Campaign Gets Under Way in Orange

District Attorney Promises to Drive Out "Literature"

ORANGE, March 28.—A county-wide drive against sale of obscene literature from news stands in Orange county was initiated today by Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., with the arrest of three drug-store proprietors in this city, who were assessed fines of $50 each. The fines levied by the local justice, O. W. Ingle, were suspended upon the statements of the defendants that they were unaware of the contents of the magazines upon which the complaints were based.

Complaint of R. H. Terhune, 304 North Olive street, against the Dijmar, Simon and Mueller drug stores resulted in the filing of charges and brought the attention of the District Attorney's office to the situation that Terhune discovered.

"We were totally unaware that such a situation existed," said West today, "but now we are going to make a county-wide clean-up and will see that such literature is driven out."

CITY PROSECUTOR ASKS FOR "DIRTIER" MAGAZINES

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—The loudly heralded battle by the police department against news stands which offer for sale nationally circulated magazines of an asserted questionable nature seemed destined to failure today . . . Henry Hache, City Prosecutor, who has been studying nine magazines submitted to him by officers of the police vice squad which were confiscated in a raid on a news stand at Third and E streets, has sent out a hurry call for more material.

"I studied the magazines which were handed me," Hache said. "Although I admit some of the excerpts are a bit spicy, I do not believe they would be held obscene by any court in the land . . ."

George Sears, police lieutenant in charge of the vice squad, confiscated the magazines after he received orders from higher up to clean up the magazine stands.

Two men were arrested when police officers raided a stand, but were convicted in court on two obscene pictures which were incidentally taken in the raid.

The magazines were not introduced in court, but were turned over to Hache for perusal. "I'll have to have more and dirtier magazines than these to start a case," Hache said.

Long List of Young Folk on 'Parties' Named

VENTURA, March 28.—Authorities are now in possession of names of forty-five young persons, twenty-five girls and twenty boys, asserted to be linked up in the series of "parties" occurring in and near here for four months, it was learned today from County Probation Officer Clay Claberg.

Two 16-year-old girls and nine boys are now in custody. One youth, Arthur Ginn, 21 years of age, of Santa Barbara, was arraigned last night before Judge Malvern Dimmick, charged with statutory offenses against one of the girls, the same one with whom five others are said to be implicated.

Jimmie Morgan, 19, local truck driver, was bound over to Superior Court yesterday by Judge Dimmick after his preliminary hearing. Morgan is charged with statutory offenses against the other girl who, on the witness stand, told the details of an asserted "party" which took place last Saturday night in Morgan's apartment. B. L. Greeg is attorney for the boy, and Dep. Dist.-Atty. M. Arthur Waite is prosecuting the cases.

Excavation work was launched last week by the Foster Rock and Gravel Company, which was awarded the subcontract. The structure, when completed and equipped, will represent an expenditure of approximately $75,000, according to Frank H. Collins, plant manager.

Collins expects the project to be finished by June 1, shortly after the opening of the 1930 Valencia season. A storage capacity of sixty cars and a daily icing output of ten cars is to be provided.

IMPERIAL AREA PLANS PAGEANT

Story of Reclamation of Desert Will Be Told

Presentation to Be Given at County Fair Grounds

November Set as Time; [illegible] Chairman of Project

CALEXICO, March 28.—The story of the reclamation of Imperial Valley is to be depicted in the form of an outdoor pageant to be presented at the County Fair grounds next November, according to plans disclosed here last night by J. S. Cameron of Brawley, chairman of a county-wide committee which is sponsoring the project.

Cameron appeared before the local Chamber of Commerce and urged that Calexico join with other valley towns in underwriting the cost of the pageant. Every town in the Imperial Valley except Brawley has agreed to join in making up the financial guarantee which will amount to $4000, Cameron said.

Phil Whiting of Hollywood, who has been employed to direct the pageant and the script and music are now being written, it was announced. The story is to start with the historic Indian tribes which once inhabited to have lived along the shores of the gulf which once covered into the Imperial basin and continue through the pioneer period of development and reclamation to the climax through the present period of development and the climax in a prophecy of the future has in store for the district.

El Centro is underwriting 50 per cent of the cost, Calexico and Brawley, 15 per cent each, and other towns in the valley smaller amounts.

Tonic Sale by Glass Brings Up Legal Question

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—The municipal court today heard the beginning of a test case to determine whether it is legal to dispense so-called medicinal whiskey by physicians having alcoholic permits over the bar. Officers of the police vice squad arrested Guy L. Smith, proprietor of an establishment at 431 F street, on a charge of selling and vending hi the glass a wine bottle. Attorneys Clifford Fitzgerald and Herman Allen, appearing for Smith, asked dismissal of the charge on the ground that there is no difference between selling the whiskey by the bottle and by the drink.

Judge Claude L. Chambers took the case under advisement and granted the attorneys a week in which to look up the law in the case.

Two officers of the vice squad testified they remained in Cole's establishment while a former went into the place and purchased a drink of the liquor. The officers testified they would not let the informer buy the drink, offering cash and tender payment.

"Did you arrest the informer for purchasing liquor?" Fitzgerald asked one of the officers. He replied in the negative.

Woman Driver Named in Suit

REDLANDS, March 28.—Charging that the negligence and carelessness of Mrs. Roy C. Phelps of this city, caused her serious injuries when she was struck by an automobile while crossing the street, Stella V. Thur, also a local resident, filed suit for $10,000 damages against Mrs. Phelps and her husband in Superior Court yesterday.

The accident occurred at Olive and Citrus streets, here, December 11, 1929, according to the complaint. The plaintiff asserts that she was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Phelps as she attempted to walk across Olive street at the intersection with Citrus. She charges that Mrs. Phelps was driving in a careless and negligent manner in that her husband had allowed her to drive the car, knowing her to be an incompetent driver.

The plaintiff avers that as a result of being struck by the automobile she received numerous contusions and abrasions, and that her health and strength have been permanently impaired.

MAE PLAYS HOME LIFE ROLE NOW

Actress in Chicago on Way to Start Tour Says She's Birdie in Nest

CHICAGO, March 28. (Exclusive) Mae Murray, flaxen curls, carmine mouth, white teeth and all, was in Chicago for an hour this morning before leaving for New York and an eight-week tour.

"I'm really awfully domestic," she declared. "You can't imagine how happy my home is. You know how a little bird nest is, with a papa bird and a mama bird and maybe one or two little birdies? Well, that's the way we are at home.

"But I don't like to talk about my home life. It's the only privacy I have. My little boy is 3 years of age, and really quite a genius."

Miss Murray, who in private life is Princess M'Divani, admitted that she has been married to the self-same husband for the last five years. In fact, she asserts, he is the only husband she has had in her long career from cabaret dancer up to cinema stardom.

RED CHINA WAR MOVE REPORTED

(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.)

SHANGHAI, March 28. (Exclusive)—Communistic military activities which have been growing in intensity for several weeks in South China in Kiangsi, Fukien, Kwangtung and Eastern Hunan provinces are beginning to take the form of an organized advance on Hankow, according to a report this afternoon. The report asserts that the Chinese Red objective is to take advantage of the political crisis in North China and reoccupy the Hankow district similar to 1927 when a Chinese Red government was allied with Moscow and dominated by the soviet adviser, Borodin, and his associates.

A Chinese report states that 1000 Red troops have occupied the Tungoneng district in an extreme southern point in the Hupeh province and following the usual tactics, the troops have massacred the officials and persons holding property and burned the magistrate's archives. Another report states that other bands of Reds have occupied the towns of Yungfu, Lungyen, Yungting, Shanghang and Changchow, all located in Fukien Province. It was further reported that still another band has captured the town of Chatan ern part of the Kwangtung Province.

J. J. RASKOB INDICTED AS PARTY FOE

Josephus Daniels Calls on Chairman to Pay Off Deficit and Resign

RALEIGH (N. C.) March 28. (AP) The Raleigh News and Observer tomorrow will say in an article written by former Secretary of the Navy Daniels, publisher of that paper, that:

"John J. Raskob was more interested in destroying prohibition than in the Democratic party, and owes it to the party to pay the debt he created against it and resign his connection with the National Democratic Executive Committee."

"The Democratic party," Mr. Daniels continues, "demands—or the best portion of it does—that the chairman of the committee shall have no alliances that are hurtful to the common good or that will work injury to party success. As long as he (Raskob) remains, millions of voters will believe the Democratic party is wet."

Mr. Raskob, the editor says, gave money to the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment and made "advances to the Democratic party."

No campaign, Mr. Daniels writes, "had such costly and unnecessary frills as that of 1928. Mr. Raskob wished them. He adopted them. He should pay for them."

FRANCE LEADS TARIFF HOWLS

Calais Laceworkers March in Protest on Duties

Cabinet Member Declares Policy Dangerous

Senate Conferees Aid House in Adjusting Bill

CALAIS, March 28. (AP)—Nearly 20,000 persons marched through the streets of Calais today in a demonstration of protest against the new American duties on lace.

Another 40,000 gathered from over the countryside to watch the orderly procession, headed by the entire municipal personnel, local magistrates and members of the Chamber of Commerce. They marched to the City Hall to present resolutions of protest to Mayor Louis Vincent.

Representatives of twenty-eight labor unions were in the parade, which was made up largely of lace workers and employers. A few Communists on hand were not allowed to march.

"I would like for you to emphasize that this demonstration is in no way aimed against the United States or its government," Mayor Vincent told the Associated Press correspondent. "We simply want to bring home to the French government in the most forcible way what the new tariff means to the industry of Calais."

TARIFF ENDANGERS FRENCH RELATIONS

PARIS, March 28. (AP) — Pierre-Etienne Flandin, Minister of Commerce, today told the French Senate that the American policy of "practically prohibiting entry into the United States of products not manufactured in the United States" was exceedingly dangerous, not only for France but for all European exportations to America.

His statement was made in the course of discussion on the proposed increase in American tariffs on laces and embroideries. Senator Neron declared that the duty on lace amounted to a virtual embargo so far as France was concerned, and he demanded to know what the government was going to do about it.

M. Flandin replied to Senator Neron that the proposed American tariff had not been definitely accepted by Congress, and that France's representatives were endeavoring to prevent final adoption.

He added that a new economic policy was being developed in the United States under the direction of President Hoover, however, saying: "This virtually prohibits importation into the United States of everything manufactured here."

He remarked that the new lace duties had become worse in certain cases because of a prohibitive surtax "and if they really are adopted we must deduce conclusions as to what is necessary in fixing our commercial relations with the United States. The present proposed increase involves enormous interests —we export lace valued at 175,000,000 francs to the United States yearly."

SENATE AND HOUSE LEADERS PATCH BILL

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Unable to reach an agreement today on the legislative procedure under which the tariff bill is to be considered by the House next week, Republican leaders again will meet with Speaker Longworth tomorrow in an effort to eliminate differences of the various factions within their ranks.

The powerful steering committee held a long session to discuss the demand for a rule that will satisfy the Republicans, particularly those from western and northern agricultural States, who desire separate votes on sugar, lumber, cement and shingles.

Although the Republican leaders virtually are certain that their 102 majority is sufficient to force the measure directly to conference, regardless of the possible vote of a group of western Representatives, they desire to formulate a rule that will permit separate votes on controversial items.

BILL'S STATISTICS TOLD BOSTONIANS

BOSTON, March 28. (AP)—The story of the troublesome tariff bill was told in statistics tonight by Dr. Alfred P. Dennis, vice-chairman of the Tariff Commission at Washington.

Impressing the ramifications of tariff making upon the Boston Export Club, he cited figures as follows:

Twenty thousand items are embraced in the pending bill.

Four million five hundred thousand words spoken on it in the Senate alone.

Two thousand eight hundred pages of Congressional Record devoted to the debate.

Two thousand three hundred and sixty-three witnesses heard by House and Senate committees.

Two thousand seven hundred and fifty pages filled with additional data.

Dr. Dennis said the material contributed to the making of the new bill would fill two sets of the Encyclopedia Britannica of twenty-four volumes each, running 1000 pages to the volume.

RULES MUZZLE WET ADVOCATE

Senate Committee Cannot Summon Ferguson

Canadian Premier Averse to Testifying Anyhow

Will Refuse Invitation to Appear, Says Toronto

WASHINGTON, March 28. (AP)—Disclosures that it requires diplomatic representations to obtain the appearance of an official of a foreign government before a Congressional committee dimmed the hope tonight of wet forces that the testimony of Premier Ferguson of Ontario Province, Canada, on government liquor control might be offered in the prohibition hearing before the House Judiciary Committee.

In addition, reports from Toronto indicate that Premier Ferguson will not accept an invitation to testify as a rebuttal witness to the charges of former Premier Drury, a witness for the dry forces, that government control is a failure in Canada.

In that connection, F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in a statement tonight said that the offer of Premier Ferguson to "try to come to the rescue of the Ontario liquor sales system" was not to be unexpected.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

For a time the old witch-doctor felt no doubt as to the outcome of the struggle he was watching; the strange white man must surely succumb to the terrible lion. Who ever heard of a lone man armed only with a knife slaying so mighty a beast? Yet presently his old eyes went wider and he commenced to have his doubts and misgivings for slowly there came into his sunken eyes the light of a dawning recollection.

Groping backward into the past reached the fingers of memory, until at last they seized upon a faint picture faded and yellow with the passing years. It was the picture of a lithe, white-skinned youth swinging through the trees in company with a band of huge apes. The old man's eyes blinked as he recalled this sight of twenty years before and a great fear came into them, the superstitious fear of one who believes in ghosts and demons.

And the time came once more when the witch-doctor no longer doubted the outcome of the duel. He was even more frightened, for now he knew that the jungle-god would slay Numa. What would then be his own fate at the hands of the victor? He saw the lion weaken from loss of blood, its mighty limbs stagger and tremble as the beast sank to rise no more. He saw this forest demon put its foot upon the still quivering carcass.

Then it raised its face to the moon and bayed out a hideous cry that from the ebbing blood in the veins of the witch-doctor. Terror almost overcame him as he shrieked "Who are you?" Tarzan turned his attention to the man and something akin to pity touched his savage heart at sight of this fear-stricken, suffering creature. He stooped to staunch the wounds of the old man before he answered: "I am Tarzan—Tarzan of the Apes."

Frank Walsh Shoots 69 to Capture Second Money

PINEHURST (N. C.) March 28. (AP)—With a large crowd billowing about him and stampeding in his path, Paul Runyan, 21 years of age, assistant professional from Bloomfield, N. J., today shot near-perfect golf for two rounds to win the twenty-eighth annual North and South open golf here.

HORTON SMITH

Runyan, who learned his golf in Little Rock, Ark., pounded out rounds of 72 and 70 today to post a total of 291 and score a decisive victory over his more experienced rivals.

Runyan, with the exception of a bad second round when he soared to 77, shot steady near par golf throughout the contests. His four round scores of 73-77-72-70 show the consistency of his game.

The new champion started the final round tied with two veteran professionals and a stroke behind Whiffy Box of Brooklyn, the three-quarter-mile leader. Realizing that only a sub-par card would enable him to win, he started matching perfect figures throughout the nine and cut loose with some brilliant shots on the home nine for a 70, while the veterans blew their lead in that nerve-wracking home stretch.

Two strokes behind the winner, Frank Walsh, ruddy-faced Chicago pro, finished with a brilliant 69 for a gross score of 293. He collected $1000 second-prize money. But for three short putts he missed on his home nine, Walsh would have outstroked Runyan. His four round score reads 75-72-77-69.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

WHY, MR. TEMPLETON!

THE California Bears and the Southern California Trojans are meeting on the track at Berkeley this afternoon, but a more important mission than viewing the festivities took Mr. G. Wilson, graduate manager at S.C., north last night.

Mr. G. Wilson is to drop off this morning at Palo Alto to see what's what about the pending Stanford-S.C. meet which is scheduled for competition in this city on April 12.

It is reported that Mr. Dink Templeton, the "boy" track coach of Stanford, is displeased with the switch of the meet from the Coliseum to the Occidental oval.

He is said to have found fault with everything at Occidental except the water faucets. He doesn't like the track—one of the fastest in the south—and he picks flaws in the runways, the jumping pits, and a few other things of not much pith or moment.

This is perfectly all right if Mr. Templeton is talking for the purpose of the well-known ballyhoo, but rather catty and uncalled for if he is serious about the matter.

With a few hours of work the Occidental track, the pits and the runways can be made just about as sniffy as those at the Coliseum, where the meet would have been held but for the alterations now under way at the big bowl.

FOUR YEARS IN FIVE

IT IS also reported that Mr. Templeton, in view of the fact that the Coliseum is not available, wants to switch the meet up to Palo Alto.

Now we of the Southland have no objection to Mr. Templeton's track, or his runways or his pits at Stanford. We think they're fine.

But we do believe that Mr. Templeton is slightly out of line when he finds fault with a track over which Frank Wykoff steamed to a 9 3-5s. mark—the official world's record in the 100—and Bob Van Osdel jumped 6ft. 7¼in.—within an inch of the world's record—from a "poor" runway and into a "bum" pit.

And, anyway, the meet is more or less due Los Angeles.

Four times in the past five years the Trojans have gone North to meet the Cardinals on their own track.

Just once in that period have local track fans seen the Cards in action in a dual meet with the Trojans.

In 1926, 1926, 1927 and 1929 the Trojans journeyed to Palo Alto. In 1928 the Cards came South.

If any material advantage rests in running on the other fellow's track the Cards have had it for four years out of five. As a matter of fact they have won four meets in that span.

And you can't say the Trojans will have any edge at Occidental. It is not their track. They run on it about once a year.

Rival Tennis Kings Clash Today for South Florida Net Championship; Santa Monican Defeats Canadian Cup Star in Four Hard-Fought Sets to Reach Finals

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) March 28. (AP)—Johnny Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., advanced today to singles finals of the annual South Florida tennis championships. Tomorrow he will meet George Lott of Chicago, for the championship.

JOHNNY DOEG

Lott defeated S. Jarvis Adams, Montauk Point, L. I., in three sets, 6-0, 6-1, 6-2.

Doeg was extended four sets in his match with Marvel Rainville, Canadian Davis Cup team star, but won, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.

In doubles play, Lott played with Sam Hardy, New York, against a determined pair of Miamians, Oscar Evans and John Nixon, who caused the visitors to extend their tennis to win two sets, 6-4, and 11-9.

Doeg and Jack McKay, Miami Beach, won 6-3, 6-1, from Harvey Lake, Ocean City, N. J., and Bob McMillan, Oshkosh, Wis.

OXY MANAGERS PICKED

Baseball managers were appointed yesterday by the Occidental athletic council, according to the announcement of Dick Glover, chairman of the council. The new senior manager is Dick Tavenner; junior managers are Bob McCord and Dunham Taylor; the four sophomore managers named are Dick Frans, Bill Clothier, Don Dauwalder and Keith Davidson.

POLO PONIES GO ON BLOCK

BY FRANK ROCHE

An auction sale of half of their ponies this afternoon and a special match game tomorrow against the Midwick big four winds up the activities of the Galloping Gauchos, from Argentina, in Southern California. The Argentine polo ists seek their twelfth straight victory when they ride on the field against the Purple Club four tomorrow afternoon. But win or lose, the pampas horsemen will leave shortly after the game on the first leg of their journey back to their South American home.

Midwick is sending its crack team composed of Neil McCarthy, Elmer Boeseke, Eric Pedley and Carleton Burke into action against the Pampas Four tomorrow. This team came nearer to beating the Argentines than any of the all-star combinations the South Americans played on the Coast this winter did.

The Argentines were invited to take part in the open championships at Meadowbrook by Louis E. Stoddard during his visit here recently. They first accepted the bid but later decided not to make the trip back as it would keep them from their homes too long this year. Twenty-three of their prize ponies will go on the block this afternoon. They will keep the remaining twenty-two and ship them back following Sunday's game.

Midwick officials expect a record turn-out for tomorrow's contest. The game will start at 2:30 p.m. Capt. Wesley White will referee.

BEARS HOST TO TROJANS TODAY

Southern California Doped to Upset Rivals

Berkeley Oval is Scene of Track Encounter

California Fans Hope to Score 45 Points

BY BUD SPENCER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Determined to uncork everything they have in the way of point scoring ability, California's "better-than-usual" trackstars are expected to outdo even their most optimistic hopes against U.S.C. at Berkeley tomorrow. But to "uncork everything" means little more than 45 points against Dean Cromwell's mighty cinderpath aggregation. Hardly more, maybe less.

WALT CHRISTIE

There are only about five youths wearing the Blue and Gold striped jerseys that can be expected to bloom forth with the ability to take first places. The few that have been heralded to do great deeds against the Trojans are Messrs. Pogolotti, expected to be a double winner in the hurdles, Mossman, Henderson, Curtice and De Berry. But the rest have Walt Christie guessing as to their point-scoring ability.

WYKOFF PICKED

Frank Wykoff is a cinch to run into first places in both sprints, blindfolded or running backward, with Weldon Draper and Red Guyer to garner the seconds in the 100 and the 220, respectively. It becomes the duty of Spencer Bisby and Sparks, the Bear sprinters, to ramble in some unknown manner to the third places in both events.

The Trojan quarter-milers are far ahead of Johnson and Lucas of the Bears. Pearson, Woessner and Williams will only have to coast through fifty seconds to lead the Blue and Gold entrants to the tape.

Spud Mossman, the sorrel-topped miler and two-miler of the Bears, is a favorite to subdue Clif Halstead in the four-lap race. The Bears have no other miler capable of placing, providing one of the Trojans can better 4m. 38s.

Harvey Henderson, the new two-mile sensation at California, should break the tape ahead of Daniels, Unruh and Fitzmaurice of the Trojans, but unless Mossman surprises with two races, U.S.C. looks good for 4 points.

POGOLOTTI FAVORED

Al Pogolotti, the spry-legged captain of the Bears, is given the nod over Jeddy Welsh and Stokes of the Trojans in the high hurdles be-

OUTSIDER TURF WINNER

AINTREE (Eng.) March 28. (AP)—Shaun Goilin, a 10-year-old veteran from the "Ould Sod," galloped from obscurity to international fame today by winning the Grand National Steeplechase, classic of the turf, in a sensational finish.

Only a neck separated the Irish-bred jumper from William Wilson's Melleray's Belle, in second place, while barely a length and a half back in third position came Sir Lindsay, the American-owned favorite, carrying the colors of the New York sportsman, John Hay Whitney. The triumph was by a narrow margin but enough to achieve the life-long ambition of W. H. Midwood, English cotton broker, as he saw Shaun Goilin withstand all challenges over the last few hundred yards of the long course.

A crowd variously estimated at from 400,000 to 500,000 witnessed the ninety-first running of one of the most picturesque of all horse races, with a rousing finish to top it all off. The winner, Shaun Goilin, by an unknown sire out of Goldenway, carried 161 pounds, was hooted home in a clever ride by Tommy Cullinan and paid off at odds of 100 to 8. Melleray's Belle was quoted at 20 to 1 and Sir Lindsay at 100 to 9.

Only six of the forty-one starters finished the gruelling four and one-half mile test, but in that sextet were two American-owned horses and two which claimed the United States as their home in one way or another.

Following Sir Lindsay across the finish line was Glangesia, which once raced on American soil for R. K. Mellon. Bally Hanwood, which was fifth, carried the colors of M. D. Blair, an American, who has made his home in England for many years. Sixth place went to Victor Emmanuel's Royal Arch II.

Shaun Goilin was timed in 9m. 40 3-5s., only six seconds slower than the best time ever made over the course. Gregalach, in winning the event last year, covered the route in 9:47 2-5.

CARNERA FIGHTS CLISBY HERE

The Olympic yesterday settled definitely that Neal Clisby, black heavyweight, would be Primo Carnera's opponent April 8. Clisby has been in training ever since his name was first mentioned as the Italian giant's opponent. He once lasted six rounds with George Godfrey.

Primo Faces Investigation

CINCINNATI, March 28. (AP) The National Boxing Association gave warning today it may stop what it termed the one-round, set-up knockout tour of Primo Carnera, who has been making money by flooring allegedly inferior opponents. Stanley M. Isaacs, N.B.A. president, said Carnera, rated as a first-class fighter and considered in many sources as a championship possibility, has been making a comedy of the American boxing game by insisting on contracts "where unqualified opponents have been sacrificed to his money-grabbing tactics." Aroused because he says the foreign boxer consistently has refused to meet boxers of high rank, Isaacs says the situation called for immediate investigation and appointed a committee, headed by Gen. John V. Clinnin of Chicago, to report findings to the public.

CARNERA'S FISTS END M'AULIFFE

Giant Italian Knocks Out Detroiter in First Round of Denver Scrap

DENVER, March 28. (AP)—Primo Carnera's thirteenth knockout victim, Jack McAuliffe of Detroit, fell before the giant Italian after 2 minutes and 18 seconds of fighting in a headline bout that was set for ten rounds here tonight.

PRIMO CARNERA

A short right cross to the chin sent McAuliffe to the canvas for the count. He landed partly outside the ring and made but slight effort to return.

McAuliffe started to carry the fight to the Italian giant, but his efforts were short lived. Carnera easily got in with a short right uppercut and the thirteenth victim rolled over backwards. He took a count of nine before rising.

Another brief skirmish and the fight was over as Carnera crossed to the chin for the knockout.

A crowd of 6500 paid approximately $15,000, not so much to see a fight as for a glimpse at the huge bulk that is Carnera.

Ancient Rivals to Clash at Patterson Field

Howard and Bear Feature Sprint Races

Wendall Smith Due to be High-Point Man

BY BRAVEN DYER

Rivals for more than a quarter of a century, Occidental and Pomona track teams battle it out today on Patterson Field. Despite the fact that Occidental is slightly stronger than the Sagehens the meet should produce plenty of thrills for the unexpected frequently happens when these ancient foes tangle on the cinderpath.

BOB STREHLE

Pomona has lost to Oxy two years running now and had high hopes of turning the tables this season but several things bobbed up to ruin these aspirations, not the least of which was the loss, some months ago, of the McKnight brothers, weight men of considerable repute.

Should most of the breaks favor Bob Strehle's team today the Sagehens can win. But breaks are usually very evenly distributed and this writer looks to see Occidental victorious by a margin of 15 points or more. If Pomona gets 60 points the Sagehens will be doing well.

Grantham's Pair of Homers Helps Pirates Win

Hitting of Blair Features Champions' Attack

BY BOB RAY

For eight and one-half innings it looked as though Joseph Vincent McCarthy's Chicago Cubs were going to win a ball game yesterday at Wrigley Field. A few minutes later, however, the Pittsburgh Pirates had shoved across four runs in their half of the ninth and the Cubs found themselves left on the short end of the score for the second straight afternoon by Jewel Ens's battling Cubs from the Smoky City. The final score was 9 to 8.

GEORGE GRANTHAM

The Pirates pulled the game out of the fire with a sensational Garrison finish that gave 7000 fans a real thrill and assured the Pittsburgh squad of at least an even break in the four-game series that winds up with clashes today and tomorrow at the local ball yard.

George Grantham, Buc second-sacker whom the Cubs traded to Pittsburgh several seasons back, was the batting star of the game, although it was Adam Comorosky's single that drove in the winning run. Grantham crashed out a single, a triple and two home runs for a highly creditable afternoon at the plate. Something must have been wrong with George on his other time at bat, though, for

TOILERS GIVEN TOUGH BATTLE

Clean Sweep in Mile Wrecks Pursell's Chances

Carmichael Wins Quarter from Satterfield

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

With a good chance to defeat Sid Foster's Manual Arts staring them in the face Coach Jim Pursell's Jefferson Democrats couldn't stand the prosperity and blew their chances, losing by a score of 59-45 yesterday afternoon on the Toilers' oval.

SID FOSTER

Still leading at the end of seven events, the Democrats' hopes were high. However, in the next three events, the 220-yard dash, the low hurdles and the mile, Manual scored 25 points, which put the meet on ice right then and there.

Lawry Osburn and Bones Houston placed one-two in the furiong ahead of Toppins and Hassen of Jefferson. Dejan and Hardwick did the same thing in the low hurdles, with Flenney of Jefferson taking third. Lindsey, Butterworth and Takeuchi took all three places in the mile and that ended the Democrats' chances to win.

Jimmy Lawrence, Manual captain and star miler, was switched to the half-mile, winning the event in the good time of 2m. 2 3-5s. Hassen of Jefferson, gave Lawrence a hard race, pulling up at the finish with a bad leg. He recovered enough later to run in the 220-yard dash, however.

The much-talked-of duel between Carmichael and Satterfield, rival colored quarter-millers, went to the Jefferson galloper in 53s. Satterfield was on the outside all the way around and was beaten by five yards at the finish. Carmichael also took high-point honors for the day with 10 3-5 points. He won the century in 10 1-5s. besides running anchor man on the relay team.

Bobby Sexton, Democrat field star, won the pole vault and tied for first in the high jump, besides galloping on the relay team.

Paul Abersold, stocky Bulldog distance man, won his favorite event, the two-mile, but was beaten by Gardner in the four-lap race. GROSSMONT HIGH WINS SOUTHERN PREP TITLE

SAN DIEGO, March 28.—Coach Jack L. Mashin's Grossmont High School Foothillers rolled up 36½ points to win the Southern Prep League's annual track and field championship in a sparkling meet here today. Escondido was second with 23¼ and the rest of the scoring was as follows:

Oceanside, 19; Coronado, 18; Point Loma, 16; Sweetwater (defending champion,) 10; La Jolla, 10; Ramona, 5, and Mountain Empire, 4.

Five new league records were set. They are: Casad (Escondido) half-mile, 2m. 9½s.; Taylor (Coronado) 100-yard dash, 10.1s.; Bridgens (Point Loma) discus, 106ft. 10½in., and broad jump, 20ft. 10 1-4in., and Loose (Oceanside) mile, 4m. 55.9s.

TWO TRACK MEETS LISTED FOR TODAY

Two very good prep meets are scheduled for this afternoon, both of them being out-of-town affairs. The Chaffee invitational which has drawn entries from twenty-five Southern California schools, will see the best marks made, although the San Gabriel Valley League meet at El Monte, is bound to bring forth some very fast times.

The San Gabriel meet has lined up through Charley Keppen of the L.A.A.C., quite a number of the Mercury stars, including Ray Alf and Schultz, sprinters; Herman Brix and De Mers in the field events, and Dick Pomeroy, hurdler. All of them are down on the program for exhibitions.

With the exception of the Class B and C field events, the entire program will be staged in the afternoon, starting at 1 o'clock. The field events for the Bees and Cees will be run off in the morning.

While five of the six schools in the meet have a good chance to win, most of the interest is centered in the sprint duel between Bert Holmes of El Monte and Dave Moore of Citrus. Moore has won the league century title for the past three years, but dropped a decision to Holmes in the preliminaries last Tuesday in a 10s.-flat race.

BRITISH TOURNEYS OPEN TO PROFESSIONALS

PINEHURST (N. C.) March 28. (AP)—Alex Piere of Chicago, president of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, disclosed today that members of the association in the future will be eligible for money tournaments in Great Britain which heretofore have been closed to them.

Perrins, secretary of the Professional Golf Association of Great Britain, which said members of the American association while in the British Isles would be elected temporary members of the British P.G.A. The action will permit American professionals to compete in British tournaments which heretofore have been restricted to professionals in good standing in the British organization.

yard run, and he paved the way for the winning Irish score over the Trojans. Those were the biggest games on the Notre Dame schedule, so no man could do more.

And Lieb gave him his due.

"We called him the 'Rabbit' last fall," said Lieb after he had made Elder, now tutoring at Santa Barbara, stand up and take a bow.

"Every time he was given the ball he went somewhere. He never failed.

"He had the true Notre Dame spirit, the spirit that the old Vincentians have handed down to Loyola and which will be manifest in our football teams next year.

"We aren't winning games on paper, but we'll have a fighting team on the field of play in the fall."

TIGERS AND SAGEHENS

DON'T forget that dual meet between Occidental and Pomona at Patterson Field this afternoon.

It will be a hot struggle from the first race until the relay.

Pomona was barely nosed out by San Diego last Saturday, and the Sagehens want to give the Tigers a similar dose.

On the other hand the Tigers want to emerge on top, and go on to beat San Diego for the conference crown a week hence.

Today's meet is about even-steven in the dope books, so most anything is likely to happen.

HOLMAN AND HERD WIN HAWAIIAN NET MATCHES

HONOLULU (T. H.) March 28. (AP)—Cranston Holman, Pacific Coast singles champion, defeated Atherton Richards, Hawaii, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, in the first round of the mid-Pacific five-day invitational tennis tournament opening here today.

Two doubles between Hawaiian players and six single matches between visitors and locals made up the opening day's play.

Other results:

Ryorsuke Nunoi, Japan, defeated Charles Akana, Hawaii, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

OCCIDENTAL TO MEET POMONA

ard, sprinter, and Ernie Jensen, pole vaulter. Both are suffering from colds.

Harvey Bear of Pomona should give Howard plenty of competition in the dashes, while Ingram of the Sagehens may be able to extend Oxy's star vaulter, who has a mark of 13ft. 3in. to his credit this year.

Capt. Appleton and Johnny Walker are favored to finish one-two in the 440 for the Tigers. Henry Cobb, Pomona's best bet in this race, returned only Thursday from New York and is not in shape.

The half-mile looks like anybody's event with Nord and Bailey of Occidental pitted against Morrison and Stromsen of Pomona. Oxy has a slight edge here in that her two men will be fresh while the Sagehen runners will probably have competed in the mile prior to the 880. In addition, if things go bad, Pipal can shoot either Appleton or Walker in this race and win it.

As for the mile, Rud Crawford is favored over Morrison, Pomona's best bet. In the two-mile, Cunliffe of the Sagehens is likely to win over McKee, although if Pipal also runs Crawford in this race Rud may cop.

The hurdles look like two firsts for Wendall Smith. Webb, Hall and Love, other Tigers, will fight it out with Hunt, De Silva and Kupfer of the Sagehens for second and third-place points. If Hunt should have a particularly hot day he might win the lows from Smith, but the all-around Oxy athlete is a heavy favorite in the tall barriers.

Bishop and Carrey are about a stand-off in the javelin, while Witherspoon of the Sagehens should take third. The hammer should go to Ed Dew, while Hitchcock may take second for Pomona. Third place is wide open, although Smith, if at his best, can take it.

Hall and Bishop are slated to wind up a three-year duel in the high jump, with Love of the Tigers and King of Pomona likely to tie for third.

Pomona has the edge in the broad jump with King, Inman and Shannon all capable of 22ft. but unable to hit that mark yet this year. Hall may edge in for the Tigers.

Pipal's relay team of Appleton, Walker, Fairbanks and either Howard or Bailey will run circles around the Sagehens unless Strehle throws in Bear and Petty, two of his sprinters.

Results of the Southern California-Trojan meet with the California Bears at Berkeley will be announced this afternoon as soon as the performances can be flashed over the wires.

STEPHENS TO MEET ALVARADO TONIGHT

Jack (Red) Stephens and Jimmy Alvarado, 128-pounders who carry knockout drops in either hand, will stage an Irish-Mexican battle tonight at the Main Street Athletic Club that is expected to draw fight fans from far and near. Stephens, who has been traveling through the Mexican featherweight division like a prairie fire through Kansas, has knocked out Joe Pimenthal, Bobby Flores, Art Molina and several others. A month ago he stopped Johnny Terres in two rounds only to lose the bout on a technical foul.

OXY FACES DENTISTS

YOUTHFUL PRO ANNEXES OPEN

Armour, Detroit, and Billy Burke of Greenwich, Ct., Were tied for third with cards of 294. Burke climbed into the preferred camp by matching Walsh's 69 on the last round. Turnesa was conceded a good chance of heading the field until he blew up on the last few holes.

Tony Manero, who won the Catalina Island title, was alone at 295 in sixth place, while C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont., was low scorer among the half dozen amateurs entered with 296. He had distinguished professional company at this figure in Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del.

Horton Smith, the defending champion, was six strokes from the leader with 297.

A half-dozen noted professionals were bracketed with cards of 298. This group included the former open champion, Johnny Farrell, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Bobby Cruickshank of Purchase, N. Y.; Harry Cooper, unattached; Cyril Walker, Paramus, N. J.; John Golden of Paterson, N. J., and James Hines, Hempstead, L. I.

Denny Shute, Columbus (O.) sensation, could not get his shots to working smoothly and finished just inside the money along with Whiffy Cox of Brooklyn with 299. After leading the field at the three-quarter mark, Cox went haywire on the last round.

Paul Runyan, Bloomfield, N. J.—72, 77, 72, 70—291, $1500.
Billy Burke, Greenwich, Ct.—78, 73, 72, 69—294, $600.

Tommy Armour, Detroit—74, 73, 73, 72—294, $600.
Tony Manero, unattached—74, 77, 72, 72—295, $300.

Whiffy Cox, Brooklyn, N. Y.—75, 74, 71, 79—299, $25.

cause of his brilliant showing of 14.9s. last Saturday and the reported poor running of Welsh, suffering from a bad leg. In the low hurdles, the best race of the day should result. Ernie Payne and Carls of the Trojans are just about on a par with the long-legged Pogolotti, who is given the first for no good reason.

Fred De Berry, coming to the fore as a Bear weight man, faces another comer in gigantic Bob Hall of Troy. De Barry might be given the slight edge over Hall in the discus only because of Hall's slump from his usual better than 140ft. throws. De Berry had a put of 45ft. 2½in. last week, but he should have trouble in beating either Hall or Kline of the Trojans.

Both Emory Curtice and Kenny Churchill with their better than 195ft. throws of the past two weeks, are favored to make Jess Mortenson, national champion and suffering with a bad shoulder, take a third place.

Bob Van Osdel and Norcross look capable of making it one-two for U.S.C. in the high jump with Jacklevitch and Bingaman of the Bears lucky to nab a third place. Hubbard and Livingston should garner 8 points away from Koblick and Scrivner of California in the pole vault.

GILLETTE WINS OVER BURRIER AT COMPTON

Young Hawaii Boxers Enter A.A.U. Meet

Three youthful ring champions of Hawaii arrived at the port yesterday aboard the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles, bound for Boston to compete in the national A. A.U. championships, opening in Mechanics' Hall on April 7.

They are August Miller, amateur featherweight champion; Bill Prick, who holds the islands' lightweight title, and Freddy Buck, the Chinese lad who has just won the flyweight championship at Honolulu. Accompanying them is Eddie Hoch, secretary of the Hawaiian Boxing Commission.

CUBS LOSE TO PIRATES AGAIN

HOMERS WITH ONE ON

Grantham's homers both came with a man on base, and pulled the Pirates into shooting distance of the Cubs, who had gained an 8-to-3 lead by the time their half of the seventh was ended.

Both sides used two pitchers, Hal Carlson and Guy Bush doing the dispensing for the Cubs, with Larry French and Andy Bedmar, the latter a youngster from the Nebraska State League, bending 'em over for Pittsburgh. Bush was walloped for six runs in the two rounds he worked but it was errors by Hornsby and Beck that accounted for the Cub right-hander's downfall.

The Cubs played ragged ball and cut loose with four miscues during the encounter, three of them figuring in the Pittsburgh scoring.

Clarence (Foots) Blair, who seems destined to beat Lester Bell out of the regular third-sacking job, again fielded spectacularly as well as walloped the ball hard and often. Blair got three doubles and a single in five times at bat yesterday. He also got three hits in Thursday's game, so that gives him seven safeties in two days against Pittsburgh pitching.

Inasmuch as the Pirates' ninth-inning rally settled the ball game, the details of that eventful round shall be promptly chronicled. Jim Mosolf, former Angel rookie, batted for Bedmar to begin the ninth and doubled to left. Bush leaped high to stab Brickell's bounder and heaved to Blair to get Mosolf at third. Grantham clouted his second homer over the right-field screen at this juncture and the Bucs were only one run behind. When Hornsby booted Waner's grounder and Clark singled to send Paul to third, things looked worse than bad for the Cub cause. Suhr hit a terrific line drive that Beck leaped and caught. With an easy double play in front of him, Beck heaved the ball low and past Grimm, Waner scoring the tying run and Clark rambling to third. Comorosky punched Bush's next pitch to right for a single and Clark came home with the ball game.

CUBS SCORE IN FIRST

The Cubs, who batted first, scored a run in the opening round when Grimm was safe on Bartell's error and tallied on successive singles by Wilson and Cuyler after two were out.

Pittsburgh tied it up in the fourth. After Waner singled, Clark hit one back at Carlson, whose throw to Hornsby was bad and went to center field, Waner reaching third and Clark second on the error. Suhr's sacrifice fly to Cuyler scored Waner, who won a race to the plate with Kiki's long throw.

Hartnett's double and Grimm's single in the fifth gave the Cubs another run off French and put them temporarily in front again. The Bucs, however, wiped out that lead in their half when French singled, Grantham tripled and Waner slashed a hit that Blair prevented from being a double by making a wonderful knockdown stop.

French weakened in the sixth and two walks, singles by Cuyler and Blair and Beck's double were combined for three more Chicago counters.

Bedmar took the mound for the Bucs in the seventh and walks to Cuyler and Stephenson, Blair's double and Beck's single gave the Cubs another trio of tallies.

GRANTHAM HOMES

Brickell's single and Grantham's circuit clout over the right-field wall produced two more Pittsburgh runs in the seventh to make the score 8-5, and bring the situation up to the ninth, which has already been described.

Ray Kremer for Pittsburgh and Pat Malone for Chicago will be today's starting pitchers. Score:

Patison's Fourteenth

MEXICO TOUR

If you are a member of Patison's Fourteenth Mexican Tour—

You will see the Pyramid of Cuicuilco, the oldest man-made structure on earth; estimated age, more than 11,000 years.

You will see the Pyramid of Tenayuca, where work of excavation is now being terminated; the heads of three hundred and sixty huge stone serpents guard the base of this archeological wonder.

You will see the great Pyramid of the Sun, covering an area of about thirteen acres and as high as a twenty-story building.

You will see the Pyramid of Cholula, larger even than the Pyramid of the Sun, but with the surface dirt not yet removed.

You will see the ruins of ancient cities of unknown origin.

You will explore the underground dwellings of a prehistoric race.

You will visit the Excavations of Copilco; here, in passages extending beneath an ancient lava flow, you will see intensely interesting remains of a race that existed long before the Christian era.

You will visit the museum of antiquities in the archeological zone of Teotihuacan.

You will visit Teoponzalco, a massive fortress recently brought to light from beneath the drifting dust of countless centuries.

You will see the ancient aqueduct of Los Remedios, and the nearby "Tower of Babel."

You will explore the great Caverns of Cacahuamilpa, an amazing labyrinth of caves many miles in extent—a worthy rival of the world-famous Carlsbad Caves.

You will get a close-up view of Popocatepetl, king of volcanoes, four times as high as Vesuvius; frequently great volumes of smoke are to be seen billowing skyward from its lofty crater.

You will see other awe-inspiring volcanic peaks, notably Ixtaccihuatl and Citlaltepetl, both crowned with mantles of everlasting snow; the latter peak, more than 18,000 feet high, is easily visible a hundred miles distant.

You will take the scenic trip to the Desert of the Lions.

You will go by automobile to the summit of a mountain range 10,000 feet in height, thence far down the opposite side to the charming tropical city of Cuernavaca, capital of Morelos.

You will visit Puebla, capital of the state of Puebla, one of the most entrancing of all the cities of Mexico.

You will visit Xochimilco and take a boat ride among its famous floating gardens.

You will visit the historical old city of Cholula and its Temple of a Hundred Domes.

You will visit the beautiful city of Guadalajara, known as the "Pearl of the Occident"; capital of the state of Jalisco.

You will see the Falls of Juanacatlan.

You will take a boat ride of two or three hours along the shores of Lake Chapala, Mexico's beautiful inland sea.

You will go to Toluca, capital of the state of Mexico; on this newly paved highway you will meet scores of picturesquely clad Indians engaged in their weary walk of fifty miles to the markets of Mexico City, carrying upon their backs burdens of every description.

You will visit the Convent of Churubusco, site of a sanguinary battle between American and Mexican forces.

You will be taken on trips requiring the use of automobiles for a total of more than eighty hours.

You will be taken to many points of outstanding interest never visited by any other Mexico tour party.

You will enjoy a delightful cruise of 2300 miles along the West Coast of Mexico, with brief stops at picturesque ports.

You will be with a party that never uses sightseeing buses.

You will have a room with private bath in one of Mexico City's best hotels.

You will see the thrilling jai-alai games, the most exciting of all sports; here frenzied gambling runs riot.

You will witness the spectacular tragedy of the bull ring.

You will attend typical Mexican shows.

You will enjoy ideal weather during the ten days that headquarters are maintained in Mexico City; the average temperature will not exceed 65 degrees.

You will learn why so many former members are repeating this trip time after time.

You will learn why former members who have visited Europe declare the Mexico trip to be far more interesting in many respects.

You will find out for yourself why Mexico has so often been styled "the Egypt of the Americas" and "the Wonderland of the World."

Earnings for 1929 Reach Total of $2,904,103

Gain of 12 Per Cent Shown Over Previous Year

Balance for Common Stock Rises 20 Per Cent

Consolidated net earnings of the Great Western Power Company of California and subsidiaries for the year closed December 31, last, reached a total of $2,904,103 after all charges, including depreciation and taxes and other reserves, equivalent to more than twice the dividend requirements of approximately $1,420,000 on the preferred stock issues outstanding in the hands of the public, according to the annual report issued yesterday by the company.

GAIN REVEALED

These earnings compare with $2,601,215 reported earned after all charges in 1928 and represent an increase of $302,888, or approximately 12 per cent.

After payment of preferred stock dividend there remained a balance available for the common stock of $1,488,722, which compares with a balance of $1,231,401 in 1928, an increase of $255,321 or more than 20 per cent. All of the common stock is owned by Western Power Corporation, which in turn is controlled by North American Company.

GROSS HIGHER

Gross operating revenues of the organization aggregated $10,212,745, as against $9,459,973 in 1928, an increase of $752,772, or nearly 8 per cent. In addition to the increase in gross business, operating expenses, including maintenance and taxes, were reduced $62,727 from a total of $2,976,123 in 1928 to $2,913,396 for the year 1929.

This left a balance as net operating income of $7,299,349, which compares with a net operating income in 1928 of $6,483,850 and represents an increase of $815,499 or more than 12 per cent.

Miscellaneous income at $10,062 was approximately $22,000 lower than in the preceding year and the write-off for depreciation of $830,820 was more than $60,000 higher than in 1928.

Great Western Power Company of California operates in sixteen central counties of California and in addition to owning two hydroelectric generating stations in Plumas and Butte counties it has several stations in San Francisco and Oakland for generating steam power, the total generating capacity amounting to 225,000 horsepower. It is affiliated with the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation and has a thirty-five-year purchase contract for the entire plant of the Feather River Power Company with 40,000 kilowatt capacity.

STATUS OF WOOL MART UNSETTLED

Uncertainty Over Farm Board Plan and Tariff Outcome Disturb

BOSTON, March 28. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

The wool market is very unsettled. Uncertainty concerning the farm board wool plan of operations, the eventual outcome of the tariff and the slow piece goods market, give little basis for confidence in operations in wool, despite the admittedly low prices. Current sales are few and small.

Foreign markets are steadier, although Bradford is marking time, evidently anticipating a strike in consequence of the proposed wages reductions to be effective April 12.

In the West, the wool movement is small, at the moment, with shearing gradually becoming more general.

Mohair continues slow and rather in favor of the buyer.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to March 27, 1930, inclusive, were 36,111,000 pounds against 46,697,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to March 27, 1930, inclusive, were 46,818,900 pounds against 56,231,200 pounds for the same period last year.

APPALACHIAN GAS TO EXTEND OPERATIONS

PITTSBURGH, March 28. (Exclusive)—Appalachian Gas Corporation, recently formed to consolidate the natural gas properties of Columbia Gas and Electric in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, today announced plans for the extension of its operations into the southwestern natural gas fields. Negotiations have been almost completed, it was said, for the Appalachian Corporation, to acquire an important natural gas distributing system in Texas, which is to be the nucleus of the expansion program. Official announcement with full details is expected shortly.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—The cotton market was less active today, with near months relatively easy under scattered selling, which was attributed to realizing or transferring of small long accounts to later deliveries. Part of the near-month selling was accompanied by buying of new crop positions, and there may have been some buying of the later months on reports that recent weather conditions had been somewhat less favorable for farm work.

The midafternoon market was quiet but steadier with prices net 1 to 10 points higher.

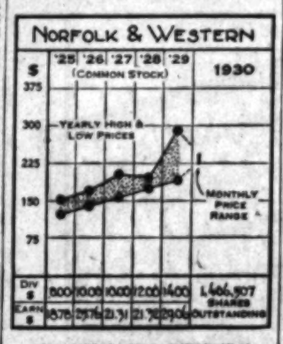
MONEY DOMINATES STOCKS

Rise of New Bull Market May Prompt Reversal of Reserve Board's Policies

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Contrary to Federal Reserve opinion and agreeably in accordance with the ideas of speculators, the new cheap money policy presumably fostered by the reserve banks has stimulated a healthy young bull market. It seems the public has forgotten the 1929 disaster and is right back chasing profits encouraged by the professional speculators who again are able to operate pools on borrowed money.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



NORFOLK AND WESTERN

The Norfolk and Western Railroad Company operates 2242 miles of road, the main line running from Norfolk, Va., to the bituminous coal fields of Western Virginia and Southern West Virginia, from this point running northerly into Ohio, with lines to Columbus and Cincinnati. Other branches run from Roanoke through the Shenandoah Valley, connecting with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Hagerstown, Md. At Norfolk connection is made with numerous steamship routes, both coastwise and foreign. Through an almost wholly owned subsidiary, coal lands totaling more than 300,000 acres are owned, income being derived from royalties.

Net income for 1929 amounted to $41,786,461, or $29.06 per share on the common stock, compared with $30,727,043, or $21.25 for 1928. In spite of generally lower carloadings in other parts of the country, increased activity in the coal industry enabled the company to show a net of $3,541,555 in December, 1929, against $3,284,636 in December, 1928.

MERGER OF AERO NEARS COMPLETION

Western Air Directors Vote Approval of Deal With Aero Corporation

Directors of the Western Air Express Corporation at a meeting yesterday voted final approval of the proposal to merge with the Aero Corporation of California through the exchange of stock on the basis of one share of Western Air Express for twelve shares of Aero Corporation. Ninety per cent of the Aero common stock has already been deposited with the Security-First National Bank, and the Western Air Express board set April 15, next, as the final date for deposit of the outstanding Aero shares.

The regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents a share on the Western Air Express stock was declared payable May 1 to stock of record April 15. All Aero stockholders who deposit their stock by April 15 will receive this dividend.

Details of the physical merger of the two companies will be worked out by April 15 but present plans call for continuing the Aero Corporation as a subsidiary to handle its sale and service franchises and its flying school, while the transportation lines will be transferred to the Western Air Express, chief of which is the 793-mile route between Los Angeles and El Paso, which is being operated on a daily seven and a half hour schedule.

While no action has been taken as yet in regard to the outstanding preferred stock of Aero Corporation, it is expected that following the completion of the merger it will be redeemed. Of this stock 6997 shares of 7 per cent cumulative $50 par stock have been issued. The stock is callable on thirty days' notice at $55 a share. Regular dividends have been paid on the preferred shares.

Western Air Express officials received information yesterday that the two Fokker thirty-two passenger ships to be placed in service on the San Francisco line left New York yesterday. Due to stops en route to permit a display of the ships, which are the largest of their kind in the world, they will not arrive here until April 6. A marked improvement in the volume of passenger traffic on the company's lines has been experienced in the past two weeks and with more favorable weather in prospect further gains are anticipated, officials stated.

AMBITIOUS RAIL DREAM OLD

Van Sweringen Entry Into Missouri Pacific Revives Memory of Hill, Harriman and Gould

BY JOHN P. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, March 28.—Many railroad builders in the past, among them Hill, Harriman and Gould, did dream of a transcontinental line reaching from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Not one realized his ambition!

Have the reticent but resourceful Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland such a system in mind? Do they propose the creation of such a system through St. Louis by linking their key trunk line, the Chesapeake & Ohio in the East with the Missouri Pacific in the West, in which they have recently acquired a substantial interest?

Probably not—for several reasons. The major reason is that should any such plan be contemplated, other great eastern trunk railroads would quit giving traffic to the Chesapeake and Ohio in the East, to better protect their own interests. A checkmating scheme!

The next few years may see the evolution of a few Atlantic to Pacific transcontinental systems. It is logical because it's more efficient and economical, at least on paper. Should the Van Sweringens evolve sometime in the future an "Atlantic to the Pacific" system—they would have the honor of being the railroad pioneers who established, under strong handicap, the first national railroad system.

Canada's mineral output for 1929 reached the new record total of $307,149,494—more than $1,000,000 of mineral wealth for every working day.

Over the figures of 1928, Ontario gained a total of $7,000,000; Quebec, $8,350,000; British Columbia, $3,000,000, and Alberta, more than $2,000,000.

Ontario, the most developed in mineral activity, leads with a total output of $116,526,000, largely gold, nickel and copper. In this Province gold is in first place and nickel is second, while copper, in third place, increased its output during the year from $5,808,000 in 1928 to $14,612,000 last year.

Quebec, next to Ontario, mined $45,389,000 of metals, with copper mined rising in value from $4,909,000 in 1928 to $10,019,000 last year.

Manitoba, considered for long only a wheat-growing prairie Province, is developing important copper and zinc properties, as well as cement.

Canada's mineral production for 1930 is expected to make just as good a showing.

Irregular Tone Noted in Trade Survey of Week

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

"The week which has practically closed the first quarter of the year has been marked by a better business tone in certain respects, yet without any broad stimulation of activity. Response to the changes in seasons lacks a full development and has been retarded lately by a blizzard in the Central West, and low temperatures in some other sections, but the tenor of different advices is becoming more cheerful as spring progresses. Actual gains in trade, although not widespread or emphatic, are now rather more plainly visible, with textiles, hides and allied products, and some of the metals participating in varying degree in the improvement. The unsatisfactory aspects of the three months' period now ending, the slowness and irregularity of the recovery, and the conflicting reports of trends have not obscured the underlying factors pointing to ultimate revival, yet a rapid advance is scarcely to be expected after severe economic disorganization. Readjustments which continued uncompleted naturally impede the process of recuperation, but some of the more recent movements have indicated that a stronger basis for subsequent betterment is being gradually attained.

Weekly bank clearings $11,339,732,000, a decrease of 18.7 per cent from a year ago.

NEW YORK, March 28. Wholesale speculation was resumed in the stock market today with a rush and was featured by a sharp rally in Utility, rail, amusement and specialty issues were moved up points to 4 points, with a total turnover of 1600 to 1650 shares. Utility price indices generally moved to new high levels for the year, the aggregated 5,000,000 shares, largest day's business since November, exceeding Wednesday's big turnover.

The vigorous outburst closely resembled the sensational rampage that burst forth in the late trading when the movement was hailed by professional followers as a signal against the upward trend of the small order and odd lot shares. The sudden breathing spell. The market was taken in hand for the first several weeks, and moved to new high levels for the year, prices index of stocks gaining 2 1-15 points.

Drought News Spurs Buying in Wheat Pit

CHICAGO, March 28. (AP)—Drought southwest brought about soaring prices today for wheat. Complaints of excessively dry weather came from Kansas and Oklahoma, with reports current that unless general soaking rains were received farmers were in for a big disappointment as to yields from the 1930 harvest of domestic hard winter wheat. There were also advices that damage to soft winter wheat was showing up in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Closing quotations on wheat were strong at the day's top, 1¼@2¼c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼@1¼c up, oats unchanged to the advance, and provisions unchanged to 5c down on hogs.

Better buying by millers at Liverpool was announced, and there were indications that some export business in hard winter wheat had been done. Cables emphasized that European stocks of wheat were decreasing, and that apparently Argentina had little surplus wheat to ship.

Corn and oats followed the leadership of wheat, notwithstanding reported purchases of corn to come here from other terminal markets.

Despite downturns in hog values, provisions were somewhat firmer on account of scattered buying.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Bulk of the light receipts were in-between grades of cows with a few scattered lots of steers and heifers included. Trade was rather draggy but practically everything was sold before noon with little change in prices.
Top cold head of light steers brought 10.50@11.50. Bulk of load of 1251-pound holdover intermountains at 10.75.
Odd head of heifers made 9.00@10.00 with spots down to 8.50, a few medium to good cows agreed 8.75@9.50, with bulk of quality to sell at 7.00@8.50. Low cutters and cutters were mostly 4.00@6.75, with very thin cows down to 3.25. Odd head of bulls turned at 7.00@8.00.

CALVES—Calves and vealers sold about steady with bids or two head of outstanding quality vealers at 16.50@16.75, others at 14.00@13.50, including a load of 287-pound Californias at the latter figure. Top grades sold down to 9.00 with culls to 8.50.

HOGS—A slow and fully 25c lower deal cleaned the pens. Demand continues very poor with killers making strong efforts to move the dressed product and are unable them to take on more live animals which at present level will cheapen costs considerably. Late Thursday two loads of 199 to 203-pound Nebraska butchers with freight benefit were washed at 11.40@11.50, and on yesterday's market stands at 11.25, paid for a load of 194-pound Utah butchers. Two loads of 164 to 166-pound Nebraskas made 11.50 and 11.10, with a load of 200-pound holdover Nebraskas at 10.75 and a common load of 182-pound holdovers at 10.25. Odd packing sows made 9.00@9.25.

SHEEP—Nothing was offered and quotations are nominally unchanged.

STOCK INCREASE RATIFIED

NEW YORK, March 28. (Exclusive)—Container Corporation of America stockholders approved today the proposal to increase the authorized Class A stock from 600,000 to 2,000,000 shares. Directors were re-elected.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 28. (AP)—Bond trading had a tendency to mark time today on the expectation that money rates would again ease with the turn of the month next week. Liquidation of issues that had been heavily bought during the recent rise brought out declines in numerous rails, but buying orders elsewhere tended to even the declines and advances and the list was generally firm.
The convertibles furnished the broadest moves. American Telephone 4½s soared 6¾ points, closing at 117½. Warner Brothers Pictures 6s, heavily traded, touched 113, a new top, and closed 1¾ higher at 113¾. Baltimore and Ohio 4½s rose about ½ point. The volume in these three issues accounted for about $3,600,000 out of the day's total of $14,788,000.
Call money remained at 4 per cent, the renewal rate. United States government Liberties and Treasuries firmed on light dealings.
Rails affected by moderate selling included Nickel Plate 5½s, Union Pacific 4s and 4½s, and Reading general 4½s. Santa Fe General 4s, Rock Island 4s, and Southern Pacific 4½s held small gains.
Both issues of American Telephone debenture 5s averaged about ¼ lower. Industrials were steady. Goodyear Tire 5s and Sinclair Pipe Line 5s showed an upward trend.
The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high and low for the session. In order to expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

STEPHENSON LOSES PLEA FOR PAROLE

Former Klan Dragon Had Asked Ninety-Day Release to Obtain New Evidence

MICHIGAN CITY (Ind.) March 28. (AP)—The pardon board of the Indiana State prison today denied the petition of D. C. Stephenson, life-term prisoner, for a ninety-day temporary parole.

Stephenson, convicted of the murder of an Indianapolis girl in 1925, requested the parole so he might go to California to obtain evidence he said will prove he did not commit the crime.

In denying the plea of the former Grand Dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, the board expressed the opinion "that the attempt at this time to assail the character of a woman who is not in position to speak in her defense as an indefensible and unwarranted attack without a single fact worthy of consideration to sustain it."

In asking for the parole, Stephenson's attorney presented an affidavit signed by Dr. Mabel C. Fualds, a former Gary physician, in which she intimated that Miss Madge Oberholtzer, the girl, had submitted to an illegal operation and died as a result.

SHE'LL TRAIL SISTER OVER PATH TO ALTAR

Irene Mayer

CUPID DART HITS MAYER HOME AGAIN

Engagement of Youngest Daughter to Executive in Film Company Announced

With one of their daughters now on a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Mayer yesterday announced the betrothal of their youngest daughter, Irene, to David O. Selznick, motion - picture executive. Her sister Edith, who a week ago became the bride of William Goetz, also an executive in film production, now is on her honeymoon in Honolulu.

DAVID O. SELZNICK

The engagement is the culmination of a romance which began several years ago when Miss Mayer met Selznick in Hollywood. Miss Mayer is 22 years of age. Her father is vice-president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures.

Selznick is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Selznick. His father is executive assistant general manager at the Paramount-Famous-Lasky studios. Selznick is 27.

The couple said yesterday that no date has been set for the wedding but it is understood the ceremony will take place in the near future.

STAFF SET FOR START OF CENSUS

County Director Says All Preliminary Work Practically Complete

Preparations are practically complete for the opening of the census next Wednesday, it was announced yesterday from headquarters of the census districts in Los Angeles county.

For the central district, covering the bulk of the city, Supervisor Munson stated that his organization is completed except for a few details. Almost all the enumerators have been named, eleventh-hour instructions were being given and the army of counters was ready to take the field.

In order to facilitate the checking of the census to be done by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, A. H. Hunt of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association was loaned to the chamber yesterday. He will co-operate with Clarence Kinkead, census supervisor, whose district takes in most of Hollywood. Supervisors yesterday reiterated their announcement that those who will not be at home during April may secure absentee census blanks to be filled out and returned to headquarters.

RESIGNATION OF TRAEGER DISCUSSED

Supervisors Have Received No Formal Notice, But Rumor Persists

Despite rumors afloat in the Hall of Justice that Sheriff Traeger, now on sick-leave at a mountain resort, is about to resign because of ill health, the Board of Supervisors yesterday had received no formal notice of the rumored resignation, according to Supervisor Graves.

Should the board receive such resignation, Graves said, there is no alternative other than acceptance for it is felt that if Sheriff Traeger's health is so affected it would be unwise to refuse a resignation and prevail on a sick man to continue with the Sheriff's duties.

Asked if there had been any suggestions as to a successor in the event Sheriff Traeger's resignation suddenly manifests, Graves said he has heard that the names of former Undersheriff Eugene Biscailuz and present Undersheriff Harry Wright

Official knowledge of any movement concerning the Sheriff other than a resignation was disclaimed last night by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Frederic I. Morris, foreman of the grand jury.

Sheriff Traeger was unavailable for a statement. He was recently removed from the California Hospital, where he partially recovered from a severe heart attack, bronchitis and symptoms of dropsy and taken to the mountain ranch home of a friend. He has declined to receive interviewers since he was stricken nearly three weeks ago.

NUMBER OF PROJECTS TAKEN UP

Council Delays Action on Some and Kills Others of Improvement Plans

A number of reports of the Special Allocations Committee on the expenditure of public funds for improvements were acted on yesterday by the City Council.

The matter of allocating $400,000 toward a new roadway in Cahuenga Pass was filed, to be brought up again when the appropriation is to be made, while the same action was taken in respect to an appropriation of $750,000 toward the widening of Pico Boulevard between Alvarado street and Crenshaw Boulevard.

The report of the Street Opening and Widening Committee, asking for the acquisition of property for the extension of Avenue 19 across the Arroyo Seco and under the Dayton-avenue bridge, was referred to the Public Works Committee.

Councilman Holland's request for $5000 for the improvement of Lincoln Way from Armadale avenue to Eagle Rock Boulevard was killed, while the statement that it is against public policy to allocate city funds for local projects, while Councilman Holland's plea for $20,000 for the opening and widening of Eagle Rock Boulevard also was dropped.

Gasoline Price War Unchanged

The gasoline price situation here brought about more than a week ago by a so-called gas war is "just drifting along" with no immediate change predicted, it was stated last night by officials of major oil companies and distributing station chains.

Despite forecasts by those in touch with conditions that present prices cannot endure, retailers of standard brands of fuel continued pump quotations of 16½ cents, 1 cent above tank-wagon price, while venders of independent brands sold at prices down to 12 cents a gallon.

Special prices, such as seven gallons for $1, and offers of free crankcase oil changes with full gas-tank purchases were posted in many cases.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessment for the improvement of Crescent avenue from Beacon to Twenty-first street and denied protests against the installation of lighting appliances in Gower street from Franklin to Melrose avenues and in Fairfax avenue from Beverly to Wilshire boulevards.

APPROVAL GIVEN TO POWER PLAN

Directors of Metropolitan District Back Contract

Then They Will be Sent to Secretary of Interior

Approval of an outline of the proposed contract with the United States for Boulder Dam power was voted by the directors of the Metropolitan Water District yesterday, paving the way for the drawing up of the formal documents for submission to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

As presented by Franklin Thomas, director from Pasadena, the contract covers the points set forth in the preliminary agreement reached by the several interested groups recently, and in addition takes care of the necessary legal details.

One of the facts developed in the outline is that the Metropolitan District will have all of the power that may be generated on the Colorado River aqueduct as the water, after being pumped over the ridge, flows on its way to Southern California communities. The maximum power development from this source is estimated at about 130,000 horsepower on the Black Canyon route, down to nothing on the Picacho route of the aqueduct. The exact route has not yet been selected.

The district will use this power to exchange with the city of Los Angeles for power the city, as one of the lessees of the power plant, will sell to the district at the river to be used in pumping the water over the hump. It will not be used by the district for resale purposes in the commercial field.

The proposed contract forms have yet to be approved by the city and by the Southern California Edison Company, and other municipalities which wish the power.

As soon as the contracts are signed by the local groups they will be sent to Secretary Wilbur by Northcutt Ely, his executive assistant, who has been here conducting the negotiations.

ALLOCATION PLAN FOR SOUTHLAND TOWNS LAID

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, March 28.—Allocation of Boulder Dam power on the basis of last year's consumption plus 21 per cent of that amount, is the plan agreed upon here today by representatives of eleven Southern California cities to distribute a total of 228,000,000 kilowatts allotted to them. This will bring the smaller municipalities within the 6 per cent allotted to them from Boulder Dam power.

Newspaper reporters were barred from the conference in the City Hall at the request of Northcutt Ely, executive assistant to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. "The delegates will be inclined to talk more freely concerning their power needs if not confronted by reporters who might publish a schedule of allocations which would not be final until a second meeting is held Monday in Los Angeles," Ely asserted.

At the conclusion of the conference, delegates declared they wish it made plain they are not seeking to obtain any of the power allotted to Los Angeles, and are concerned at the present time only with arriving at a fair method of dividing the amount allotted to the eleven smaller municipalities.

The total power granted the smaller cities amounts to 35,000 firm horsepower, or 228,000,000 kilowatts. The total consumption of the smaller cities last year was 188,000,000 kilowatts. By computing that the per cent difference between the amount of power available and the amount consumed is 21 per cent, the delegates arrived at their plan of distribution.

Benjamin F. DeLanty, superintendent of the municipal light department, presided at the meeting.

MOTHER VIEWS KIDNAPING

Hollywood Parent Sees Her Two Small Girls Made Captives and Whisked Away in Auto

In full view of their mother who stood watching them through a window, two little girls early last evening were kidnaped and whisked away in an automobile while playing in front of their home at 5104 Romaine street, Hollywood.

The captives are Betty Jane and Frances Ada Gregory, 6 and 4 years of age, respectively, daughters of Mrs. Orvetta Gregory.

Police say Mrs. Gregory expressed the belief the abduction had been engineered by her estranged husband, who she understands is living in Longnot, Colo. She told officers the court recently granted her the custody of the children in an action for separation from Gregory.

The kidnaping took place shortly after 6 p.m. while the children were enjoying a final romp on the lawn before returning to the house for supper. Mrs. Gregory was observing their fun when a Chevrolet coupe stopped at the curb. Two hatless men leaped from the car, threw coats over the heads of the children, carried them to the machine and sped away south on Kingsley Drive. Both men were Americans, about 26 years of age, well dressed, and wore dark glasses, Mrs. Gregory told police.

Supplied with the license number of the kidnaping car, obtained by Mrs. Gregory, Detective Lieutenants Greeton and Speck of Hollywood division, expected last night to make early arrests. They said, however, they believe the case may result only in a civil suit for recovery of the children.

Junior Chamber to Make Survey of Glider Sites

The first step of the glider committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to foster motorless flying will be made today when a survey of possible sites will be made from the Goodyear blimp, according to Clifford Rawson, secretary-manager of the Junior Chamber.

Tomorrow the junior body will assist the National Aeronautical Association in conducting the first of a series of motorless flying contests.

The events tomorrow include primary and secondary gliders and sailplanes in duration and distance flights. The meet will be held one mile south of Redondo. Approximately ten gliders and sailplanes are entered.

FIRST BIDS ON VIADUCT AUTHORIZED

Council Orders Action on New Sixth-Street Bridge, Costing $2,500,000

The Board of Public Works was authorized by the City Council yesterday to call for bids for preliminary work on the Sixth-street viaduct, the most expensive bridge over the river and railroad tracks. The cost is estimated at $2,500,000. The cost will be shared as follows: City, 37 1-2 per cent; county, 37 1-2 per cent; Union Pacific, 12 1-2 per cent, and Santa Fe, 12 1-2 per cent. The city's share is to come from the bridge bond issue.

An additional $85,000 was allocated by the Council yesterday toward the Figueroa tunnels through Elysian Park, and the Board of Public Works authorized to award the contract, bids already having been received. The low bid is $652,000. The city already has allocated $605,000 toward this improvement.

The Council also asked the Board of Supervisors to make available funds due the city for purchase, under eminent-domain proceedings, of a number of properties necessary for the extension of Spring street from its present terminus at Temple street to Sunset Boulevard.

DANCE HALLS UNDER FIRE

S. M. Hollander, representing the guests of the Angelus Hotel, yesterday asked the City Council to abate the nuisance of a number of dance halls in the vicinity. The Council referred the matter to the Police Commission, which is struggling with the taxi dance-hall proposition.

DEGREES GIVEN AT CEREMONIES

Brilliant Scenes Enacted on U.C.L.A. Campus

Great Institution Accepted in Name of State

Educational Leaders Assist at Dedicatory Event

The new University of California at Los Angeles, set in a commanding position on the Westwood hills on the western outskirts of the city, yesterday was dedicated formally to the higher education of youth and presented to the State of California in an address delivered by Ernest C. Moore, director of the university. Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan officially accepted the presentation in behalf of Gov. Young and the State.

The dedication ceremonies yesterday climaxed a brilliant two-day program marking the formal opening of the institution. Following the dedication ceremonies, honorary degrees of doctor of laws were presented to four of the visiting delegates from other universities.

Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, in accepting the presentation of the new university to the State from William H. Crocker, chairman of the Board of Regents of the university, declared that education and schools always have been one of the special concerns of California.

"The schools of California," Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan said, "have been a great magnet drawing a large number of people to us, and it is because of these people who have come here seeking higher education that this institution has come into being."

STRUCTURES PRAISED

Dr. George E. Vincent, former president of the Rockefeller Foundation, in an address declared that with the opening of the new university, the principle of State-wide unity in education is preserved with a special provision for the needs of the populous southern portion of the State. He praised the selection of the site for the university grounds and the choice of the school architecture.

"Today marks also a further step toward making this area one of the important educational and cultural centers of the world," he said. "Already notable progress has been made. The public school systems of greater Los Angeles have won wide recognition. Higher educational institutions of various types, observatories, laboratories and one of the world's most important collections of art and historical material combine to make this region increasingly attractive to investigators, teachers and students. Los Angeles may confidently look forward to becoming increasingly influential in the fields of scholarship and education."

DR. VINCENT SPEAKS

Dr. Vincent spoke briefly on the entrance requirements for students and said: "The University of California is to be congratulated upon its wisdom and courage in maintaining high standards of professional education and in adopting a policy of scrutinizing more carefully candidates for admission to freshman classes in college."

Dr. E. C. Moore in his dedication address declared that the university is a debtor to its location and that its buildings will some day have a background of gardens that will be a demonstration of the beauty of the region.

"This is a State university," he said. "The people have made a great investment in youth here. This university exists to work for them. They have need of it. Its ministry shall be to them through opening doors of opportunity to fellow with the master workmen of the world engaged upon the major tasks of men."

He declared that the business of education is not to train a choice few but rather to lift the whole level of civilization.

DEGREES CONFERRED

The four delegates from other universities selected for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws are Adam Blyth Webster, Berry professor of English literature, University of St. Andrews; John Arthur Thomson, regius professor of natural history, Aberdeen University; Arthur Holly Compton, physicist, and John Dewey, educator.

Impressive, dignified and colorful was the academic procession which featured the final sessions yesterday of the dedication ceremonies. More than 500 men of letters and science, college and university presidents and members of the university faculty marched in cap and gown from the library to Royce Hall for the formal presentation services in the afternoon.

TUMACACORI is the loveliest mission I have ever seen. It was built by Papago and Pima Indians under the direction of the brave Father Kino—one of the most remarkable men in the history of Western America.

He made his way up from Mexico in 1691, nearly a century before Father Serra founded the missions of California.

A NATIONAL MONUMENT

The United States government came to the rescue of the old mission a few years ago and set it aside as a national monument. It has been restored just enough to save it without spoiling it.

It has a charm and elegance not to be found in most other missions. The facade is charming. The bricks were baked in kilns and some show the hand of master builders. In all there are some seventeen kinds of brick used in the building.

A CAVERN OF MEMORIES

The old church is vacant and empty—a cavern of memories. Heaps of adobe show where the stations of the cross once drew the faithful to their knees; Indian paintings, half effaced, against the walls in the dim shadows show where the high altar stood.

Back in the old sagristy is something that brings tears to your eyes—the old stone steps worn deep with the sandaled feet of the padres as they climbed to the pulpit.

WHERE THE DEAD LIE

In the walled compound back of the church is a round adobe building like a block house. It once had a dome; but no one knows what its purpose may have been. Some experts think it was a mortuary for the bodies of the dead; others believe it to have been a fort.

Around this building lie the bodies of thousands of Indians. Some historians compute the number as 16,000. They lie six deep in consecrated ground.

EXECUTIONS

Inside the walls of the old compound is a grim memento which shows how cruelty came—with man's inhumanity to man—in the peaceful precincts of the mission . . . a wall with two places where executions have taken place. In one place the bullets have splattered the wall at the height of a man's head; in the other place they are head high.

A HIDDEN TREASURE

As in the case of every mission I have ever known, treasure hunters are digging by night all around the walls.

The only treasure actually found was a discovery made a year or two ago by two priests. They came with maps and plats. Knocking along the adobe wall with a small hammer they came to a hollow sound. Digging into the wall they brought out a golden chalice that had been hidden by some forgotten priest, doubtless when the church was undergoing one of its periodic attacks by the Indians.

This was Apache country. They came down from Cochise stronghold near Tombstone, with fire torches and arrows. The mission has been burned several times.

VINE-STREET DEALS MADE

Three Tracts Sold for $2,000,000 and Buyers Will Spend $4,000,000 More on Fine Buildings

The sale of three Vine-street properties, including the Vine-street Theater, for approximately $2,000,000, and proposals to erect three height-limit buildings on these holdings by the syndicate which purchased them, was announced yesterday by Carter W. Elliott of the real estate firm of Rivers & Elliott.

Joseph H. Diamond, heading a syndicate of Vancouver capitalists, is the purchaser, and the three buildings including their sites will represent an investment of $6,000,000, according to his announcement.

The Vine-street Theater holding has a frontage on Vine of 100 feet and a depth of 175 feet, the purchase price being $800,000. A thirteen story, Class-A office building will be erected there, eleven stories being added to the present structure.

Two hotels, one exclusively for women, will be erected on the two other tracts. The site of the hotel for women has a fifty-foot frontage on Vine and a depth of 190 feet, immediately adjoining the Brown Derby cafe. It was purchased for $256,000 and preliminary estimates call for an expenditure of $1,750,000 for the improvement. This hostelry, according to the purchasers will feature a glassed-in roof swimming pool.

The second hotel is to go up on the northeast corner of Vine and Selma streets on a site 80x146 feet, purchased for $620,000. It will be thirteen stories of reinforced steel and terra cotta finish, trimmed with

COUNTY MAY CONSTRUCT HOTEL AT BIG PINES PARK

Whether the county of Los Angeles will officially go into the hotel business at Big Pines County Recreation Park is a question that probably will be decided by the Board of Supervisors before the budget for the next fiscal year is drawn.

This was indicated yesterday when it became known that a plan is being formulated for the construction of a 100-room hotel in the park, at an estimated cost to the county of $150,000.

According to reports emanating from the office of the county superintendent of recreation, camps and playgrounds, the hotel, if built, will be financed through the budget and will provide accommodations for an additional 200 guests at the park, a popular resort during the winter season.

It is said that if a budget allowance is approved construction on the hotel will get under way late this summer, so that it can be completed and available for the season next winter.

Publisher Stair of Detroit Ascribes Rise of His City and Los Angeles to Labor Plan

Detroit and Los Angeles, which he characterized as the two outstanding cities of the world, owe their phenomenal development to the American or open-shop plan of employment, in the opinion of Edward D. Stair, publisher of the Detroit Free Press. Mr. Stair, a world-traveler, was an arrival, with his son, Edward J. Stair, from Honolulu yesterday abroad the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles.

"I have visited practically every city of importance in the world and each visit served to impress more strongly the fact that the industrial rise of Los Angeles and Detroit affords a unique situation in world economic history," declared Mr. Stair.

"You can credit their remarkable development to the open-shop labor plan, for their freedom from the uncertainties of union labor gives each new—as well as old—enterprise an immediate assurance of success. In Detroit, when a capitalist orders a new building erected the contractor can give him the exact date of completion, because he knows there will be no strikes or other labor troubles."

Mr. Stair said that union labor has been very useful in the American economic scheme, however, in influencing capital to establish good wages and working conditions. The unions have been their own worst enemies, he continued, in attempting to dominate the situation and in their policy of penalizing extraordinary efficiency in a worker.

Mr. Stair and his son will remain at the Biltmore for a week before departing for Detroit by automobile.

GAS TANK-CARS GO UP IN SMOKE

Fury of Fire Quelled After Battle of Five Hours

Grain-Filled Carriers Also Destroyed by Flames

Fire which caused the destruction of two railway tank cars full of gasoline, two box-cars filled with grain, and a flat car in the Southern Pacific yards near 1400 San Fernando Road early yesterday morning, originated from the impact of the flat-car with the tanks, it was determined by investigators of the fire department later in the day. The total loss, which included damage to several lengths of track, is estimated at $25,000.

The blaze was unusually spectacular. In the darkest hours there was a sudden roar which could be heard for many blocks, as the tank-cars burst into flame. Railway workers rushed to the scene. A switching engine was put into service shunting and pulling other cars from the vicinity.

Five fire companies responded to the alarm and, attacking the roaring blaze from all sides, poured thousands of tons of water on to the conflagration. For five hours these men worked constantly before the flames were extinguished, leaving the charred remnants of the cars, and several lengths of track twisted by the intense heat.

According to Investigator Montgomery of the fire department it was apparent that when the flat-car was shunted too heavily into the tank-cars the impact caused a draw-bar to penetrate the end of one of the tanks, the friction generating a spark which ignited the volatile liquid.

Water Experts Conservation Parley Closes

Research experts who evolve methods of water conservation and agriculturists who put these methods into practical use closed a two-day conference at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. This meeting, called by the local subcommittee on irrigation of the American Society of Civil Engineers, covered the use of water and conservation of rainfall from every angle.

The need for a permanent organization for the study of water consumption problems and their relation to conservation was discussed by Harold Conkling, deputy State Engineer, Sacramento. It is expected that an organization of this kind will be perfected some time in the future, according to A. L. Londeregger, chairman of the conference.

Pair Have Aerial Program

Col. F. C. Trigg of Kansas City and Gov. Reed of Kansas.

GOV. REED of Kansas, visiting in Los Angeles, yesterday witnessed the arrival of Capt. Frank Hawks in a towed glider at the municipal airport, took an hour's aerial jaunt over the metropolitan area, and was guest of honor at a luncheon at Pasadena. Today he will leave for home on the Santa Fe, intending to stop over at the Grand Canyon with Col. F. C. Trigg, his traveling companion and one of the owners of the Kansas City Star.

The Governor and Col. Trigg arrived at the airport shortly before Capt. Hawks did. Lieut. H. H. Ogden, round-the-world flyer, placed his new plane, the Ogden-Osprey, at their disposal. Accompanied by A. W. Poole and C. H. Matson of the Chamber of Commerce, they toured the beach cities, the harbor, the East Side industrial district, Hollywood, San Fernando Valley, Pasadena and Alhambra. At noon Lieut. Ogden landed at the Western Air Express terminal on Valley Boulevard and the visitors were taken by automobile to the Hotel Maryland for luncheon.

Lieut. Ogden left later for Detroit, where he will exhibit his plane in the aircraft, show.

Pasadena Police Officer in Court Seeking Pension

Fred G. Melander, former Pasadena police officer, went before Superior Judge Tryon late yesterday with a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the Pension Board of the city of Pasadena to allow him a pension from September 13, 1927, for asserted disability for injuries received while in performance of his duty.

The chief witness was A. V. Orrison, City Manager of Pasadena. Judge Tryon took his decision under advisement.

The city of Pasadena, represented by assistant City Attorney Diether, asserts that Melander is not entitled to a pension on the grounds he had been suspended as a police officer when he made application for it.

Thrills Feature Latest Issue of News Reel

Dare-devils risked their lives to provide thrills for the latest issue of the Times-Universal Newsreel to be shown soon at many Southern California theaters. Action views are shown of flyers at Brooks Field, Texas, in a tailspin, making eight turns during a drop of 3500 feet. Another breath-taking stunt is the attempt of two canoeists to ride a raging mountain torrent in New Mexico.

DEATH DECLARED ACCIDENTAL

Natalio Martinez, 15 years of age, 351 Avocado street, Pasadena, who was electrocuted last Tuesday by high-tension wires near Alameda and Avocado streets, Pasadena, came to his death accidentally, without negligence on the part of any other persons, a Coroner's jury found yesterday at an inquest conducted at the Coroner's office.

Deaf Man's First Marriage on Rocks So He Silently Takes New Bride

A silent marriage ceremony performed three years ago by Municipal Judge Russill for Frank J. Courtway, deaf mute, didn't take, so Courtway appeared yesterday with another bride, Eria Mae Purdy, 26 years of age, 435 Whittier Boulevard, also a deaf mute. Courtway was recently divorced from his first wife, who was also deaf and dumb.

With Mary Ann Kelly acting as interpreter for the pair, Judge Russill performed the ceremony in his chambers.

COMPLAINTS ACCUSE TWO IN ACCIDENTS

Manslaughter Charged to One Man, Driving While Drunk Laid to Another

One man was charged with manslaughter and another was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, in complaints issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McKay yesterday.

Frank M. Miller, North Hollywood resident, is charged with manslaughter as the result of the death of Mrs. Daisy Davis of Calabasas. The woman was fatally injured when her husband's automobile was struck by one driven by Miller at Lankershim Boulevard and Riverside Drive. Three of Davis's children also were hurt.

Romaine Warren, 44 years of age, of 1105 North Louise street, is charged with driving while intoxicated as a result of an accident at Alvarado and Temple streets. Warren is asserted to have driven his car into one driven by Joseph Davis, a city fireman, who arrested him and held him for officers.

Fund Provided For Firebreak Construction

The City Council yesterday ordered a transfer in fire department salary accounts amounting to $25,000 for the construction of firebreaks in the Santa Monica Mountain area. Mayor Porter asked for $60,000. The money is to be expended by Fire Chief Scott under the supervision of the Mayor. The work is regarded as a step toward relieving unemployment. It is estimated that the money will keep 100 men busy for three months.

The workers must be qualified residents, are to be paid not to exceed $4 per day and are to be exempt from civil service.

MUNICIPAL POOL FEE FOR MINORS SLASHED

Children up to 14 years, instead of only 10 and under, now may use Los Angeles pools for 10 cents, or 5 cents if they bring their own suits, as the result of action taken yesterday by the Playground and Recreation Commission in order to encourage greater use of pools. From 14 to 17 years the rate is 15 cents, or 10 cents if the swimmer provides his own suit. Rates for adults were raised from 25 to 35 cents, or 25 cents on furnishing their own suits. The date for reopening of the pools for the season has not yet been decided.

COMMERCE AND LAW SOCIETIES MERGED

Epsilon Delta Alpha, national professional commerce and law fraternity, has been merged with and has assumed the name of Lambda Gamma Phi, it was announced yesterday. The amalgamation has resulted in the renaming of the eight chapters of Epsilon Delta Alpha, one of which is at University of Southern California. The Southern California chapter now is known as Theta. Its officers are Bertram S. Harris, president; Jack Carl Greenburg, vice-president; Nathan Cowan, treasurer, and William E. Asimo, chaplain.

HAWKS SET FOR TOUR IN NEW GLIDER

Record Holder, Towed to City from San Diego, Will Essay National Jaunt

His first long airplane tow flight in a glider successfully completed yesterday, Capt. Frank Hawks, transcontinental airplane speed record holder, will take off this morning again in his Eaglet glider for San Diego.

Hawks was towed from San Diego to Los Angeles Municipal Airport yesterday in his little motorless ship behind the Waco biplane Texaco No. 7, piloted by J. D. Jernigen, Jr., in two hours. It was Hawks's thirty-third birthday yesterday and he was met at the local field by his mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Hawks, 2060 Whitley avenue, Hollywood, who entertained him at a birthday dinner last night. Mrs. Hawks christened the Eaglet with a bottle of gasoline.

The "air train" will take off for San Diego at 8 a.m. today and leave Lindbergh Field, San Diego, at dawn tomorrow on the initial leg of the first coast-to-coast airplane-glider combination flight.

The Eaglet is the only known cabin glider. It is equipped with a radio set and telephone connection along the 500-foot cable connecting plane and glider. Its designer and builder, Wallace Franklin, rode in Jernigen's ship and will accompany the flyer and Hawks on the novel cross-country tour.

group, marching two abreast, moved in measured tread from the central hall of the library around the great square between the two buildings. At the steps of Royce Hall the leaders separated at either side to form an aisle through which the rest of the processional passed to take their places inside.

AUDITORIUM FILLED

Caps and gowns of every description, bearing insignia, chevrons and emblems of every degree known to the academic world, and enlivened with brilliant splashes of the colors which denote various degrees of learning, gave evidence of the fact that the procession was made up of the largest aggregation of outstanding thinkers, scholars and scientists of the world ever before assembled for a similar occasion in the annals of the universities of this State, according to university authorities.

The auditorium in Royce Hall was filled to capacity for the morning session, at which Dr. E. C. Moore, director of the university, presided, and at which two eminent educators were the speakers. Adam Blyth Webster, Berry professor of English literature and dean of the faculty of art at the University of St. Andrews, Scotland, gave an address on "One Touch of Nature," and he was followed by John Dewey, professor of philosophy at Columbia University, whose topic was "Philosophy and Education."

PROF. WEBSTER SPEAKS

Completing the title of his address, "One Touch of Nature" with the rest of the quotation, "makes the whole world kin," Prof. Webster discussed the service that interpretation of the national characteristics of a nation's literature can render to international sympathy and understanding.

"Every nation," he said, "has in its literature a masterpiece in which a single character typifies its spirit and sums up the qualities of the race, and it is significant that representatives of the languages and literatures of Spain, England and America—Don Quixote, Robinson Crusoe and Huck Finn—are figures such as are possible only in democratic countries.

"Today, when invention and communication are depriving nations of their privacy and preserves, it becomes increasingly necessary that each of us as a people shall be able to define our proper place in a world growing rapidly more international. We need a more informed and constant sense of the variety and complexity of man. We owe it to ourselves and others to understand the admirable contrariety of national character that makes creation, for the more humane we are, the more international we shall be.

DEWEY ACCLAIMED

Introduced by Director Moore as a great thinker, a great American philosopher and above all, a great humanist, who has given himself to true internationalism more than any other living man, Prof Dewey was acclaimed by a hearty ovation before he launched upon his address on "Philosophy and Education."

Explaining that the origin of philosophy was vitally connected with the beginning of conscious attention to education, that together they attempted to find the answer to the question of whether education was really possible and if it could be regarded as a means to a fuller life, he said that even though the bond between the two today has been broken, we still are confronted with the question whether education is possible and if so, how.

Following the morning session, the 168 official delegates their wives and a number of other specially invited guests were guests of Dr. Moore at luncheon at the Bel-Air Country Club.

CLOSES WITH BANQUET

The celebration came to a close last night with a banquet in honor of the 168 delegates from universities in the United States and abroad. It was attended by officials of the institution and educational leaders of the Southwest.

John C. Austin, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, presided as toastmaster and told of the efforts that had been made to bring a major university to Southern California. He introduced Dr. Adam Blyth Webster, dean of the University of St. Andrews. Dean Webster read a message of congratulation from his university, described as one 500 years old, to the youngest university.

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, representing the California Institute of Technology at the dedicatory ceremonies, declared at the banquet last night that the greatest problem still facing the world is the problem of education.

SCOTT MAKES PLEA

He declared that since the recorded history of mankind the only progress that has been made has been through education and said there had in that time, been no other kind of evolution.

Joseph Scott, who followed Dr. Millikan, pleaded for a greater number of men to enter the teaching profession and declared that higher salaries would bring a higher type of man into the profession.

"It seems most fitting that in these surroundings," said Robert G. Sproul, president-elect of the University of California and the fourth speaker at the banquet, "that there should grow up a university that will take its place among the leaders of the world."

SCORE CITED IN FEDERAL TRUE BILLS

Trio Named as Smugglers, Eight as Counterfeiters and Two for Bank Thefts

Twenty persons were indicted in thirteen true bills returned yesterday by the Federal grand jury, including three charged with attempting to land alien Chinese in this country and eight accused of violating laws against counterfeiting.

George F. Flaherty, John F. Smith and Eddie Collins were accused of attempting to bring nine alien Chinese into the United States from Laguna Salada, south of Mexicali. The Chinese, it is charged, were transported across the border in an auto to a point in Imperial Valley. Flaherty is said to be owner of a large airplane that met the party on the American side, where the arrest of the three and two others took place. The two were not indicted.

The eight indicted for asserted connection with counterfeiting activities are George B. Davis, James L. Smith, John E. Graham, William Ray, Grover C. Eckman, Pearl E. Bell, George Gourdin and Arthur Stager. Charles H. Reed, former manager of the Glassell Park branch of the United States National Bank of Los Angeles, and Arthur O. Becker, former teller for the Broadway branch of the Bank of Italy, were each indicted for embezzlement of bank funds. Mrs. Myra Watts was charged with sending an obscene letter through the mails. Other charges included violations of the Dyer Act, the Immigration Act and the Tariff Act.

Coroner's Jury Holds Killing Self-Defense

Justifiable homicide was the verdict of a Coroner's jury on the inquest into the death of Jose Rivera, rancher of El Monte, yesterday. He was shot Tuesday midnight in the home of his wife's uncle, Leandro Espinosa, 1780 East One Hundred and Eighth street, where Mrs. Rivera had taken shelter.

Through an interpreter Espinosa, who is 65 years of age, said that Rivera crept through a small window into a darkened room, where he stabbed the wife's uncle twice. Then Espinosa shot him. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell announced he will not file a complaint.

Dorothy Yost, scenario writer and poet, has arranged a program to be given at 8 p.m. today before the Los Angeles Poetry and Music Club, which meets in Recital Hall, eighth floor of the Majestic Theater Building. UNIVERSITY GIRLS PICK PRESIDENT

Lucille Huebner Elected Head of Self-Government Body for U.S.C. Women

Annual election of officers of the Women's Self-Government Association at the University of Southern California resulted in the unanimous choice of Lucille Huebner for president. Miss Huebner is a member of the class of 1931, and a member of Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority.

The number of votes cast set a record.

Miss Huebner succeeds Doris Tennant. She will attend, with Miss Tennant, a convention of university women at Laramie, Wyo., in April, and will represent the students at Ann Arbor, Mich., next year.

Seventy years ago the first oil well was brought in near Titusville, Pa., by Col. E. L. Drake. This marked the modern era for the domestic and industrial use of petroleum.

Actress' Fists Aid Her Father

Eleanor Gutohrlein, known in films as one of the "Sisters G," came to the aid of her father in a fistic encounter which followed a slight traffic collision on the Roosevelt Highway, she told Municipal Judge Wilson yesterday. She appeared as a witness against Henry L. Adams, 27 years of age, accused of battery committed on George Gutohrlein, 1714 Ivar street. "I socked him in the nose while he was beating up my father," the actress said.

Adams pleaded guilty and was released with a suspended ninety-day jail sentence on request of Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman, who told the court the Gutohrleins did not want him sent to jail.

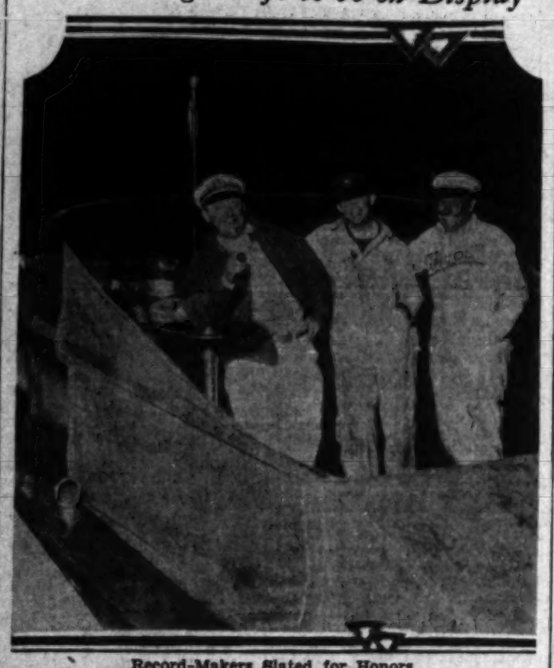
Commuting Craft to be on Display



Record-Makers Slated for Honors

BOAT SHOW DOORS WILL OPEN TODAY

Varied Exhibits Ready; Receptions Will Feature Formal Ceremonies

After weeks of preparation, the first Los Angeles boat show in the Ambassador auditorium late yesterday was declared ready for its opening at 2:30 p.m. today. The auditorium is filled with boats ranging from forty-four cruisers to light Indian skiffs and some modern-motored "sea-sleds."

An exhibit which captured attention of previewers is the A-2243, declared the fastest commuting cruiser on the coast. The boat is believed to have set a record in Thursday in making a run from San Francisco to Los Angeles in fourteen hours and fifty minutes, thus beating the time of the H. F. Alexander, fast passenger vessel.

Harry Wilson of Wilmington, navigator of the A-2243, and Arvin Leavitt and Eddie Offut, engineers, it was said, will be at the show today, when a reception will be given in their honor, as part of the opening ceremonies. The boat will be on display for the period of the show, just as it was lifted from the sea after its fast trip.

A heavy attendance is forecast for today by officials of the Civic Regatta Association of Southern California, Junior Chamber of Commerce branch, which is conducting the show. The latter will be open daily from 2:30 to 10:30 p.m. to and including next Saturday.

VICTIM OF PARTY FIGHT DISAPPEARS

Sister-in-Law's Possible Murder Fails to Excite Hostess of Wild Affair

"It was just one of those things" being the only explanation she would give, according to police, of an asserted wild party in which her supposed sister-in-law is believed to have been seriously injured and taken secretly away by two men, Mrs. Alice Christie, 908½ North Virgil avenue, 35 years of age, was held yesterday in the County Jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and violation of the Wright Act.

According to Frank Stafford, shortly after midnight a man ran into his garage at 4250 Burns avenue saying that a woman was being killed at the Virgil-street address and asked him to call the police. The man handed him a nickel for the pay phone and Stafford said he observed that his hands were blood-stained.

After making the call Stafford said he stepped outside and saw two men carrying a woman from the Virgil-street dwelling into an automobile. The car then was driven away.

Mrs. Christie, according to the detectives, stated that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Christie, and two men she did not know had been drinking in her home since 6 p.m. Thursday. She said her sister-in-law and the men became engaged in a fight but added that she did not know what it was all about.

Burbank Man to Seek State Treasuryship

William E. Smith, for the last six years City Treasurer of Burbank, yesterday announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer.

This is his first flight into State politics. He says that he is not a politician and that he feels the State treasury should be kept out of purely political hands. He admits he has ample qualifications to serve as State Treasurer, and says he desires to extend to the larger field of the State the same service he has given to his local community.

Mrs. Blackton, who was 45 years of age, was a native of Adairsville, Ga., but had spent most of her life in New York, in which city she was a member of the Criterion, Mozart and Rubinstein clubs. She served in the Woman's Motor Corps of New York during the World War. Her husband was one of the founders of the Vitagraph Company.

Luncheon Given by Teachers for Visiting Leader

Honoring Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle, president of the National Education Association, a luncheon and reception were given yesterday in the Women's Athletic Club by the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club. Representatives from the superintendent's office, the Board of Education and the major teaching organizations, as well as the California Teachers' Association, were present.

Speakers included Mrs. Susan Dorsey, past superintendent of Los Angeles schools; Mrs. Eugenia West Jones, and Frank A. Bouelle, present superintendent.

The president of the club, Miss Georgia Parsons, and her board of directors, were hostesses for the luncheon, and for a reception given from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Principals' Club, Ninth and Alvarado streets, for all teachers.

Gas Wastage Fight Delayed Until April 14

There will be a lull in the State's fight directed against additional oil operators to stop the wastage of natural gas in the Santa Fe Springs field, until April 14.

After taking testimony for several days this week on an order to show cause why a restraining order should not be issued against twelve new defendants, Superior Judge Hazlett yesterday continued the hearing.

Judge Hazlett also fixed April 14 as the date he will hear testimony from attorneys representing the Wilshire Oil Company for a modification of the injunction returned against some forty operators on the 20th inst.

Council Votes Confirmation of Commissioners

The City Council yesterday confirmed two nominations by Mayor Porter to city commissions. They are Col. F. C. Wiser to the Harbor Commission vice C. E. Burge, term expired, and W. L. Stevens to the Health Commission vice Adolph Larson, deceased.

Col. Wiser, who has lived in California fifteen years, commanded a sanitary train overseas and after the World War fed Rumanian children under the direction of President Hoover. Stevens is president of the Crown Laundry and has been active in civic affairs.

Woman Flyer's Plan Discussed

Details of Edna May Cooper's plans to become an "aerial vagabond" and to make an attempt to cross the Atlantic by plane following the granting to her of a Federal pilot license caused considerable comment among her friends in Hollywood yesterday. Miss Cooper received her license after taking a course at a school in East St. Louis, Ill.

In giving particulars of her plans it was stated Miss Cooper is the divorced wife of Karl Brown, film director. Yesterday Brown called attention to the fact he and Miss Cooper, former film actress, are not divorced, and that such an impression "may cause serious misunderstandings."

STREET OPENING PLANNED

The City Engineer was instructed by the City Council yesterday to prepare a petition for the opening and widening of Empire Drive to a width of sixty feet between Regent street and Venice Boulevard.

ENEMY OF BUGS INSPECTS WORK

D. B. Mackie on Trip Here for State Entomologists

Sterilization Processes of County Investigated

Millions of Beetles Raised for Battle With Pests

To inspect processes used in pest control work, D. B. Mackie, senior entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture, arrived here yesterday from Sacramento.

Following a conference with County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan, Mackie accompanied the official to the county insectary at Riverside, where fruit packing cases previously infested with mealy bugs and then sterilized for test purposes were examined. Control and approval of sterilization processes devolves on the State, Mackie explained.

NEW PROCESS

While here he plans to investigate a liquid sterilization process recently developed by a local man.

Sterilization of packing boxes now is done by a steam treatment. After a fruit container has been subjected to infestation, packing-houses sterilize it before it is refilled.

Mackie stated that among other things the State Agricultural Department is taking special cognizance of the mealy bug, a more or less common pest affecting fruits and ornamental plants. It is a soft, moldy organism on which lady bird beetles feed.

MANY "RAISED"

To control the bug here, Ryan stated, the county this year will raise by artificial methods at the insectary plants approximately 12,000,000 lady bird beetles to be released in orchards throughout the county.

Cost of raising the beetles is borne proportionately by growers, the county being reimbursed through collections made by packing-houses. Artificial production of the beetles is necessary because they do not survive the winter in sufficient numbers, he said.

Bedside Court Session Ended With Mistrial

A mistrial followed the effort to conduct court at the bedside of Mrs. Angie Rusch, 216 West Seventy-seventh street, Thursday afternoon, in her suit against the American Pipe and Tank Company of Alhambra and Robert Evans, a truck driver for the concern.

When attorneys for the plaintiff announced in court their client was too ill to appear, Superior Judge Archbald and the jury went to the Rusch home. While they were there Mrs. Rusch suffered a severe attack. The judge believed that this might prejudice the jury and granted the motion of Harry D. Parker, counsel for the defense, a motion for a mistrial.

Mrs. Rusch is asking $36,000 damages, asserting that she suffered injuries when a truck owned by the company and driven by Evans collided with her automobile on June 27, 1929, at San Dimas.

Rites Today for War Veteran

The funeral services for former Sergt.-Maj. Elijah Yates of the Sixth Indiana Cavalry will be conducted by the Stanton Post, G.A.R., today at 10 a.m. at Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park Cemetery. Hammond and Mispagel, morticians, will be in charge. Entombment will be in Inglewood Park Mausoleum.

The deceased, 83 years of age, died at his residence, 4492 Venice Boulevard, Thursday. During his early life following the Civil War he was prominent in the affairs of Oklahoma and held several government offices, including that of United States Commissioner. Later he went into the newspaper business, publishing for a considerable period in Oklahoma.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Yates, two daughters, Miss Eleanor Cloy and Mrs. O. W. Spencer.

City Will Draw Air Convention

The annual convention of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, world aviation organization, will be conducted in Los Angeles in 1933, Count de la Vaulx, president, announced at a banquet given in his honor last night at the Ambassador by directors of the local chapter, National Aeronautic Association, American branch of the international group.

Count de la Vaulx stated that the International Air Races, scheduled for Los Angeles within the next three years, may be run in connection with the federation meeting. He is on a tour of the United States in the interests of aviation.

Auto Finance Men Organize

Representatives of the leading automobile finance companies of the metropolitan area met last night at the Chamber of Commerce Building and formed the Southwest Association of Auto Finance Companies. The object of the new organization is to standardize business practice and enforce a code of business ethics designed to protect both the finance men and the public, it was announced.

The first meeting of the board of governors which will draw up the code under which the members of the organization will operate is scheduled for this morning.

Today I am going to give you another Lenten suggestion—for about this time you are apt to run out of ideas for fish dishes—and a recipe will not be amiss.

Fish loaf you will find most delicious, I think, so be sure to copy it right away!

Fish loaf: Two pounds of halibut or other white fish. Remove skin and bones, place in saucepan and cover with cold water, season slightly with salt and cook until tender. Place in saucepan four tablespoonful of olive oil, one finely chopped clove of garlic, six tablespoonfuls of sifted flour; stir smooth. Add one cupful of milk, one cupful of strained stock that fish was cooked in. Cook smooth and add two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, three tablespoonfuls Guasti Cooking Sherry, a little chopped pimento, pepper and salt. Add cooked halibut; put all into an oiled casserole. Cover with plain mashed potatoes, dot with butter and cook quickly. (Serves eight.)

Prune goody dessert—Cut oranges and pitted stewed prunes into small pieces; then mix with nut meats and sprinkle freely with powdered sugar. A welcome dessert, especially for children.

To freshen crumpled artificial flowers, hold them over the steam from a tea kettle for a few minutes; then pull them out into shape and shake them until they are quite dry. This treatment works wonders, especially, with velvet flowers.

To keep plants watered when away from home, place in a zinc tub as many bricks as there are flower pots; pour enough water in the tub to cover the bricks and place a pot on each brick. The bricks will soak up enough water to keep the plants in good condition for a long time.

Let's gather together the photographs and pictures which have for so long a time been in need of framing, and take them into the Mathews Paint Company's store which is nearest you to be framed in the most correct up-to-date manner! You see Mathews do such exceptionally splendid work and carry the finest frames and moldings you have seen in many a day. They are going to have the new frames "moderne" soon—very smart they will be, too.

Now don't put off going into Mathews, will you? Copy the following addresses and visit the one which is nearest you: 1245 S. Hill at Pico; 1550 N. Vine, in Hollywood; and 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

Why don't you take your old wedding ring this very day to Mr. Kent up at the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring, (upstairs)—and have it modernized? Mr. Kent does very fine work you know—indeed he does repairing and designing of all kinds of jewelry and carries a very fine line of new wedding rings at exceptionally small cost.

Macaroon syllabub—Break in very small pieces a dozen or more macaroons, or run them through the food chopper; almond macaroons are best, but cocoanut are also good. Then whip one-half pint of cream, flavored with vanilla and sweetened with one-half cupful powdered sugar; gradually stir into this all the macaroons. Place in glasses, decorate with candied cherries or red jelly and chill thoroughly in the ice-box before serving.

Plant fertilizer—When watering plants, to every two pints of water add a teaspoonful of sal volatile to promote growth.

It is at this time of the year when you are clearing out the clothes and other articles you no longer have need for, that the following news will prove of value. Send all such items to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, 712 Maple Ave. (TUcker 1203.) where they will be sold and the money used for a remarkable charity.

Use for old hot-water bags—Cut them into round mats and use under flower pots, etc., to prevent staining of wood.

To revive wilted cut flowers, put them in fresh water in which place an aspirin tablet; they will revive in about two hours and look fresh. This will also preserve cut flowers when fresh; flowers given this treatment when fresh will outlast untreated ones by several days. When wearing cut flowers, dip the ends of the stems in melted wax to prevent fading.

Have you bought any "Gogo" Shampoo yet from Orlanes Philippine Products Co., 110 E. First st.? MU. 1608. "Gogo" (the fiber of a vine which grows in the islands) actually promotes the growth of your hair; prevents it from falling out and stops dandruff!

Arthur M. Werner, the Custom Shirt Maker of 111 S. Spring st., does very fine altering and repairing of shirts. Being originally a shirt maker he is particularly well fitted to construct the kind of shirts your husband has been wanting these many years. Call him at MUtual 1589.

To grow a fine centerpiece of flourishing green, slice horseradish root into eight-inch sections and place in a pretty bowl with some small pebbles in the bottom and fill with water; place the bowl near a sunny window and green, feathery leaves will soon appear which are highly decorative.

You cannot realize how superlatively good the Laura C. Scudder famous Mayflower Potato Chips are until you try a package. The quality is noticeable at once—the crispiness and freshness of them are at once apparent. Now, when you order, be sure to see that you get the Mayflower brand, "sold by better stores." They are winners!

When using a glass bowl for cut flowers, cover the bottom with small white pebbles which will serve to support the flower stems as well as making a more attractive decoration. Put a small quantity of sand in the bottom of the valuable vase or ornament when used for table decoration; this makes it stand more firm and avoids accidents.

Good furniture polish—Take one ounce each common wax, white soap and white wax for each pint of water, cut them up fine, dissolve in the water over fire till well mixed, and bottle.

What about having made now the fluff rugs you have so long wanted. Get out your old carpets and then telephone the Hoffman Rug Works, 2914 W. Jefferson st. (EMpire 2048.) This concern does splendid work at very modest prices. They also make Colonial rugs from rags.

It is better never to water ferns from the top; just place the pot in a deep dish and pour the water around it, letting the earth soak up the water through the bottom of the pot.

When weeding or planting the flower or vegetable garden, the worn-out bathroom rug will be found an excellent knee rest and protection from dirt and dampness.

BUDGET FOR POLICE USE APPROVED

Commission Then Sends it to Mayor for His Action on $7,037,420 Total

After several executive sessions during the week, the Police Commission met briefly yesterday and approved its budget estimate of $7,037,420, for the police department during the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, and forwarded it to the Mayor.

The total is an increase of $37,000 over the budget for the current fiscal year, and is caused by the need of new equipment and automatic salary increases. The commissioners pointed out that the total includes provision for the police printing bureau, but that should this be charged to a municipal printing bureau, as proposed in the City Council, the new budget will be $158 lower than the present one.

No provision is made for any additional police officers, totaling 2687 at present, and held to be inadequate. No provision is made for new buildings and construction of a new jail and central headquarters, in view of the fact that the central headquarters and jail have been condemned.

The budget estimate includes disbursements of $6,393,156 for salaries, $45,000 for marksmanship, $113,731 for equipment, $1000 for buildings and $5520 for four additional employees. It was declared that the latter provision is not for the employment of Charles W. Burke, former private detective, as an expert to reorganize the department.

PRAYER UPSETS THIEF SUSPECT

Boy at Church Causes Arrest Of Asserted Burglar In Poor-Box Robbery

Midafternoon prayer and the alertness of a small boy yesterday led to the apprehension of an asserted poor-box thief. The boy, John T. Lewellyn of 624 East Sixty-fourth street, entered the Roman Catholic church at 6021 Victoria avenue, for a moment's meditation. He saw a man walk out with the poor-box under his arm.

Following stealthily, he obtained the man's automobile license number and reported it. Police traced ownership to Emidio Novaro, 29, of 811 Clanton street, they report, and booked him on suspicion of burglary.

EPIDEMIC AT TUBERCULAR HOME OVER

Health Department Quiz Shows Malady at Jewish Retreat Not Organic

Investigation by the County Health Department of the sudden outbreak of an apparently serious gastric illness among a large number of patients and members of the staff of the Tubercular Jewish Ex-Patients' Home in Belvedere last Saturday, has established that it was not due to any organic disease, it was said yesterday by Dr. George H. Roth, acting head of the department. All of the persons affected by the gastric disorder have recovered.

The seriousness of the outbreak was minimized yesterday by Morris Lewis, director of the Jewish Consumptive Relief and Ex-Patients' Association, which conducts the Belvedere institution. He said that Dr. M. Hirsch, superintendent of the home, had reported to him that only a small percentage of the patients and the staff had become ill with harmless cases of stomach trouble and that they had all recovered within a few hours.

A different picture of the situation was presented, however, by the health authorities, based on the reports of Dr. Halverson, deputy health officer for the Belvedere district, who was called in by the authorities of the home when the outbreak occurred, and J. Kirkpatrick, chief of the Health Department's division of food and drugs, who took specimens of all the food served at the noon meal preceding the outbreak which were examined in the department's laboratories.

From their reports it was learned that twenty-two of the eighty-eight patients and employees of the institution became violently ill within four hours of the noon meal and that perhaps as many as fifteen more developed milder cases of illness. It also was learned that the health authorities considered the situation so serious at the time that they insisted upon the augmentation of the home's staff with a number of outside nurses and this was done.

ANTIPARK GROUP SET FOR FIGHT

Petitions Against Project, With 13,000 Signatures, to be Taken to Council

Announcement that close to 13,000 signatures have been placed on petitions asking the City Council to abandon the proposed Victory Park No. 2 and the Arroyo Seco speedway was made at a gathering held last night at the Franklin High School. The meeting was attended by close to 2000 Highland Park residents.

Plans were made to attend the meeting of the Council on Tuesday, next, when the vote on confirmation of assessments is scheduled. According to Lyman E. Shurtleff, chairman of the meeting, more than 5000 persons are expected to storm the City Hall when the vote is taken. He also says the 13,000 names the antipark project group has obtained represent 95 per cent of the community.

Former Superior Court Judge Forbes, Attorney Roy Linn and others spoke, declaring that the City Council proposes, by special assessment, to establish a park in the community which would be for the entire city.

"It is not like a special assessment for storm drain or street paving. Such improvements directly benefit us. But when they propose to assess us more than $600,000 for a park that will be a benefit to the entire community, then we object," said Judge Forbes.

Williams Fails to Get New Vote on Tree Surgery

Councilman Williams's attempt to bring about reconsideration of the vote whereby the City Council ordered the drafting of a contract between the city and the Davey Tree Surgery Company of Los Angeles for $17,682 met with failure yesterday, as only six members cast ballots for reconsideration.

On Thursday the Council, at the instance of Park Commissioner Barnes, voted for the contract in spite of the fact that the expenditure had not been considered by committee.

The Park Department has five tree surgeons who have passed the civil service tests. Three of these men, under the scheme as presented by Commissioner Barnes, will work for the Davey concern.

Today's Bible Text

They have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report? So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.—Romans x, 16, 17.

BETTER BUSINESS

IN HIS ELEMENT

Society note: Mayor James J. Walker of New York City was the guest for several days in Sarasota, Fla., of John Ringling, circus magnate.

MYSTERY SOLVED

Tremendous gain reported in auto parts shipped to foreign countries. Wondered what they were doing with all the old Fords.

NO BACKBONE

Life on Mars is yet in the invertebrate stage, says Prof. E. E. Free. Possibly this is where our city politicians go when they die.

SPRING IS HERE

Mocking birds in the morning and spring poetry in the waste basket are harbingers of something or other. But a more certain sign is the shout of the umpire out on the lot, "Play ball!"

INSIDE STUFF

The Prince of Wales turned his palace over to the naval conference and then went hunting lions in Africa. He evidently had the low down on the meet and took no chances in playing safe.

LUCKY SOMETIMES

Thomas A. Edison declares that the talkies are "terrible for a deaf man." There are times, when we have to sit through some of the alleged comedies waiting for the big film, when we would envy the hard-of-hearing.

PLACING THE BLAME

Theatrical magnate denies that the long-skirt style was fostered by the producers because the flappers were stealing the stuff of the chorus girls. We're sure it wasn't the chorus girls themselves, in any event.

TARGET PRACTICE

Silver Bullet is the new speed car of Kaye Don, who is going gunning for Maj. Seagraves's record of 231.36 miles an hour. Don thinks his 2000 horses can gallop 250 an hour. Going back three miles for a start, he will not be able to stop his steeds for four miles beyond the wire.

THE ENDLESS CHAIN

Looks as if we were reverting to type and that the old "general store on the town square" would have its vogue again. The chain-store racket is responsible. Following the lead of the drug stores with their many side lines, the cigar stores started putting in soda fountains and lunch counters and now one great chain will distribute groceries. Soon we'll hear: "Johnny, run down to the cigar store and get me a spool of thread, some corn flakes and a bottle of soothing syrup."

THEY'LL COME HOME

Mr. Hearst, who was so patriotic during the war that he ordered the American flag run in as many places in his papers as possible because, he said, it would help circulation, now is using an equal or greater amount of daily space urging the American delegates to the London Naval Conference to come home. The daily iteration apparently is to be continued until the delegates do sail. Then the sailing will be hailed as a Hearst victory.

Inasmuch as Secretary Stimson and his associates have no particular reason for permanent residence in England, they undoubtedly will take Mr. Hearst's advice some time. It looks like a sure-fire proposition.

When the delegates started for London, President Hoover warned the country that making a naval treaty would take a long time, and his prediction is being verified. It also took months for the Young plan experts to get anywhere, and their conference was on the verge of breaking up dozens of times; it looked hopeless till the very last. Probably the real reason Hearst wants to break up the London conference is that he fears it will succeed.

YOUNG ON ISOLATION

In the address of Owen D. Young, president of the General Electric Company and business and financial expert, at Berkeley, there was much of interest concerning the liquidation of the World War which he and other experts negotiated in Europe last summer, but nothing of more real importance than what he had to say about the influence of politics, on finance and about isolation.

The distinction between the reparations awards of the Versailles Treaty on the one hand, and the Dawes plan and the Young plan on the other, Mr. Young showed clearly, was the distinction between a political settlement and an economic settlement. The politicians talked of making Germany pay the astronomical sum of 132,000,000,000 gold marks. Politics at the time was vindictive, flushed with victory over a hated foe, and would not regard possibilities. When at last the facts had to be faced, the amount was reduced to 9,000,000,000 gold marks, and though politics howled, it had to accept.

Other results of the control of politics were cited by Mr. Young—one the invasion of the Ruhr, productive only of further expense to France; another the "dole" plan in England; another the inflation of the German mark, which destroyed the German currency and plunged her people into misery.

"Nothing is clearer," Mr. Young said when he came to his peroration, "from the experience of the last ten years, than the necessity of keeping our economic machinery, and especially our finance, free from the domination and control of politics. I do not mean that the struggle of politics to control economics is ended. It is going on in every country and will continue.

"But what about the relationship of economics to politics in international co-operation? My answer is this: Economic integration of the world is a necessary prerequisite to effective political co-operation in the world. America, as the greatest creditor nation, is more interested than any other in economic integration. It is inevitable that from an economic point of view she take an interest in and be concerned with the material problems and affairs of every country on the globe.

"Isolation to America, either economic or political, is impossible. The material development of countries will necessarily be to us a matter of great concern, both from an idealistic and practical point of view.

"If all peoples everywhere could be lifted in productive capacity to a point equal to our own, envy and hatred would be alleviated; capital would be better employed; markets would be enlarged; unemployment would diminish and a much more peaceful world would be insured.

"Let no man think that the living standards of America can be permanently maintained at a measurably higher level than those of the other civilized countries. Either we shall lift theirs to ours, or they will drag ours down to theirs . . .

"It is too late in our own interest to think in terms of selfish isolation. To secure the advantages of economic equilibrium we must go beyond political frontiers. We may sign great declarations of peace, but we shall concurrently find, if we follow a narrow economic policy, an increasing resistance in countries less well off than ourselves to that disarmament which is the insurance of the peace we seek."

These are measured and weighed words, deserving of thoughtful consideration. Isolationists, those who would refuse to this country even such mild participation in world affairs as would come through our joining the World Court, are those who are heading this nation in the direction of war and disaster. The path to peace and world prosperity is through international co-operation.

CHERRY-BLOSSOM FESTIVAL

Tomorrow morning will see heavy travel along all roads that lead to the charming little mountain city of Beaumont in the San Gorgonio Pass. Residents of Southern California and our many guests and visitors will have a chance to see a beautiful picture from old Japan set up for the first time among the cherry orchards of the new West. A fruitful valley in the higher hills of Riverside county provides the setting and the scenery; friendly Japanese in Southern California supply the actors and the atmosphere.

Among the features of the festival will be the "sakura gyoretsu," parade of the cherry blossoms, by Japanese girls in Japanese costumes. The Yamato Band of Riverside will play the incidental music. The Yari Yakko, lance dance, will be performed by Los Angeles girls and also a child fantasy dance by pupils of the Yamato School of Riverside. Other dances and exercises, the flower dance, the spring rain-love song, the Kappore, will illustrate old Japanese legends and folk lore.

The whole day's entertainment is designed in the interest of the growing friendship between the peoples of America and the Near West and to promote peace on the shores of the Pacific. Dr. David Starr Jordan has written the Rotary Club his approval of the Japanese Cherry-Blossom Festival, planned under their auspices at Beaumont, calling it a peace move "peculiarly after his own heart." Mrs. Sherwood, president of the Los Angeles Federation of Women's Clubs, wishes "the greatest success for this beautiful event." Frank Miller, master of the Mission Inn, lifelong friend of the Japanese, is co-operating in every possible way and hopes to meet the big throngs at Beaumont on Sunday morning.

Special thanks are due the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles and the Institute of International Relations for the help rendered the Rotary Club in giving California this unique demonstration of the famous Tokio cherry-blossom festival. To the unselfish service of W. I. Clendennon of the Japan American Society and Dr. Guy Bogart of Beaumont the successful organization of the pageant is largely due. While conferences among the powers, efforts of trained diplomats, pressure exerted by religious and civic bodies all have a bearing on promoting world harmony, nothing goes so directly to the heart of the peace cause as a gathering together of the nationals of two countries in joyous and picturesque communion—such as will be witnessed tomorrow among the blossoming cherry orchards at the foot of the Mt. San Gorgonio.

THE AVERAGE CITIZEN
By James J. Montague

If we boldly stood up to the gunman
Shot our right to his chin and remarked with a grin:
"You low, sneaking coward, take that!"
His rascally tribe might be scattered
And right would prevail over wrong;
We should need no police to insure perfect peace
And the streets would be safe before long.
But I cannot pretend that I have any thirst
To try this experiment first.

If, whenever we thought we were cheated
By the butchers and bakers and such,
We went to their places with wrath on our faces
And told them they charged us too much,
Perhaps they would listen to reason
And admit they were given to greed
And reduce the high price of the meat, bread and ice
And the groceries and fish that we need.
This course, I am certain, would save us much pelf,
But I don't mean to take it myself.

If we never would stand for wrong-doing,
If we battled with evil and crime,
If we sought, win or lose, to exact our just dues
And fought for our rights all the time,
We could drive out the graft and the grafter,
Put the crooks and the gangsters in jail,
And we shortly would see in this land of the free
The strong hand of justice prevail.
In this glorious work I'd perhaps take a part,
But I'm not keen on making the start.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
BY Lee Shippey

JOSEPH CAWTHORN, veteran actor, today is celebrating his birthday. And we'll bet you can't guess which one.

Taking a casual glance backward, it seems to us about ninety years ago that we first saw Cawthorn on the stage. He then was chief comedian in Victor Herbert's charming operetta, "The Fortune Teller." And we recall that then the reviews referred to him as "the veteran comedian." We were a grammar schooler then, and he was an actor of international fame, having starred for several seasons in London.

But possibly we are wrong, for now we are told that Cawthorn will be only 61 years old today, and he doesn't look 61. He looks very little older than when he made us rock and roll in our seat nearly thirty years ago. And so, though we never met him in those days—we hadn't got into long pants yet—we feel now as if we were helping an old friend celebrate his birthday.

On the Stage at 4

The secret is that Cawthorn started acting at the age of 4. Then he sang at a temperance meeting in New York, where he was born. Oh, yes, New York used to have temperance meetings—fifty-seven years ago. Stranger still, a theatrical producer attended that one and heard him sing. Little Joe was offered a job with the original Pickaninny Minstrels, a children's troupe.

In 1875 J. P. Haverly brought Joe and his brother Herbert to San Francisco. They were billed in a notable production in the Bush Theater as "The Cawthorn Children." Later Haverly took them to London, where they remained for four years, advertised by Haverly as "The Comical Cawthorns." In 1880 19-year-old Joe was famous as a funmaker on both sides of the Atlantic and came home to star with Devine's Allied Colossal Attractions, which sounds circusy and was. Then the brothers separated, Joe going as comedian with Patti Rosa. John Dunn, Miss Rosa's husband, later starred Joe in "Fool for Luck."

Helped Victor Herbert's Popularity

"The Fortune Teller" has become almost an American classic, and success probably was as much due to Cawthorn's comicality as to even Alice Neilson's singing and Victor Herbert's music. Cawthorn was featured in Herbert's next opera, "The Singing Girl," and then Erlanger brought to New York the Drury Lane production of "Beauty and the Beast," in which he made Cawthorn the principal funmaker. He took the fame task with Elsie Janis in "The Hoyden," Julia Sanderson in "The Slim Princess," and so on up to Marilyn Miller in "Sunny." He came to Hollywood in 1927 and those who have seen him in "Jazz Heaven" and "Dance Hall" say he is just as good as ever. He is such a gifted imitator that he could almost tread the boards again as one of "The Cawthorn Children."

Wholly Self-Educated

Cawthorn is entirely self-made, never went to school and had no manager save his mother in his youth. His mother was his only teacher. His own application caused him to excel in learning to dance and play various musical instruments. He is a hard worker, but finds time to play. He holds fishermen's records on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, loves golf and gardening, drives for himself, enjoys having a great deal of company and yet finds time to do a good deal of writing, for pleasure!

Darned if we don't wish we could find time to do all that.

Hint to the Wise Sufficient

We're naturally modest, and would not want to claim credit for starting something. But for some time we've been signing contributions "J. R. plus L. S." or "E. A. B. minus L. S." And here comes the California Institute of Technology with announcement that some of its deep thinkers are going to try to prove by mathematics who wrote Shakespeare!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

THE PRESS OF A FREE PEOPLE
[Chicago Daily News]

In overruling a contempt sentence which had been imposed upon two newspaper men because of an article criticising a judge for a decision given from the bench, the Appellate Court at Cleveland asserted that freedom of the press and of speech were paramount issues today as in the past. "A free people," said the court, "must have a free press."

A free press should be in no case an irresponsible press. There are laws to compel the press, should it lack sound moral standards, to respect the rights of individuals. But there is among a free, intelligent people an even more powerful restraint upon the press. It is the approval or disapproval of the public, as shown in its support or nonsupport.

A customer would know what to do if he found a grocer selling wooden nutmegs or putting sand in the sugar. He would give his trade to a dependable grocer. The reader of a newspaper has the same recourse as between responsibility or irresponsibility in editorial expression, and as between trustworthiness and untrustworthiness in the reporting of the news.

THE COST OF POWER
[New York Sun]

In a recent report of the National Industrial Conference Board appears a sentence which should be of interest to the gentlemen now studying the hydroelectric problem of New York State:

"The rapidly increasing efficiency of fuel power plants is steadily reducing the coal equivalent of water power, and because of this factor as well as because of the much higher investment required in hydroelectric installation the production of fuel electricity is progressing much more rapidly than that of hydroelectric energy."

This fact may have had an influence in making the power corporations willing to see the State own and operate water-power plants. A private company which invested millions in dams and dynamos, only to see some engineering wizard bring down the cost of power produced by oil or coal to a figure lower than the cost of hydroelectric production, would be in a bad way. It is safer to buy from the State if the State is willing to shoulder the capital costs.

THE NEW DAY
[Indianapolis News]

It is of course true that society and civilization are always facing a new day, but that day usually approaches gradually, and men find themselves living in it almost before they are aware of the change. If the people had been told a dozen years ago that they would today be living in a world without Roosevelt, Wilson, Harding, Taft, Bryan, Foch, Haig, Clemenceau, Cadorna and Asquith, they would not have believed it. But so it has come to pass. "The old order changeth, yielding place to new."

NO PRINCELY MONOPOLY
[San Francisco Chronicle]

Our cousins across the sea will probably be miffed when they read the news from Del Monte about Lindbergh falling off his polo pony. This sort of spoils the monopoly the Prince of Wales has enjoyed in the news. It just shows that we can always depend on Lindy. When an American boy sets his mind to anything he can do it as well as a prince.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Under the Direction of Dean Rockwell Hunt

XIII

College of Commerce and Business Administration

BY DEAN REID L. McCLUNG

As early as 1895 there was a commercial department in the University of Southern California—though in striking contrast to the present college of commerce and business administration. Offering instruction comparable to that in the well-known "business college," this department continued until 1907, when it was discontinued.

In 1906-07 the department of economics and sociology was organized and of this Rockwell D. Hunt became head in 1908. Such was the growth of classes in these subjects that in 1915 it was decided to establish sociology as a separate department, with Emory S. Bogardus as head.

As in other universities in different parts of the country, there arose a demand for an institution of collegiate grade in the University of Southern California which would offer wider preparation to students desiring to equip themselves for executive positions in modern business. Therefore, the university trustees, acting on the recommendation of President George F. Bovard, on January 27, 1920, authorized the establishment of the college of commerce and business administration, which should bear the same relationship to business that a law school bears to the legal profession or a college of medicine bears to the medical profession. The actual beginnings of the new college date from February, 1920, although the more formal opening occurred in the fall of that year, utilizing for its first curriculum a group of courses in the economics department. Rockwell D. Hunt was appointed director, later dean.

The four-year curriculum led to the degree of bachelor of science in business administration, the seven major groups announced being: General business, accounting, banking and finance, foreign trade, industrial management, insurance, public service, railroad traffic and transportation and secretarial science. An evening division of limited scope was opened in 1921 in the Tajo Building, at First and Broadway—which, however, was moved the following year to the Realty Board Building on Spring street, and which later became the nucleus for Metropolitan (now University) College at Seventh and Los Angeles streets.

The co-operation of various business houses, known as "co-operating houses," was obtained, thus affording the student opportunity for actual business experience during his senior year. Likewise, a number of business men's associations pledged active co-operation, including Los Angeles Credit Men's Association (wholesale,) Retail Merchants' Credit Association, World Traders, Los Angeles Fire Insurance Exchange, Employment Managers' Association, Better Letters' Association, Los Angeles Realty Board and Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Many other prominent firms and organizations later added their indorsement, reflecting the hearty reception accorded the new college by the business community.

In recognition of the service of the college and as a generous expression of confidence, twenty prominent business leaders consented to serve as a board of guarantors in 1921, agreeing to obligate themselves to pay any deficit for the ensuing year not exceeding $20,000. This gracious offer, made possible by the helpful interest of Henry S. McKee, enabled the college to enlarge its faculty and otherwise augment its facilities. Happily it was not found necessary to call upon the members for any contribution. The board of guarantors comprised the following named gentlemen: Henry S. McKee, Henry M. Robinson, E. D. Fishburn, Marco C. Hellman, W. H. Brophy, A. M. Chaffey, R. D. Judkins, J. A. Graves, D. T. Babcock, K. H. Moulton, R. B. Hardacre, Jay Spence, F. W. Braun, R. J. Schweppe, A. C. Balch, Donald O'Melveny, W. B. Cline, R. H. Ballard, W. Ross Campbell, E. D. Lyman.

At the annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, held at Philadelphia May, 1922, the local college was elected the twenty-fourth member of the association. A further recognition is seen in the granting of a charter for a local chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, which is the national commerce honor society. An important activity was the founding of Commerce Journal, issued bimonthly for the purpose of assisting in coordinating the business and educational interests of the Southwest. Each issue carried special articles and the results of research in various fields of industry. Dean Hunt was editor and Assistant Dean Olson, managing editor. The publication was regularly maintained until 1925.

In conformity to the educational policy of the university administration the name of this unit was in 1923 changed from the college to the school of commerce and business administration, the reorganized curriculum requiring two years' preparation in liberal arts before formal admission to vocational studies in commerce. Registration was thus restricted to upper division and graduate students, although freshmen and sophomores were permitted to enroll in certain precommerce subjects. Two years later, however, it was deemed advisable to re-establish the four-year curriculum, whereupon the name again became the college of commerce and business administration.

In 1925 Dr. Hunt relinquished the deanship in commerce in order to devote himself more completely to the rapidly expanding graduate school, of which he was also dean. D. Walter Morton was appointed dean of the college of commerce. Before completing the year, however, Dean Morton resigned in order to assume the management of the J. C. Penney Farms in Florida. Wallace M. Cunningham was then named acting dean, in which capacity he served for two years. In 1927 Reid L. McClung of New York University was selected dean and he is the incumbent.

Three groups of men are to be found in the faculty of the college: (1) Regular university professors, who are devoting their lives to education as a career; (2) prominent business executives who are willing to present limited courses in their respective fields, and (3) men who devote part time to teaching while actively engaged in business in metropolitan Los Angeles. Willingness on the part of successful leaders in commerce to co-operate with the college is among its strongest advantages to the students and is deeply appreciated.

In the summer of 1929 the university trustees authorized the establishment of the school of merchandising, to be an integral part of the college of commerce and business administration. As a minor division this is treated separately, in what follows later.

The college of commerce and business administration may be said to have passed through its experimental stage. It has won for itself a strong place in the business as well as the educational life of the great community. During the few years of its history it has done much to justify the vision and purpose of its founders, officially expressed in these words: "It should be clear from the outset that the college of commerce is not an institution for mere 'business training,' or a school devoted to 'job training;' rather, it is an institution devoted to the far broader and higher field of 'professional educational training' in commerce and business. It is conceived that the future will demand broadly educated men, men of social vision and individual initiative, whose chief function will be the work of leadership and co-ordination rather than that of job-holding. The education of the future business executive or 'commercial engineer' must be at once liberal and technical."

The enrollment has increased steadily from the opening year, numbering for 1929-30 approximately 700 students. Three hundred and sixty-five degrees have been conferred, previous to 1930. Beginning in the year 1928-29 the college was definitely departmentalized, with faculty members named as heads of the following departments, respectively: Accounting, banking and finance, management, marketing, trade and transportation. A seminar in commerce was offered for the benefit of candidates for the M.B.A. degree, which requires a minimum of one academic year of graduate work, including the presentation of a satisfactory thesis. Already numerous graduates of the school may be found in responsible positions in Los Angeles and other cities as well as in foreign lands.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

First Aid?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A Red Cross certificate in first aid or in home nursing can be earned by eighteen hours of work in the home nursing class at the Hollywood Evening High School, 1521 North Highland avenue, on Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m. This is the same course that was given during the World War and is being taught by Miss Ethel M. Sears, registered nurse and Red Cross nurse. She was formerly superintending nurse of the county health department.

Especial training will be given in first aid for automobile accidents, including what to do for scalp wound and shock, and how to make and use the various types of triangular bandage.

Those who have completed the home nursing class will find help in planning invalid diets in the cooking class which meets on Monday evenings, 7 to 9.

Cheap Divorces Banned

Cheap divorces in England have been banned by the Bar Council and Law Society. It recently notified the Divorce Legal Aid Bureau, organized to handle divorce cases at less than the recognized fees in cases put forward by the committee, that the plan is contrary to the practice of the profession. This ends the activities of the bureau.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

SALMON AND MACARONI LOAF

Take one package of macaroni and boil it until tender, drain well, and season with salt, paprika, and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, take one large can of salmon, drain it, remove all the bones and skin, and flake it, melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of the salmon oil, three tablespoonfuls of flour, and when bubbling, add slowly, two cupfuls of milk, and stir until smooth, place a layer of the macaroni in the bottom of a baking dish, on top of it a layer of the salmon; pour over the sauce, sprinkle thickly with bread crumbs, place in a moderate oven and bake until brown.

CARROT PIE

Take one bunch of medium-sized carrots, peal, slice fine, cover with boiling water and cook until tender, drain, and put the carrots through a potato ricer. To two cupfuls of the pulp add three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, heat one cupful of milk in a double boiler, and add to it one-fourth of a cupful of very fine, stale bread crumbs, and stir until well mixed, add four tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half a teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of nutmeg. Beat this into the carrot pulp, turn into a pastry-lined tin, and bake for twenty or twenty-five minutes. If the mixture seems too stiff, add a little more milk, this depends on the staleness of the bread crumbs.

BAKED APPLE MUFFINS

Fill well-buttered muffin pans one-half full of thick apple sauce, take two cupfuls of sifted flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, sift together and chop into it four level tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening; then add enough milk to make a soft dough, that will drop from a spoon, place a spoonful of the batter on top of the apple sauce and bake for twenty minutes in a hot oven, serve hot with a lemon sauce or maple syrup.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE SALAD

One and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatine, one-half a cupful of boiling pineapple juice, one-quarter cupful of lemon juice, one-half cupful of diced pineapple, one egg white stiffly beaten, one-half a cupful of whipping cream, one-third of a cupful of cold water, one-half a cupful of grapefruit juice, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of grapefruit pulp.

Soak the gelatine in cold water for five minutes and add the boiling pineapple juice and stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Add the grapefruit and lemon juice and the sugar and allow to cool. If you wish color in it add a small bottle of maraschino cherries. Whip the cream and add it and the rest of the ingredients. Pour into a mold that has been dipped into cold water and set in a cold place for two or three hours. Unmold on lettuce leaves and serve in slices with cheese balls and creamed salad dressing.

YOUR BABY and MINE
By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, enema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

IS YOUR BABY A HALF-HEARTED OR VIGOROUS THUMB-SUCKER?

As our knowledge grows broader our viewpoint alters on thumb-sucking, its causes and our methods of discouraging it. We are coming to accept the fact that sucking is a natural habit for babies and because of too few feedings per day or perhaps by bottle feeding some may be deprived of enough sucking to satisfy the activity of these muscles.

There are, in addition to the above considerations, all types of thumb-sucking. Some children merely put their fingers or thumbs in their mouths and suck at them half-heartedly; some use the thumb-sucking as a prelude to sleep; and others make an all-day entertainment of it, by pressing their thumbs in their mouths and sucking them violently and persistently. When these poor thumbs come out they are white and shriveled by their mistreatment.

DISREGARD HARMLESS TYPES

It is plain that one need not make the same strenuous efforts to break up the first two types of thumb-sucking as we would the last.

Fashion Decrees

Model by Irene Dana—Black and White Print With Buckle of Crystal Placed Center Back

Joan

Thumb - sucking at bedtime is a comparatively harmless habit and need not be disturbed, while half-hearted thumb-sucking may mean just that baby is bored, has nothing to do, is uninterested in his surroundings and needs greater mental stimuli before he is divorced from his thumb.

In the third case the child does himself real physical harm. Violent sucking, coupled with the pressure of the thumb on the roof of the mouth, is the type that spoils the arch of the mouth with all its consequent teeth out of position and the probable encouragement of adenoidal growths. This is obviously the type of thumb-sucking over which the parent should be truly concerned.

THUMB-SUCKING A STUPID PASTIME

Mrs. A. C. E. is dealing with a 10-months-old baby who has been thumb - sucking from the third month on. All her efforts have been in vain for as soon as the splints or adhesive or mittens have been removed the baby is thumb-sucking as gayly as ever.

It seems unwise at this age, when the child must learn the use of her hands, to keep them tied up. Besides, it has proved useless, so, why continue it? The diet should be right. In addition baby should be given constant opportunities for all kinds of activities, a play pen in which she can crawl or pull herself up and learn to walk, and plenty of toys to engage her interest so that she has no time for thumb-sucking. This is, after all, a pretty stupid pastime for any baby who has the whole world and its objects to discover.

For a tiny baby just beginning the habit we have a leaflet on "Thumb-Sucking," which suggests the various methods by which this may be discouraged, if the habit is being carried to extremes. For the older child past 2 we have the reprint of an article dealing with "Type of Thumb-sucking Makes It Harmless or Harmful." Both leaflets may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with each request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of The Times. Please mention leaflets by name when writing.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES A Bedtime Story

PADDY THE BEAVER'S VISITOR

'Tis better far to be polite
Than give offense and start a fight.
— Paddy the Beaver.

Paddy the Beaver is not used to visitors. I mean, he is not used to having them visit his house. He is used to having them visit his pond. There are very many visitors there. Indeed, I know of no place that has more visitors than does the pond of Paddy the Beaver. But Paddy's house is out in the pond and it isn't often that he has a visitor there. Once in a great while a feathered acquaintance may alight on the roof of Paddy's house. Once in a great while Little Joe Otter swims out there. Billy Mink has visited it. But these visits have always been so far apart that Paddy is always very much surprised when a visitor arrives.

"Huh!" said Paddy. "We have a visitor

It happened one morning that Paddy and Mrs. Paddy were over at the dam, looking it over. They have to make sure that there are no leaks in it. They had been very busy for some time. There had been some work to do and Paddy the Beaver and Mrs. Paddy are two people who never shirk. When there is work to do they do it. You see, they know that to shirk necessary work might mean the loss of their home. If there should be a bad break in the dam, there would be no pond. Then their home would be exposed to all their enemies.

Now, the eyes of Paddy and Mrs. Paddy are not as good as the eyes of some of the other little people. Their noses and their ears are better than their eyes. So it was that when Paddy happened to glance over at their house in the water, he failed to notice some one swimming close to it. However, when this some one began to climb up the roof, then Paddy saw him; but he couldn't see well enough to tell who it was. "Huh," said Paddy. "We have a visitor. Now, I wonder where he came from. I didn't know that there were any other Beavers near us."

"Where is this visitor?" demanded Mrs. Paddy.

"Over there on the roof of our house; just climbing up it," replied Paddy.

Mrs. Paddy said nothing, but slid into the water and headed straight for home. It was evident that she didn't intend to have visitors prowling around her home while she was absent. Paddy promptly followed.

"That fellow has a black coat for a Beaver," thought Paddy, as they drew near. He is the blackest looking Beaver that ever I have seen."

Nearer they drew to that house, and nearer. Presently Paddy and Mrs. Paddy stopped swimming and stared up at the stranger on the roof of their house. It wasn't a Beaver at all. No, sir, it wasn't a Beaver. Who do you suppose it was? It was Prickly Porky the Porcupine.

"Well!" exclaimed Paddy. "What are you doing on my house?"

"I'm resting," replied Prickly Porky. "I'm resting. And if you don't like it, you can go away," Prickly Porky spoke crossly.

Paddy didn't know just what to say. He looked at the thousand little spears in Prickly Porky's coat and he knew right then and there that he didn't want to have any real trouble with Prickly Porky. "I didn't know you could swim," said he, for the sake of saying something.

"Well, you know it now," replied Prickly Porky. "Why shouldn't I be able to swim?"

"I don't know," replied Paddy. "I just though you couldn't, that's all. I suppose that you'll be telling me that you can dive and can swim under water."

"I never tell things that aren't so," replied Prickly Porky. "I can't swim under water and I can't dive; and I don't want to do either."

"Then I cannot invite you into my house," replied Paddy, "because my door is under water."

"And I wouldn't thank you if you could," replied Prickly Porky, "for I'm not interested in the inside of your house. The outside interests me, because it gives me a place to rest."

Mrs. Ziegler leaves one daughter, Mrs. A. Finnila, three grand-daughters, Mrs. William Kneal, Mrs. J. K. Clark and Mrs. W. J. Moore, five great-grandchildren, Mrs. Louis Slaker, Mrs. Miles Stepheson, Mrs. Harriet King, and Richard and Evelyn Kneal.

COMMUNITY CENTER DEDICATION TODAY

Opening the first Los Angeles municipal community center building in the San Fernando Valley, thousands of residents will join in an all-day dedication program today at Stonehurst, where the Playground and Recreation Department has just completed a recreational area and community clubhouse. The celebration will begin at 1:30 with an exhibition ball game on the new diamond and will close with a banquet attended by Mayor Porter, city officials and leaders of valley civic organizations. Councilman Charles H. Randall will be chairman.

BRIBE CHARGE AGAINST WASHBURN DISMISSED

A charge of accepting a $600 bribe from Harry D. McDonald, confessed bootlegger and briber of police officers, against Thomas B. Washburn, police officer, was dismissed yesterday by Superior Judge Wilson on the motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison. Washburn originally was convicted of the charge but carried the case to the Appellate Court, where the decision was reversed on grounds that the evidence was of such a conflicting nature that conviction was unwarranted.

HOWARD AND RUNGE WIN DRUNK CHARGE ACQUITTAL

Frederick L. Howard and Louis C. Runge, Hollywood attorney, were not drunk when arrested in their automobile in front of the Hollywood Athletic Club by a police shutgun squad under Officer Bailey, a jury in Municipal Judge Bogue's court decided in acquitting the two men on that charge.

Evidence at the trial showed that Howard and Runge were charged with suspicion of robbery after their arrest and that the drunk charge was filed several hours later. Defense witnesses included Superior Judge Guerin, Municipal Judge Baird and Roland Drew, film actor. No examination of the two men was made in spite of their requests for a doctor, defense witnesses testified.

BOND ISSUE HELD WAY TO SAFETY

Water-Shortage Danger Set Forth by Chairman of Chamber Committee

Declaring that Los Angeles faces the certainty of a serious water shortage unless the $38,800,000 water bond issue is authorized at the election on May 20, next, and emphasizing the fact that this issue has been approved by the Chamber of Commerce after careful study, H. O. Wheeler, chairman of the committee on water and power resources of that body, yesterday urged adoption of these bonds.

"The chamber committee," continued Mr. Wheeler, "has, after a searching investigation and a thorough check of the figures presented by the Bureau of Water Works and Supply, become thoroughly convinced that every dollar asked for in the bond issue is necessary.

"Furthermore, these bonds will not increase the present tax rate. They will not appear as assessments. They are revenue producing and are to be repaid out of the water bureau's revenues.

"It is very important to remember that of the $38,800,000 asked for that in excess of $20,000,000 will be expended for wages and materials. This phase of the matter deserves special attention in connection with President Hoover's program of mobilizing the nation's economic resources.

"We must have this additional water. It is vital to the city's continued growth. The $4,000,000,000 now invested here, the result of our people's thrift and foresight, is all dependent on an adequate water supply."

Asserted Reds' Trials Delayed

Trial of thirteen asserted Communist agitators, arrested during the "International Red Day" demonstration on the Plaza on February 28, last, was halted yesterday to allow Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday to amend seven of the eighteen complaints filed against them.

The remaining cases were transferred by Municipal Judge Sheldon to Judge Wilson's master calendar court to await filing of the amended complaints.

HARBOR BOARD GETS RULE

The ordinance placing the territory known as the Classification Yards Annexation under the control of the Harbor Department was adopted yesterday by the City Council. It is proposed to place the railroad yards in this area.

HEARING ON PORT TO BE NEXT WEEK

House Committee Will Consider Channel Dredging and Breakwater Extension

Los Angeles breakwater extension and channel-dredging programs will be given a hearing next week before the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors, preparatory to their inclusion in the pending rivers and harbors omnibus bill. That assurance was given Harbor Engineer George F. Nicholson of Los Angeles in Washington yesterday by Representative Dempsey, chairman of the committee, according to a dispatch received from Mr. Nicholson yesterday by Port Manager Burt Edwards.

Nicholson said the Army Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, before which body a hearing on the breakwater and dredging plans was held on the 25th inst., has promised final recommendation to Congress early next week. He indicated that this recommendation will be generally favorable.

Burkhart to Wait in Jail for Hearing

William Henry Burkhart, accused of shooting his wife, Ann McKnight Burkhart, to death at 6742 Franklin Place, Hollywood, at the conclusion of a drinking party, which celebrated their reunion after an estrangement, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday on charge of murder. He was ordered committed to jail without bail to await preliminary hearing, which was set for April 7, next.

Double Wreck Suspect Caught

After driving his automobile into two other cars at Twelfth street and Union avenue early yesterday, James H. Burback, 23 years of age, of 1315 West Ninety-fifth street, jumped out of his car and ran, according to police, and later was jailed on suspicion of failing to render aid after an accident in addition to being booked for driving while intoxicated.

Officers Bricker and Hoffer captured Burback several blocks from the scene of the crashes, they reported. The cars which Burback is said to have damaged were driven by Dr. R. W. Lawson of 501 Wilshire Boulevard and T. P. Fraser of 114 South Pomona street, La Brea.

R.-K.-O. SHIFTING DIX TO DRAMA

Winnie Lightner Arrives to Play New Warner Comedy; Fox Will Feature Three in "Good Intentions;" Elliott Nugent Wins Fine M.-G.-M. Role

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It looks as though R.-K.-O. is deciding to take Richard Dix from the line of frothy light comedy roles which he has lately been playing, and place him where he seems naturally to belong, in strongly masculine roles. Indeed we have a report that this is the company's intention.

RICHARD DIX

This report is upheld by the fact that his next starring vehicle will be an underworld story, and his character that of a gambler, in a yarn called "Square Dice." George Archainbaud is to direct. Wallace Smith penned the drama especially for Dix.

But this isn't all the evidence we have that Dix will be transferred to stronger dramatic roles than he has been playing lately. It is quite possible that he may play the lead in one of the Rex Beach stories, quite possibly "The Silver Horde," which Luther Reed is to direct. Reed wants Dix for the role, it is known.

WARNERS TO START COMEDIENNE'S FILM

Winnie Lightner, that most bubbling of comediennes, is soon to be with us again.

WINNIE LIGHTNER

Warner Brothers have Miss Lightner under contract, and she is arriving in town tomorrow night to commence work at once on her next comedy, called "The Life of the Party," the story being an original by Hugh Herbert. Roy Del Ruth will direct the the production, which is to have an all-star cast, and which will be outfitted with music.

Miss Lightner has been making personal appearances for the Warners at several of their eastern theaters, and though they paid her a large remuneration, reports are to the effect that she was so popular that receipts for two days paid her salary in many cities.

The comedienne was formerly a vaudeville and musical-comedy star, but gave up the stage for pictures a few months ago, when she was signed by Warners.

McLAGLEN'S NEXT IS SMART COMEDY

One of Fox Films's most important productions for the coming season, we learn, is a picture which will co-feature Victor McLaglen, Fifi Dorsay and Lilyan Tashman.

FIFI DORSAY

Sol M. Wurtzel made the announcement yesterday, and also let it be known that the title of the picture will be "Good Intentions."

David Butler, director of "Sunny Side Up" and "High Society Blue," has been assigned to direct the new production, work on which will begin immediately.

"Dust and Sun," Clement Ripley's South American adventure story, will wait for McLaglen until he has completed "Good Intentions."

Elliott Nugent's Role

Elliott Nugent, who recently played in "Father's Day" and "Not So Dumb" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will portray the youthful lover in prologue and epilogue scenes of "Romance," Greta Garbo's new M.-G.-M. talker, we are informed.

Three In "Madam Satan"

Three charming young actresses were yesterday added to the cast of Cecil B. De Mille's "Madam Satan," the current De Mille production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Betty Francisco will play the role of Little Red Riding Hood in the elaborate masked-ball sequence abroad a Zeppelin.

ulanne Johnson also will appear in the Zeppelin sequence, and will be featured throughout that episode.

Mary McAllister likewise is to be stunningly garbed, and to portray a conspicuous part in the same episode.

Lena Malena in It

Lena Malena is quite sure to be in demand from now on, since not only is she a charming actress, but she speaks several languages, including German, Spanish, French and English.

LENA MALENA

At any rate, she has just signed for a featured role, that of the vamp in "M'sieu the Fox," which Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer is producing. Hal Roach is directing the picture. Miss Malena will play in a number of the foreign versions of the story.

Winninger With Fox

That most popular comedian, Charles Winninger, is another of the Broadway stars whom Jack Gardner has succeeded in luring to Fox talking pictures.

Winninger has long been a favorite in musical comedy, his latest success being in the New York production of "Show Boat." He is the husband of Blanche Ring, and it is understood that some negotiations have been on to bring Miss Ring west also; but she is appearing in New York at present in a big musical hit, and so it isn't likely that she will come to Hollywood for a while at least. She did some picture work for Lasky at one time, it will be remembered.

Eddie Phillips With Warners

That excellent actor, Eddie Phillips, has been signed by Warners, we learn, to play the featured heavy role in Al Jolson's next starring picture, "Big Boy."

Phillips until recently was under contract to Universal, where he appeared in the "Collegian" series and other pictures. He began his career by playing an important role in one of Mary Pickford's pictures.

Craft's New Film

While no definite assignment has been made, it is understood that William H. Craft, who has been so successful in his direction of Universal features, will direct the talking screen version of "Little Accident."

Powell's Strong Cast

A strong cast balancing youth and experience has been selected to support William Powell in his new starring picture for Paramount.

Natalie Moorhead, stage favorite who appeared with Powell in "The Benson Murder Case," has the role of an adventurous siren.

"FOLLOW THRU" TO START

With preliminary tests completed for "Follow Thru," Zelma O'Neal is ready for the start of filming within several days. The picture will be the first on her Paramount contract and will be a film version of the comedy in which she scored a hit on the stage.

SENOR FAY BECOMES A LOTHARIO

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

"Under a Texas Moon," photographed entirely in Technicolor (the browns have it,) was projected yesterday as the new feature at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater. Too long for its own good, it is nevertheless an engagingly humorous melodrama all about a gay caballero who has things much his own way in Texas down by the Rio Grande. Perhaps its most surprising impression is created by the appearance of the genial unruffled Frank Fay in the role of Don Carlos.

Mr. Fay, somewhat to the amazement of those who have conceived of him only as roaming disconsolately around Hollywood looking for more ceremonies to master—his chief accomplishment to date—will here be discovered acting the Mexican Don Juan as though to the manner born. Fortified in his philanderings by two obedient serenaders with guitars, Senor Fay leaves a trail of devastated hearts in his wake. Between the softly strummed "Mi Querida" melody of the serenaders, who take their cues at the drop of a hat, and the persuasive power of the famous Fay monologues, the temptation, held out to our gentler southern neighbors must have been something terrific.

I use the monologuistic term advisedly. Senor Fay, now that I think back, talks pretty continuously throughout "Under a Texas Moon." A great deal is also made of the chatter of the Misses Raquel Torres and Armida when they are laboring under excitement—which is often. The excitement may be traced, again, to Senor Fay, who in two rather delightful scenes presents first one girl and then the other with keepsakes of their meeting. For one it is a handful of star dust brushed from a falling meteor; for the other, a jumping bean. The latter, Senor Fay emphasizes, is a cousin of the champion jumping bean of all Mejico.

At least two other senoritas figure prominently in this caballero's cardiac activities—and they are played by Mona Maris and Myrna Loy. Miss Loy, I suppose, classifies as a Spanish type because she portrayed Nubi in "The Squall." It is probably all right.

Some of the exteriors are very pretty, while others have an indefinite, artificial quality. The fiestas—and wherever our hero turns, there is a fiesta, big as life—have been attractively mounted. It is on these scenes, and on those showing a round-up of lowing cattle, that Michael Curtiz, directing, has concentrated the eye of his color cameras to happiest effect.

For the rest, the picture is a leisurely amorous adventure in words—not new words, but old words in new combinations; and the plot, what there is of it, takes care of itself without much trouble on anybody's part. This plot based on a story by Stewart Edward White, adapted to the requirements of the Vitaphone by Gordon Rigby.

Noah Beery is a bright event in the cast, his role being that of Jed Parker, a hale and hearty frontiersman who (possibly in deference to age-old Latin America) addresses every Mexican impartially as "senior." Georgie Stone and Georgie Cooper are amusingly the two monosyllabic guitar players; and the large personnel includes as well Charles Sellon (a bit uncertainly Mexican,) Tully Marshall, Sam Appel, Jack Curtis, Bruce Covington and several hundred more.

"Under a Texas Moon" is also the title of the theme song. Like the film, it is lazy and pleasant.

Chester Conklin has the title role in a satire called "The Master Sweeper" that is almost a gem in miniature—reminiscent of "The Big Noise," in which he was so likable. There are other short subjects.

FILMARTE SCREENS RUSSIAN COMEDY

New Program Includes Ancient Melodrama Starring Gloria Swanson

BY ELENA BOLAND

The normal position of the muses is reversed for the week by the Filmarte management. Comedy, which usually draws first place, now ends the show and the drama of the evening makes the initial bow.

The drama, played seriously, if not taken so, is "You Can't Believe Everything," bearing the stamp of 1922 and starring Gloria Swanson. It is one of the late Thomas H. Ince's productions and was directed by Jack Conway. In its revived state it furnishes more humor than pathos. No doubt eight years ago it was considered advanced in its triangle situations and perhaps solved many a housewife's problem. But today the sight of a mother-in-law breaking up the home is to be accepted only in jest. After eight years anything can lose its sting.

The program's principal attraction is the first feature comedy sent out from Russian studios. "The Girl With the Bandbox" it is called, or sometimes, "When Moscow Laughs." Anna Stenn, who recently appeared at the same theater in "The Yellow Pass," is the girl in question.

Russian humor is not our humor, thought it apes it at times. This is especially noticeable in the prolonged use of slapstick. And it may be said that Russian slapstick can be more cleverly pointed than much of ours.

The undercurrent of the comedy effected in "The Girl With the Bandbox" has almost an elemental sense of cruelty. The source of laughter lies in any success at making a person appear ridiculous. A fall or a tumble is only a minor point. The primary method is to show a character overcome by one of the grosser passions, falling usually to attain his ends. There is nothing pretty or gentle about a Russian's sense of humor. Instead it thrives on sharp and distorted exposes of human frailties.

"The Girl With the Bandbox" tells with a staccato tempo, a simple tale of a girl, who, on one of her trips to Moscow to sell her hats, bumps into a funny, stupid wanderer. In order to get him board and lodging, she marries him and presents him with her room in town. Her employer pays her with a supposedly worthless lottery ticket; and after it wins 10,000 rubles, there is a battle royal. When all is quiet on the Russian front, the boy and girl find marriage has brought love. So all is well.

Many touches are delightful and were loudly appreciated by the American audience. The big moment of the whole production is the announcement of the winning lottery ticket, given via the radio. All of which goes to prove that in turning over a comic leaf, Russia is coming up-to-date.

Flavin Comedy Offered Tomorrow

Grace Stafford

Will portray the leading feminine role in "Broken Dishes," which comes to El Capitan with Percy Pollock, noted character actor, as guest star.

NEW PICTURES SCHEDULED

Inaugurating the "Pageant of Progress," sponsored by Publix Theaters in celebration of the third anniversary of the talking picture, the United Artists Theater is now showing "Hell Harbor," starring Lupe Velez, as the first of a series of film productions calculated to demonstrate the remarkable advance which has been made in the new screen art.

One of the important pictures in the list of coming attractions at the United Artists is "The Bad One," in which Dolores Del Rio makes her debut as a star of the talking screen. The leading male role in this comedy of love is played by Edmund Lowe.

Another picture already booked is "Be Yourself," filled with the delicious clowning of the inimitable Fannie Brice, who is heard in a number of comedy songs. Appearing prominently in her support are Harry Green and Robert Armstrong. A third production, which is the first audible film to be made by Lillian Gish, is "One Romantic Night," an adaptation of the stage play, "The Swan," with a supporting cast which includes Rod La Rocque, Conrad Nagel, O. P. Heggie and Marie Dressler. All the four films are from United Artists studios.

SATIRICAL DRAMA TO START RUN

"Philadelphia" Ready for Initial Western Showing at Vine-street

"Philadelphia," a three-act satirical melodrama, starts tomorrow at the Vine-street Theater in Hollywood. Warren Millais, stage director, has a theory that the last several rehearsals of a play should be so smooth and perfect that they are as so many actual performances. Following this out, the play has been ready for several days, it is said.

"Philadelphia" was written by Samuel J. Park and is being produced by Andy Wright. The cast includes Rockliffe Fellowes, Barbara Bedford, Franklyn Farnum, Ora Carew, Kit Guard, Robert Millikin, James Gordon, Frank Dawson and James Guilfoyle.

There is a clause in the contract held by every player that he will not divulge the surprise climax of "Philadelphia" prior to the first performance, it is claimed, and then it is up to audiences not to tell their friends of the novel twist at the end of the play.

Screen Players Will Appear at Carthay Circle

Marjorie White, principal comedienne, and Frank Richardson, who is likewise one of the featured stars in "Happy Days," first Grandeur film, will personally greet Monday night's audience at the Carthay Circle Theater.

Miss White and Richardson came to Hollywood from the New York stage just one year ago Monday, and to celebrate the event they will sing "I'm on a Diet of Love" and "Mona," two songs from the film play, both on the screen and stage.

"Happy Days" has entered its last four weeks at the Carthay and preparations are now under way for the premiere of "All Quiet on the Western Front," Universal's picturization of the best seller by Erich Maria Remarque.

TWO BEING FEATURED

"Sweet Kitty Bellairs" Warner Brothers' pretentious operetta based on the old Belasco stage play, is in production with Claudia Dell and Perry Askam in leading roles. Walter Pidgeon and June Collyer are featured in the operetta which Alfred E. Green is directing.

RED SHADOW WILL FLASH HERE AGAIN

"Desert Song," Starring Perry Askam, Josephine Houston, to Start Run

Following the successful engagement of "The New Moon" at the Majestic Theater, "The Desert Song," starring vehicle of Perry Askam, will be presented for two weeks, starting tomorrow night. With few exceptions, the original cast of the noted musical will be seen again at the Majestic. Josephine Houston, prima donna "find" of Lillian Albertson, will have the chief feminine role.

The balance of the cast includes David Reese, Nanette Vallon, Gary C. Breckner, Myrtis Crinley, Charles Boyle, John Merkyl, Violette Derbeck, John Wagner, Dee Loretta and others. Cecil Stewart will again lead the orchestra.

Interest in the revival is said to be high. "The Desert Song" was given over 400 times in Los Angeles and was also presented in other leading cities of the West.

TRAVEL FILM COMING TO BILTMORE

"Around the World With Johnsons" Promises Color and Beauty

"Around the World With Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson" starts on the screen at the Biltmore Theater tomorrow night. This interesting travel film is being sponsored by several noted figures, including Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Hon. James J. Davis, Hon. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo and a host of others.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, noted explorers, are said to combine thrills and pictorial beauty in their new talkie. Several generally accepted ideas about jungles and wild game are pointed out as wrong in the picture. One is that contrary to general belief, death from a poison arrow is not instantaneous, or even sudden.

Surprises Due at Late Frolic

Tonight at Grauman's Chinese Theater, star surprise night will be celebrated at the late frolic, introducing several stars on the stage in surprise novelties, songs, dances and comedy.

Abe Lyman and his band, assisted by Lucille Page and Al Norman, will present new numbers at the surprise show.

"The Rogue Song," starring Lawrence Tibbett, having already passed its 150th performance, has definitely entered its last two weeks.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

IT LOOKS now as if Charles Irwin is going to have the lead in the Pacific Coast production of "The Little Show," headed toward the Biltmore the last week in April. And Virginia Marvin and Alberta Vaughn will be in the cast.

John Hill—his name is Hill instead of Steele as printed in this column Thursday—and he's the local producer, is rushing about these days with contracts in one hand and wires to his eastern office in the other. In spare moments he is conducting rehearsals out in Hollywood.

"Paris Bound" Cast

Charles L. Wagner found the rest of his cast for "Paris Bound," which Madge Kennedy is doing in San Francisco next week, right here. He has signed William Hanley, who hails from California and went east to play with the late Henry Miller, in the part of Miss Kennedy's husband.

Joe Wallace, who was in "Is Zat So?" with the Gleasons, has the role of Noel. Jeanne Kent (Mrs. Robert Armstrong) has a part. Wagner brought Donald McDonald, the piano player in the original cast, from New York. Richie Ling, now in "The Perfect Alibi," and Barbara Hastings, also of that play, are others in the cast.

Wagner says he doesn't know yet whether he will bring "Paris Bound" to Los Angeles. He is far from satisfied with the business "The Perfect Alibi" has done at the box office this week, and isn't at all sure that Los Angeles appreciates good drama. If "Paris Bound" does come here, it will go to the old Mason.

Eddie Woods a Visitor

Eddie Woods, one of the local lads who has made good in the theater, is in town. He will be here until fall, when he returns to New York to appear in a play for Sam H. Harris. Meantime, he may do a picture.

Eddie, who was born here, was graduated from Manual Arts High School, and went to the University of Southern California, spent the most of the past season in the George Tyler's production of "Houseparty." After that, he joined the Chicago company of "June Moon," thinking it would bring him home to the Coast. Then Colleen Moore bought the show and Cleve Moore went into the role Eddie had.

Los Angeles playgoers will remember Eddie with Pauline Frederick in "Madame X." He also appeared in "The Lady" and in the Macloon productions of "What Price Glory," "The Cradle Snatchers" and "Young Blood." In the East he has played "Speakeasy" (that had a run of three years) and in "Zeppelin."

Frederick Play Postponed

Speaking of Pauline Frederick, "The Notorious Lady," the new play which she was going to try at the Pasadena Playhouse in four weeks, has been postponed. Miss Frederick hasn't been well. The word is that the play may be given the later part of May.

In place of the Frederick effort will be Lucille La Verne in "To What Red Hell," the thundering British melodrama which Miss La Verne did at a matinee performance at the Vine street a short while back. A Pasadena cast will be in support.

And further news of Playhouse plans is that "Wings Over Europe," the Theater Guild drama, is coming along shortly. Maurice Wells, one-time Pasadena favorite, will be back in that.

Pearson Effort Looks Good

From New York comes word that "They Never Grow Up," Humphrey Pearson's play which was tested in Jamaica last week, looks pretty good. Pearson is a First National scenarist turned playwright for the moment.

Henry Duffy in Town

Henry Duffy came to town yesterday to supervise the final rehearsals of the Martin Flavin comedy, "Broken Dishes," which arrives at El Capitan Theater tomorrow afternoon. While here Duffy will probably settle the question of what's coming next to his three playhouses.

He confessed yesterday that there was a strong possibility of doing "Holliday" by Philip Barry soon. It depends upon whether he can get the actors he wants. At one time it was said that Dale Winter would be in this.

Miss Houston on Deck Again

Josephine Houston went back to the cast of "New Moon" last night after an illness of several days. While gone, Elvira Tanzi, the little girl, who sang the lead in the original "Desert Song," substituted. Although most people don't know this, Miss Tanzi has understudied Miss Houston all during this latest Macloon operetta, and tomorrow, Miss Tanzi, a star once, an understudy now, will hear Miss Houston sing "The Desert Song" lead.

Merely Incidental

Louis Macloon will be in one of the front rows tonight, when "June Moon," the Ring Lardner-George S. Kaufman comedy, opens in San Francisco . . . A. E. Thomas, the playwright, will be in the Martin Flavin party at first evening performance of "Broken Dishes" at El Capitan tomorrow night . . . Gloria Swanson and William Le Baron were seen in last night's audience at "New Moon" at the Majestic.

Warners Offer Late Matinees

Midnight matinees will be featured at both Warner Brothers Downtown and Hollywood theaters tonight. All of the patrons of the Hollywood theater, where Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner are costarring in "Hold Everything," cannot be accommodated during the regular showings, so the management has decided to again give a late show to take care of those wishing to see the picture.

FOOTLIGHTS LURE LIGHTFOOT

Show in Main-Street Theater Has Thrilling Episode When Light-Fingered Suspect Dashes Down Aisle and Across Stage Followed by Divers Pursuers

When Lewis Samaniego, 22 years of age, asserted ex-convict, ran down an aisle in the Burbank Theater at 548 South Main street, through side boxes and across the stage yesterday afternoon, the audience apparently considered the act part of the show.

But as a matter of fact Samaniego had been chased from the Famous Department Store near Sixth street, where he is asserted to have purloined a purse on the third floor. In the pursuit, besides divers pedestrians who joined the chase later, were Officer Foote, L. I. Betts, clerk in the store, Frank Dalton, proprietor of the theater, and E. C. Burger, theater employee.

As the suspect dashed across the stage and into the wings Dalton and Burger leaped down a pair of stairs behind the stage and captured him in the basement. Officer Foote, coming around the rear of the theater, placed him under arrest. He was booked on suspicion of grand theft.

The chase began, it was stated, when the suspect grabbed the purse. A woman clerk screamed and the suspect ran down the stairs. On the ground floor Betts grabbed him, causing him to drop the purse, but was unable to maintain his hold. Samaniego then ran out of the store, south on Main street toward the theater. Betts called to Officer Foote and a score of citizens, hearing the cries for aid, joined in the chase until the suspect dodged into the theater.

Police records show that the suspect has served two terms in penitentiaries.

WEBER WOULD QUESTION BELL

Cement Plant Opponent to Demand Official Quiz

Heads of Concern Ought to Tell Cost, He Says

Petition Circulator Reveals "Double-cross" Methods

Demand will be made upon Dist.-Atty. Fitts today by Arthur Weber, manager of the Miramar Estates and active in securing a referendary election on the two Bell cement quarry ordinances, that he summon the officials of the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company, including Alphonso Bell, Samuel W. Traylor and Chaffin A. Day, before him for questioning in an effort to find out how much money, if any, was spent in fighting the genuine Bell referendary petitions.

Milton Gardner, an employee of the Bell interests, and W. J. Mosher, private investigator of Mayor Porter, also are booked for questioning by the District Attorney if Weber has his way.

TO PRESS CHARGES

Should Dist.-Atty. Fitts see fit not to respond to the request Weber stated yesterday that he himself will go before the grand jury to press his demands.

No report as to the findings in the investigation of the forty-six solicitors whose names were given to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses this week was made yesterday. It is charged that some of them forged hundreds of names on the Bell referendary petitions and also that they turned in thousands of fictitious names. Moses stated yesterday that the investigation still is under way.

PLAYED BOTH ENDS

A statement given to Deputy Moses by Bert Eblen, 237 North Grand avenue, an employee of Jack Steele, was made public yesterday. According to the sworn statement of Eblen, Steele first circulated anti-Bell petitions and then employed him to circulate petitions favorable to the cement quarry interests. He asserted that he was employed as an undercover man to spy and report on progress made by the Richard Benton solicitors who were engaged in circulating the genuine referendary petitions.

He swears that Steele asked him if he knew any of the circulators and said if he did to tell them to bring their lists to him (Steele) and they would get more for them than if they turned them in to Benton. Eblen states that he refused to do so and later was told that the work on the anti-Bell ordinance petition which, in his opinion, never was meant to be filed, was over. However, he says he was later employed by Steele to operate an office in the Wilson Building where he handled the pro-Bell petitions and employed a large force of circulators to obtain names.

ARGUMENTS BACKED

City Attorney Werner met with attorneys for the Home Zone Defense Association and for the Bell quarry interests at his office yesterday, where authorities were submitted to support arguments made in the recheck of the names on the referendary petitions, which now are tied up by injunction until April 3, next. A decision will not be made until next week, Werner said.

C. K. Steele, assistant chief of the Bureau of Assessments, known also as "Jack Steele," pointed out yesterday that he is not the Jack Steele wanted for questioning in the District Attorney's office and that his business is assessing property and not passing petitions.

THEY'LL CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

MR. and MRS. JOHN A.M. CARLSEN

Wed Fifty Years

When John A. M. Carlsen and Jennie King were married fifty years ago tomorrow two of their neighbors at the wedding were the Mayo brothers, destined to become America's great surgeons. That wedding at Rochester, Minn., on March 30, 1880, is to have its golden anniversary celebrated tomorrow at the Carlsen home, 1097 South Plymouth Place, from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m.

Carlsen decided to retire in 1907, and moved to Los Angeles to do it. Here he found climatic conditions so congenial for business activity that he started a new career as a real estate dealer and apartment-house builder and owner. His retirement was postponed until 1924, during which period the small city became a metropolis.

WIFE TESTIFIES FOR MAJ. BIRD

Declares Both Believed Gun Unloaded

Says Husband Asked Her to Dismiss Watson

Many Attest Character of Murder Defendant

Testifying in behalf of her husband, Maj. Owen R. Bird, on trial before Superior Judge Hardy charged with murdering Percival Watson, Mrs. Laura Brown Bird said Maj. Bird asked her a short time before the shooting to tell Watson to leave the house.

Throughout her testimony Mrs. Bird corroborated her husband's assertion that both believed the gun used was loaded with blanks. So certain was she that the gun contained no loaded cartridges, Mrs. Bird said, she paid little attention to her husband when he rushed into the room brandishing the weapon.

STARTLED BY SHOT

"I asked him, 'What are you going to do with that gun?'" Mrs. Bird testified. "'Why, I'm going to shoot it,'" Bird replied, according to the witness. Even then, Mrs. Bird said, she was not worried, believing that the gun was loaded with blank cartridges.

The two men then began scuffling about the room and Mrs. Bird continued to lie on the couch until she was startled by the sound of shots and Watson collapsed on the floor. They then called officers, the witness said, and detailed the entire affair of how Bird sought to frighten Watson from his home with the gun, believing that it was empty.

CHARACTER ATTESTED

Earlier in the day Bird finished his testimony in his own behalf. Then a procession of prominent character witnesses, including Superior Judge Shauer, Leslie A. Henry, Robert C. Paulson, Boyd Comstock, Zack Farmer, E. C. Williams and Rex E. Welch, took the witness stand and certified to the general good character and reputation of the defendant.

At the close of Mrs. Bird's testimony court was adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock when the trial will be resumed.

AUTO USED BY CORDILL RECOVERED

Sheriff's Office Not Yet Convinced That Lawyer Drowned Himself

SANTA MONICA, March 28. (Exclusive)—Further investigation of the affairs of R. M. Cordill, Los Angeles attorney, whose coat and personal effects were found in an oarless skiff drifting ten miles off Del Rey yesterday afternoon, has been turned over to Deputy Sheriff Gray of the county homicide detail, according to Detective Captain Watson of the Santa Monica police. Watson and Lieut. Greer carried on the investigation until the car in which Cordill assertedly drove to a point six miles above Las Flores Canyon, where the skiff was taken, was recovered, placing the matter definitely in the hands of the county authorities.

Lester McMurray, 685 Antonia avenue, Los Angeles, identified the coat and papers found in the drifting skiff and recovered Cordill's car. He had been requested by Cordill's wife to help her in the search for her missing husband.

Capt. Watson was positive that the body of a man which washed ashore last Wednesday at the foot of Ocean Park Boulevard was not that of Cordill. The corpse recovered here had been in the water more than a week and did not fit Cordill's description.

DOUBT EXPRESSED OVER SUICIDE EVIDENCE

Deputy Sheriff Gray said last night he is continuing his investigation on the assumption that Cordill committed suicide, although he added he is not completely satisfied the attorney ended his own life. The two bottles of poison found in the boat, he pointed out, had not been drained of their contents; in fact, very little of the poison was missing. He also expressed the belief that Cordill may not have sought death five miles at sea, where the abandoned boat was found, but drowned himself nearer shore, allowing the craft to be carried out by the swift-running tide.

Episcopal Head of New Zealand in Los Angeles

Alfred W. Averill, Episcopal primate and Archbishop of New Zealand, who is making a round-trip voyage of more than 25,000 miles to attend the Lembeth Conference in England with the Archbishop of Canterbury, is a Los Angeles visitor. He arrived via Honolulu yesterday aboard the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles.

ALFRED W. AVERILL

Archbishop Averill expressed himself as hopeful of the efforts for reunion of the world's Christian churches, which he indicated will be a topic of discussion at the Lembeth conclave. The conference, held once every ten years, is attended by all primates of the Episcopal church throughout the world.

Archbishop and Mrs. Averill will remain here only a few days before proceeding to London via Canadian points.

BROADCASTERS' FIGHT PUSHED

Question Raised as to Validity of Radio Board Orders

Army Band Will be Heard Over Don Lee Station

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:20 p.m. Peggy Hamilton, fashion authority; L. Olcot, baritone. Judge Dudley S. Valentine on "Traffic" at 12:30.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

A campaign against the allocations of frequencies made by the Federal Radio Commission is being carried on so energetically by broadcasting interests that there is a possibility of Congress being asked to make known specifically its stand on the question of cleared channels.

Validity of the Radio Commission's orders setting up forty cleared channels is challenged in a brief filed for Station WHBM, as part of its effort to get full-time on the air in lieu of its present limited operation. "Nowhere in the Radio Act of 1927 or in the amendments thereto has Congress made any reference to cleared channels," it is asserted for the station. "The establishment of such cleared channels is not required or specifically authorized by law, and consequently their establishment and allocation among the five zones has no foundation in the law."

ZONING BY NATURE

While the law divides the country into five zones, Nature, the station asserts, has divided it into three by the Allegheny and Rocky Mountains. Accordingly, the commission is urged to consider this separation in allocating wavelengths, using the same frequencies on the east and west coasts and different frequencies in the Great Plains area. The same frequencies could not be used in the middle of the country, as on either coast, but the experience of WOY and KGO, it is declared, one in New York and the other in California, has proved conclusively that high-power stations separated by the two mountain ranges can operate on the same channel without serious curtailment of the effective service area of either.

TWO ADDED FREQUENCIES

By using the same frequencies on the two coasts, it is asserted, ten additional channels could be provided, giving each zone two additional cleared frequencies.

The commission also has been urged to reduce the separation between frequencies in certain bands from 10 to 7.5 kilocycles for the avowed purpose of forcing enough of the stations in those bands off the air to enable a reduction in the number of frequencies at the lower end of the dial so as to permit the use of ten more cleared channels.

WHERE TO TURN TODAY

KHJ at 8 a.m. will bring martial and concert music by the United States Army Band at Washington. Thomas Darcy, cornetist and second leader, will be heard in several solos. At 11 a.m. the University of Redlands Glee Club and Vagabonds Four will delight with an hour of collegiate fun, music and song. This should be worth dialing.

KHJ at 12:45 noon will present E. H. Mitchel in a second talk on "Airplane Dusting." Agriculturists should listen in to learn about this method of terminating orchard and field crop pests. At 3:30 p.m. sport enthusiasts are to hear Ted Husing's Sportslants. Guest speakers on this program will be Lou Little, Columbia's new football coach, and Dick Glendon, rowing coach.

At 5:30 p.m. the spelling ability of the nation's legislators will be tested, when a Congressional spelling bee is enacted. Six members of the Senate, six of the House and six members of the press will compete, with Senator Fess as schoolmaster. California's radio patriots will root for their own Senator Shortridge and Arthur Free, Representative. At 7 tonight two of Tin Pan Alley's well-known composers will be guest artists. Another feature will be the Wynn Girl Quartet. This Paramount Hour is always good. To top it all off, at 9 tonight "Chasin' the Blues" promises the "what have you" of everything—an hour of riotous music and fun.

BRIDGE DEDICATION

KFI's highlight of the day will be the dedication of Longview bridge, longest of its type in the West, on the Columbia River. President Hoover will be heard on this program, scheduled to begin at 1:45 p.m. At 5 o'clock Will Hayes will be guest speaker, with "Motion Pictures" as his subject. At 6 o'clock Walter Damrosch, conducting a symphonic orchestra, will be heard playing compositions by famous composers. At 8:30 p.m. Robert Hurd, soloist, with the Packard Concert Orchestra, will hold the dial with a half-hour of compositions by Rubinstein, Rachmaninoff, Grieg and others.

KNX at 2:30 p.m. will present a program of foreign recordings. These records were made in Paris, Berlin, Dresden and Riga, while at 8 p.m. a veritable feast of light opera selections will be heard. The American Singers and the KNX Little Symphony are to feature this program.

KFWB at 2:10 p.m. will broadcast an exhibition baseball game between the Cubs and Pittsburgh, and from 8 to 9 p.m. will feature the Boswell Sisters, Vernon Rickard and instrumental gymnastics by the Southlanders.

Drive Launched on Detectives

A movement to round up and prosecute all so-called private detectives operating in the city without a license is to be launched by the Southern California Association of Detective Agencies, it was announced yesterday following the monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Building. The drive will be directed at those not having a required license from the State Board of Prison Directors. Newly elected officers of the association will be installed at an inaugural dinner April 24, next, at the Oakmont Country Club.
